The Victorian Diary Anne-Marie Millim, 2016-02-17 In her examination of neglected diaristic texts Anne Marie Millim expands the field of

Victorian diary criticism by complicating the conventional notion of diaries as mainly private sources of biographical information She argues that for Elizabeth Rigby Eastlake Henry Crabb Robinson George Eliot George Gissing John Ruskin Edith Simcox and Gerard Manley Hopkins the exposure or publication of their diaries was a real possibility that they either coveted or feared Millim locates the diary at the intersection of the public and private spheres to show that well known writers and public figures of both sexes exploited the diary's self reflexive diurnal structure in order to enhance their creativity and establish themselves as authors Their object was to manage rather than to indulge or repress their emotions for the purposes of perfecting their observational and critical skills Reading these diaries as literary works in their own right Millim analyses their crucial role in the construction of authorship By relating these Victorian writers diaries to their publications and to contemporary works of cultural criticism Millim shows the multifarious ways in which diaristic practices emotional management and professional output corresponded to experiences of the literary marketplace and to nineteenth century codes of propriety

Here Be Dragons David Koerner, Simon LeVay, 2001-11-15 The discovery of life on other planets would be perhaps the most momentous revelation in human history more disorienting and more profound than either the Copernican or Darwinian revolutions which knocked the earth from the centre of the universe and humankind from its position of lofty self regard In Here Be Dragons astronomer David Koerner and neurobiologist Simon LeVay offer a scientifically compelling and colourful account of the search for life beyond Earth The authors survey the work of biologists cosmologists computer theorists NASA engineers SETI researchers roboticists and UFO enthusiasts and debunkers as they attempt to answer the greatest remaining question facing humankind Are we alone From their safe haven of scepticism the authors venture into the rough seas of speculation where theory and evidence run the gamut from hard science to hocus pocus Arguing that the universe is spectacularly suited for the evolution of living creatures Koerner and LeVay give us ringside seats at the great debates of Big Science The contentious arguments about what really happens in evolution the acrimonious UFO controversy and the debate over intelligence versus artificial intelligence shed new light on the wildly divergent claims about the universe and life's place in it The authors argue that while no direct evidence of extraterrestrial life yet exists habitats and chemical building blocks for life abound in the universe A wealth of new astronomical techniques and space missions may provide this evidence early in the next century Lucidly written and scientifically rigorous Here Be Dragons presents everything we know thus far about the emergence of intelligent life here on Earth and perhaps beyond
