A Professional Development School Partnership Renee W. Campoy, 2000-05-30 The professional development school PDS is a unique educational reform initiative that attempts the simultaneous reform of education at the school and the university By conducting reform at both levels of education the PDS is a solution to the piecemeal reforms of the past from Dewey's Progressivism to the Sputnik reforms to New Math to Whole Language which have targeted educational change in the public schools but most have overlooked the preparation of new teachers The PDS addresses the professional development of experienced teachers in the field the preparation of new teachers and improvement of the programs of K 12 schools at the same time and at the same place the school site In this way reform goals are agreed upon and implemented by both new and experienced teachers so that reform efforts are seamlessly supported by all parties involved Nevertheless most educators engaged in PDS reform agree that PDSs are a high stakes reform effort and are fraught with difficulties This case study provides an annotated road map of one PDS partnership so that others interested in partnership work are provided general principles to guide their work

Themes and Issues in Faculty Development Victor M. Rentel, Allan Dittmer, 1999-10-20 The problem of how to prepare teachers for work in urban school systems is a critical issue in education today In this timely volume of contributed articles the authors describe the newly implemented faculty development programs at seven urban universities With varying success each of these universities improved the preparation of schoolteachers by developing programs to educate their own faculties on ways to address the problems of urban children their schools and their communities Until recently few urban universities were committed to local community development The authors of the case studies presented here persuasively argue that urban universities should broaden their missions to include this commitment and they provide concrete examples of how that can be done Research in Education ,1973
