Maoriland Jane Stafford,Mark Williams,2006 This critical examination of Maoriland literature argues against the former glib dismissals of the period and focuses instead on the era s importance in the birth of a distinct New Zealand style of writing By connecting the literature and other cultural forms of Maoriland to the larger realms of empire and contemporary criticism this study explores the roots of the country s modern feminism progressive social legislation and bicultural relations Memoirs of the Polynesian Society ,1924 Conservation Education and Outreach Techniques Susan K.
Jacobson,Mallory McDuff,Martha Monroe,2015-09-03 The conservation of biological diversity depends on people s knowledge and actions This book presents the theory and practice for creating effective education and outreach programmes for conservation The authors describe an exciting array of techniques for enhancing school resources marketing environmental messages using social media developing partnerships for conservation and designing on site programmes for parks and community centres Vivid case studies from around the world illustrate techniques and describe planning implementation and evaluation procedures enabling readers to implement their own new ideas effectively Conservation Education and Outreach Techniques now in its second edition and updated throughout includes twelve chapters illustrated with numerous photographs showing education and outreach programmes in action each incorporating an extensive bibliography Helpful text boxes provide practical tips guidelines and recommendations for further exploration of the chapter topics This book will be particularly relevant to conservation scientists resource managers environmental educators students and citizen activists It will also serve as a handy reference and a comprehensive text for a variety of natural resource and environmental professionals Being Maori Chinese Manying Ip,2013-10-01 Presenting the stories behind several generations of seven Maori Chinese families whose voices have seldom been heard before this account casts a fascinating light on the historical and contemporary relations between Maori and Chinese in New Zealand The two groups first came into contact in the late 19th century and often lived and interacted closely leading to intermarriage and large families By the 1930s proximity and similarities had brought many Maori Chinese families together the majority of whom had to deal with cultural differences and discrimination The growing political confidence of Maori since the 1970s and the more recent tensions around Asian immigration have put pressure on the relationship and the families dual identities Today s Maori Chinese reaffirming their multiple roots and cultural advantages are playing increasingly important roles in New Zealand society This account is oral history at its most compelling an absorbing read for anyone interested in the complex yet rewarding topic of cultural interactions between indigenous and immigrant groups The Making of a Maori James E. Ritchie,1963 From
