Children Reading Pictures Evelyn Arizpe, Morag Styles, 2003 This text describes the results of a two year study of children s responses to contemporary picturebooks Children of primary school age from a range of backgrounds read and discussed books by artists Anthony Browne and Satoshi Kitamura

Watching Pages, Reading Pictures Daniela De Pau, Georgina Torello, 2008-12-18 Italian cinema is internationally well known for the ground breaking experience of Neo Realism comedy Italian Style Spaghetti Westerns and the horror movies of the seventies However what is rather unfamiliar to wider audiences is Italian cinema's crucial and enduring affair with literature In fact since the very beginning literature has deeply influenced how Italian cinema has defined itself and grown This book provides an empirical approach to this complex and fruitful relationship The aim is to present discussions dealing with significant Italian film adaptations from literary materials which greatly exemplify the variety of styles view points and attitudes produced by such an alliance throughout the different periods Among the adaptations discussed are those that have followed trends and critical debates making them at times rather problematic

More Words about Pictures Perry Nodelman, Naomi Hamer, Mavis Reimer, 2017-05-08 This volume represents the current state of research on picture books and other adjacent hybrid forms of visual verbal texts such as comics graphic novels and book apps with a particular focus on texts produced for and about young people When Perry Nodelman's Words about Pictures: The Narrative Art of Children's Picture Books was published almost three decades ago it was greeted as an important contribution to studies in children's picture books and illustration internationally and based substantially on it Nodelman has recently been named the 2015 recipient of the International Grimm Award for children's literature criticism In the years since Words About Pictures appeared scholars have built on Nodelman's groundbreaking text and have developed a range of other approaches both to picture books and to newer forms of visual verbal texts that have entered the marketplace and become popular with young people The essays in this book offer more words about established and emerging forms of picture books providing an overview of the current state of studies in visual verbal texts and gathering in one place the work being produced at various locations and across disciplines Essays exploring areas such as semiological and structural aspects of conventional picture books graphic narratives and new media forms and the material and performative cultures of picture books represent current work not only from literary studies but also media studies art history ecology Middle Eastern Studies library and information studies and educational research In addition to work by international scholars including William Moebius Erica Hateley Nathalie op de Beeck and Nina Christensen that carries on and challenges the conclusions of Words about Pictures the collection also includes a wide ranging reflection by Perry Nodelman on continuities and changes in the current interdisciplinary field of study of visual verbal texts for young readers Providing a look back over the history of picture books and the development of picture book scholarship More Words About Pictures also offers an overview of our current understanding of these intriguing texts
