Reaching The Rural Poor A Renewed Strategy For Rural Development:

Reaching the Rural Poor, 2003 Despite the fact that three quarters of the world's poor live in rural areas the level of international development aid directed at rural areas has continued to decline over the last decade particularly in terms of the agricultural sector In 2001 lending for agricultural projects was the lowest in the World Bank's history This publication presents the World Bank's new rural development strategy based upon a results oriented approach which stresses practice implementation monitoring and empowerment aspects The strategy seeks to highlight rural development efforts focusing on the needs of the rural poor fostering a broad based economic growth and addressing the impact of global developments on client countries Agricultural Diversification and Smallholders in South Asia P. K. Joshi, Ashok Gulati, 2007 Contributed articles at two workshops Food for All Uma J. Lele, Uma Lele, Manmohan Agarwal, Brian C. Baldwin, Sambuddha Goswami, 2021 This book assesses the prospects for achieving the sustainable development goals and the role of international organizations in achieving them in light of recent economic medical and environmental developments Success in Agricultural Transformation Isabelle Tsakok, 2011-08-01 To lift and keep millions out of poverty requires that smallholder agriculture be productive and profitable in the developing world Do we know how to make this happen Researchers and practitioners still debate how best to do so The prevailing methodology which claims causality from measures of statistical significance is inductive and yields contradictory results In this book instead of correlations Isabelle Tsakok looks for patterns common to cases of successful agricultural transformation and then tests them against other cases She proposes a hypothesis that five sets of conditions are necessary to achieve success She concludes that government investment in and delivery of public goods and services sustained over decades is essential to maintaining these conditions and thus successfully transform poverty ridden agricultures No amount of foreign aid can substitute for such sustained government commitment The single most important threat to such government commitment is subservience to the rich and powerful minority World Bank Annual Report 2003, 2003-01-01 Annotation The World Bank Annual Report 2003 offers a concise look at Resource Management in Agroecosystems Gabrijel Ondrasek, Ling Zhang, 2023-11-22 In our rapidly growing and changing world the sustainable management of Earth's resources has become an urgent global priority Resource Management in Agroecosystems provides a compass for navigating this complex terrain It offers a multifaceted exploration of resource management from sustainable agricultural practices to water and energy optimization soil conservation and biodiversity preservation This book delves deep into the strategies needed to harmonize food production with environmental stewardship Beyond addressing challenges this book also spotlights opportunities inviting readers to embark on a transformative journey With profound gratitude to our authors reviewers and publishers we invite you to join us in this intellectual odyssey Let Resource Management in Agroecosystems guide you toward a more sustainable and resilient future where the needs of humanity harmonize with the well being of our planet World Bank Assistance to Agriculture in

Sub-Saharan Africa ,2007-01-01 Sub Saharan Africa is a critical development priority it has some of the world s poorest countries and during the past two decades the number of poor in the Region has doubled to 300 million more than 40 percent of the Region s population Africa remains behind on most of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and is unlikely to reach them by 2015 With some of the world s poorest countries Africa is a development priority for the donor community A major drag on Africa s development is the underperformance of the critical agriculture sector which has been neglected both by donors and governments over the past two decades The sector faces a variety of constraints that are particular to agriculture in Africa and make its development a complex challenge Poor governance and conflict in several countries further complicate matters IEG has assessed the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance in addressing constraints to agricultural development in Africa over the period of fiscal 1991 2006      The World Bank Research Program 2004 World Bank,2005 The World Bank s research is intended to address critical issues and problems facing member governments in developing and transition economies How can the governments of the poorest countries generate enough revenue to provide the education and health services essential to reducing poverty and promoting growth and development How can poor countries attract investors to build the infrastructure their economies need How can they develop systems to bring clean water to the 2 billion people without it today How can they train teachers and bring to class the 115 million children who have not yet received any education And how can rich countries be persuaded to lower market barriers helping to reverse the decline in export prices for poor countries that has left them earning less from trade today than in the 1970s These are the types of questions that are addressed in this edition of The World Bank Research Program Abstracts from Current Studies This volume reports on research projects initiated under way or completed from July 2003 through June 2004 It covers 151 research projects on several broad development related issues including agriculture health education environment infrastructure investment climate and more The abstract for each project describes the questions addressed the analytic methods used the findings to date and policy implications      It's Small World After All: Defining Smallholder Agriculture in Ghana Jordan Chamberlin,2008      Food Security in Africa Alexander Sarris,2010-01-01 As they often do Jamie Morrison and Alexander Sarris have provided researchers policy makers and the interested public with the firm empirical grounding needed for sound agricultural development policies They have synthesized from a rich and varied set of country studies a unique contribution to one of the key challenges of our times increasing the productivity of smallholder food production in the age of globalization Timothy A Wise Tufts University US Food security has been a major concern in Africa for decades and a more pressing problem with recent increases in food prices The editors and contributors to this volume are experts in the field and should be commended for a timely informative and in places challenging analysis of food production and markets in eastern and southern Africa The volume brings a refreshing variety of theoretical analytical and informed case study approaches to bear on the food security problem it should be read by anybody seriously interested in African development Oliver Morrissey University of Nottingham UK Drawing on insights from theoretical applications empirically based approaches and case study experience this book contributes to the improved design and use of trade and related policy interventions in staple food markets Trade policy interventions have a potentially critical role to play in the development of staple food markets in developing countries and as a source of revenue in wider processes of rural development Governments have long defended trade and related policy interventions in staple food markets on the basis of food security concerns However the design and implementation of these policies has often resulted in unintended impacts increasing the risks faced by private sector actors and reducing their incentives for investment in improved market performance In the context of increasingly volatile staple food markets this book commissioned from leading experts in this field seeks to enhance dialogue between stakeholders involved in and affected by the design and use of trade and related policy interventions This significant book will appeal to policy analysts and decision makers influential in the design and implementation of trade and related market interventions as well as students of development economics Researchers contributing to debates on the use and impacts of trade and related market interventions in staple food markets in poor countries will also find this volume of great benefit

International Development Governance Ahmed Shafiqul Huque,Habib Zafarullah,2017-09-25 The establishment of good governance is a major challenge for the developing world along with the need to sustain the progress resulting from developmental efforts Although there are numerous studies on the development and governance of emerging nations few volumes make a serious effort to bring together these two critical concepts International Development Governance combines the two concepts development and governance by examining the issues and problems faced by nations in their attempts to establish sustainable governance This textbook also initiates discussions on the concept of development governance in an international context The book fills the gap in existing literature by drawing upon the experience and expertise of scholars from a broad spectrum of knowledge Their views explain the issues and problems with reference to a number of tools that could establish development governance and sustain it The text offers in depth examinations of developmental sectors resulting in a textbook that will inspire future public officials policy makers and consultants to contribute to the betterment of life for citizens of developing countries

Shaping the Future of Water for Agriculture ,2005 Agricultural water management is a vital practice in ensuring reduction and environmental protection After decades of successfully expanding irrigation and improving productivity farmers and managers face an emerging crisis in the form of poorly performing irrigation schemes slow modernization declining investment constrained water availability and environmental degradation More and better investments in agricultural water are needed In response the World Bank in conjunction with many partner agencies has compiled a selection of good experiences that can guide practitioners in the design of quality investments in agricultural water The messages of Shaping the Future of Water for Agriculture A Sourcebook for Investment in Agricultural Water Management center around the key challenges to agricultural water management specifically Building policies and incentives Designing institutional reforms Investing in irrigation systems improvement and modernization Investing in groundwater irrigation Investing in drainage and water quality management Investing in water management in rainfed agriculture Investing in agricultural water management in multipurpose operations Coping with extreme climatic conditions Assessing the social economic and environmental impacts of agricultural water investments Shaping the Future of Water for Agriculture is an important resource for those interested and engaged in development with a focus on agricultural water

African Smallholders Göran Djurfeldt, Ernest Aryeetey, Aida C. Isinika, 2011 This book investigates how the changed agricultural policy climate affected government policies in the nine countries studied already as part of the preceding project Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Malawi Mozambique Nigeria Tanzania Uganda and Zambia By repeating the cross sectional survey made in over 100 villages in 2002 and converting it into a panel it is possible to trace village and household level effects of agricultural policies and other macro level processes The book consists of 14 chapters most of which revolve around studies on each of the nine case study countries Growth and Productivity in Agriculture and Agribusiness, 2011 The report assesses the World Bank Group's support for growth and productivity in the agriculture sector Enhancing agricultural growth and productivity is essential to meeting the worldwide demand for food and to reducing poverty particularly in the poorest developing countries Between 1998 and 2008 the period covered by this evaluation the World Bank Group WBG provided 23.7 billion in financing for agriculture and agribusiness in 108 countries roughly 8 percent of total WBG financing spanning areas from irrigation and marketing to research and extension However this was a time of declining focus on agricultural growth and productivity by both countries and donors The cost of inadequate attention to agriculture especially in agriculture based economies came into focus with the food crisis of 2007-08 The crisis added momentum to an emerging renewal of attention and stepped up financing to agriculture and agribusiness at the World Bank and International Finance Corporation IFC as well as at several multilateral and bilateral agencies World Bank financing rose two and a half times from 2008 to 2009 though that increase in lending seems to have been accompanied by a decline in analytical work which this review finds valuable for results This evaluation seeks to provide lessons from successes and failures to help improve the development impact of the renewed attention to the sector Ratings against the World Bank's stated objectives and IFC's market based benchmarks for agriculture and agribusiness projects have been equal to or above portfolio averages in East Asia Latin America and the transition economies in Europe with notable successes over a long period in China and India But performance of WBG interventions has been well below average in Sub Saharan Africa where IFC has had little engagement in agribusiness Inconsistent client commitment and weak capacity have limited the effectiveness of WBG support in agriculture based economies particularly in Sub Saharan Africa and constraints on staffing and internal coordination within the WBG have also hurt outcomes Financial sustainability has been constrained by insufficient government funding and the difficulty of maintaining agricultural services and infrastructure The WBG has a unique opportunity to match the increases in the financing for agriculture with sharper focus on improving agricultural growth and productivity in agriculture based economies notably in Sub Saharan Africa Greater effort will be needed to connect sectoral interventions and achieve synergies from public and private sector interventions to build capacity and knowledge exchange to take stock of experience in rain fed agriculture to ensure attention to financial sustainability and to cross cutting issues of gender environmental and social impacts and climate and to better integrate WBG support at the global and regional levels with that at the country level

Small farmers for a food system transition: Evidence from Kenya and Tanzania Nunzia Borrelli, Patrick Ndakidemi, 2020-03-10 This book aims at being a first rendering of the research conducted on the coattails of the SASS Project Sustainable Agrifood Systems Strategies The SASS Project was financed by the Ministry of Education University and Research MIUR and it engaged a multidisciplinary team of agronomists microbiologists botanists economists sociologists and anthropologists The purpose of the research was to map and to analyse the local nutritional systems of three East African areas the Arusha s and the Iringa s in Tanzania and the Lake Naivasha s in Kenya with an interdisciplinary synergic and interactive approach The project intends to investigate the agro nutritional systems both from a techno scientific and a socio politic point of view in order to provide a full overview of the situation by integrating the different results from all the disciplinary fields involved

New Directions for Smallholder Agriculture Peter B. R. Hazell, Atiqur Rahman, 2014-03-06 The majority of the poor and hungry people in the world live on small farms and struggle to subsist on too little land with low input low yield technologies At the same time many other smallholders are successfully intensifying and succeeding as farm businesses often in combination with diversification into off farm sources of income This book examines the growing divergence between subsistence and business oriented small farms and discusses how this divergence has been impacted by population growth trends in farm size distribution urbanization off farm income diversification and the globalization of agricultural value chains It finds that policy makers need to differentiate more sharply between different types of small farms than they did in the past both in terms of their potential contributions towards achieving national economic growth poverty alleviation and food security goals and the types of assistance they need The book distinguishes between smallholders that are business oriented subsistence oriented and at various stages of transition to the non farm economy and discusses strategies appropriate for assisting each type The book draws on a wealth of recent experience at IFAD and elsewhere to help identify best practice approaches

Smallholders and family farms in Albania - Country study report 2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations , 2020-06-01 The background for conducting country studies on the challenges needs and constraints of smallholders and family farms in seven countries has been a wish to further strengthen the Regional Initiative and develop the initiative towards a stronger programmatic approach at both the regional and country levels To provide support to smallholders and family farms there has been a need to develop a better understanding and knowledge platform of the main challenges needs and constraints of smallholders and family farms in the specific country context Even though many of the challenges are the same throughout the region there are still significant variations among the countries it is important to recognize and understand these variations when designing support to smallholders and family farms in each specific country It has been the objectives of the country studies first to analyze the development trend and current state of smallholders and family farms in the specific country second to study the current political priorities and policies affecting smallholders and family farms and finally based on the conclusions made to provide recommendations mainly at the policy level on how to further support the development of commercial family farms and at the same time ensure in general inclusive growth improved rural livelihood for women and men and the reduction of rural poverty for all It is hoped that each country study will not only be relevant for FAO but also for governments donors and other international organizations when formulating policy and preparing programmes

Land Law Reform ,2006-01-01 Land Law Reform examines the wide spread efforts to reform land law in developing countries and countries in transition drawing in particular upon the experience of the World Bank and the Rural Development Institute The book considers the role of land law reform in the development process and analyzes how the World Bank has sought to support these legal changes in client countries It reviews the experience with reform of laws affecting land access and rights in achieving gender equity identifies opportunities for reinforcing environmentally sustainable development through land law reform and examines from both growth and poverty alleviation perspectives the effectiveness of reforms to formalize property rights and liberalize land markets The concluding chapter recommends some basic priorities for land law reforms John W Bruce is a senior counsel in the Legal Vice Presidency of the World Bank and a former director of the Land Tenure Center of the University of Wisconsin Madison He has published extensively on land law and land policy in developing countries Renee Giovarelli David Bledsoe Leonard Rolfes and Robert Mitchell are staff attorneys with the Rural Development Institute of Seattle Washington a nonprofit organization that promotes and advises on land related policy and legal reform in developing and transition countries All have done fieldwork and advised extensively on land law reform and have published widely on this topic

Land Tenure Challenges in Africa Horman Chitonge,Ross Harvey,2022-01-01 This book provides a significant contribution to the literature on land reform in various African contexts While the economic evidence is clear that secure property rights are a necessary condition for catalysing broad based economic development the governance process by which those rights are secured is less clear This book details the historical complexity of land rights and the importance of understanding this history in the process of trying to improve tenure security Through a combination of single country case studies comparative case studies and regional comparisons the book is unequivocal that good governance is paramount for improving the performance of land reform programmes All attempts at moving towards more formal secure tenure require congruence with informal norms beliefs and values and a set of clear systems and processes to avoid corruption and unintended negative consequences
