Mapping The Next Millenium:

Mapping the Next Millennium Stephen S. Hall,1992 Mapping the Next Millennium Stephen S. Hall,1993 A visually stunning and conceptually explosive report from the frontiers of mapmaking Ranging from the mapping of the ocean floor to the scanning of remote galaxies from portraits of subatomic collisions to an unprecedented view of the mathematical constant pi this work makes the theoretical compellingly concrete even as it reminds us that the world is far more vast than we ever dreamed Photographs throughout Mapping the Next Millennium Stephen S. Hall,1997-06-01 A visually stunning and conceptually explosive report from the frontiers of mapmaking Ranging from the mapping of the ocean floor to the scanning of remote galaxies from portraits of subatomic collisions to an unprecedented view of the mathematical constant pi this work makes the theoretical compellingly concrete even as it reminds us that the world is far more vast than we ever dreamed Photographs throughout From the Trade Paperback edition Mapping the Next Millenium Stephen S. Hall,1994-10-01 Critical Geographies Salvatore Engel-Di Mauro,2008 Mapping Discord Jeffrey N. Peters,2004 Mapping Discord examines a series of allegorical maps published in France during the seventeenth century that cast in spatial terms a number of heated aesthetic and social debates It discusses the convergence of map making and literary creation in the context of early modern cartographic practice and demonstrates that the unique language of allegorical cartography raises important theoretical questions about the relations between rationalist discourses of science and the figural designs of imaginative writing In detailed analyses of the imaginary maps that appeared in seventeenth century novels and stories as well as of maps atlases and geographic treatises produced by professional scholars and engineers of the period Mapping Discord considers the ideological structure and uses of cartographic language and argues that allegorical maps have much to tell us about the potential capacity of every map to operate as a visual metaphor for power Illustrated Jeffrey N Peters is Associate Professor of French at the University of Kentucky Mapping the World Sylvia A. Johnson,1999 A history of mapmaking showing how maps both reflect and change people s view of the world A History of Spaces John Pickles,2012-11-12 This book provides an essential insight into the practices and ideas of maps and map making It draws on a wide range of social theorists and theorists of maps and cartography to show how maps and map making have shaped the spaces in which we live Going beyond the focus of traditional cartography the book draws on examples of the use of maps from the sixteenth century to the present including their role in projects of the national and colonial state emergent capitalism and the planetary consciousness of the natural sciences It also considers the use of maps for military purposes maps that have coded modern conceptions of health disease and social character and maps of the transparent human body and the transparent earth The Map Reader Martin Dodge,Rob Kitchin,Chris Perkins,2011-05-09 WINNER OF THE CANTEMIR PRIZE 2012 awarded by the Berendel Foundation The Map Reader brings together for the first time classic and hard to find articles on mapping This book provides a wide ranging and coherent edited compendium of key scholarly writing about the changing nature of cartography over the last half century The editorial selection of fifty four theoretical and thought provoking texts demonstrates how cartography works as a powerful representational form and explores how different mapping practices have been conceptualised in particular scholarly contexts Themes covered include paradigms politics people aesthetics and technology Original interpretative essays set the literature into intellectual context within these themes Excerpts are drawn from leading scholars and researchers in a range of cognate fields including Cartography Geography Anthropology Architecture Engineering Computer Science and Graphic Design The Map Reader provides a new unique single source reference to the essential literature in the cartographic field more than fifty specially edited excerpts from key classic articles and monographs critical introductions by experienced experts in the field focused coverage of key mapping practices techniques and ideas a valuable resource suited to a broad spectrum of researchers and students working in cartography and GIScience geography the social sciences media studies and visual arts full page colour illustrations of significant maps as provocative visual think pieces fully indexed clearly structured and accessible ways into a fast changing field of cartographic research

Mapping Daniel Dorling, 2013-10-08 Illustrates how maps tell us as much about the people and the powers which create them as about the places they show Presents historical and contemporary evidence of how the human urge to describe understand and control the world is presented through the medium of mapping together with the individual and environmental constraints of the creator of the map
