On Writing Educational Ethnographies The Art Of Collusion:

On Writing Educational Ethnographies Jean Conteh, 2005 Here is an exciting departure from existing volumes on educational research methods This book focuses on the writing of an ethnographic dissertation and provides examples of successful ethnographic studies that have earned PhDs It is a core reader for students pursuing ethnographic research at Masters Ed D or PhD level Professor Eve Gregory is Director of Studies in the Department of Educational Studies at London University s Goldsmiths College The other authors have all been her part time M Phil PhD students and all have used ethnographic methods in their fields of culture language literacy and identity And all three have classroom experience and a fascination for their research topics The book provides an overview of the value of an ethnographic approach to researching issues of diversity in education and offers models of writing for each stage of the work The authors relate how each went about writing their study and describe the difficulties they encountered This makes compelling reading and offers a moving personal and professional rationale for ethnography as a research approach The result is an excellent model and guide for new researchers especially inexperienced writers or part time students such as teachers on how to go about writing M Phil PhDs EdDs MA or M Research dissertations

Researching Education for Social Justice in Multilingual Settings Jean Conteh, 2017-12-14 Researching Education for Social Justice in Multilingual Settings provides innovative guidance on carrying out qualitative research in education by offering a wide range of examples of research projects with a focus on the methodologies and data collection strategies used Rather than decontextualised how to advice the book offers insights into the complexities of actually carrying out research in multilingual settings In this practical guide examples of real life projects are framed by chapters providing a theoretical background to the principles of ethnography and to the processes and practices of qualitative research focusing on data generation and collection strategies Case study chapters offer a rich understanding of the detail of qualitative research in education from the points of view of people who have engaged in it Moreover the book promotes understanding of current research that aims to make a difference to pupils students teachers and families whose diverse languages and cultural experiences are not fully valued in society and in mainstream education contexts Pedagogical features that support private study and use on courses include a glossary of key terms guiding questions for reading at the start of each section and discussion questions to promote reflection as well as suggestions for further reading Researching Education for Social Justice in Multilingual Settings is a supportive guide to the principles of ethnography and the processes of qualitative research for all those wishing to investigate complex problems in multilingual education settings

Ethnography in Education David Mills, Missy Morton, 2013-04-29 Written in a clear accessible style this inspirational book is both a practical guide and a survey of the different ways of doing ethnography Drawing on wide ranging examples and using classic and contemporary ethnographies the authors demonstrate the importance of developing an ethnographic sensibility A most valuable resource Cris Shore University of Auckland Ethnography in Education is an accessible guidebook to the different approaches taken by ethnographers studying education Drawing on their own experience of teaching and using these methods the authors help you cultivate an ethnographic imagination in your own research and writing With extended examples of ethnographic analysis the book will introduce you to ethnographic classics the best existing textbooks debates about new approaches and innovations This book is ideal for postgraduate students in Education and related disciplines seeking to use an ethnographic approach in their Masters and Doctoral theses David Mills is a University Lecturer in Education University of Oxford Missy Morton is Associate Professor and Head of School of Educational Studies and Leadership College of Education University of Canterbury Research Methods in Education series Each book in this series maps the territory of a key research approach or topic in order to help readers progress from beginner to advanced researcher Each book aims to provide a definitive market leading overview and to present a blend of theory and practice with a critical edge All titles in the series are written for Master s level students anywhere and are intended to be useful to the many diverse constituencies interested in research on education and related areas Other books in the series Using Case Study in Education Research Hamilton and Corbett Whittier Qualitative Research in Education Atkins and Wallace Action Research in Education McAteer Learning and Teaching British Values Sadia Habib, 2017-09-01 This book engages with important debates about multicultural British identities at a time when schools are expected to promote Fundamental British Values It provides valuable insight into the need to investigate fluid and evolving identities in the classroom What are the implications of Britishness exploration on young people s relationships with and within multicultural Britain What are the complexities of teaching and learning Britishness Emphasis on student voice respectful and caring dialogue and collaborative communication can lead to meaningful reflections Teachers often require guidance though when teaching about multicultural Britain The book argues that when students have safe spaces to share stories schools can become critical sites of opportunity for reflection resistance and hopeful futures Foreword by Professor Vini Lander The Art of Global Peacebuilding and Excellence in Education Angie Kotler, Jo Westbrook, 2025-03-31 This seminal volume juxtaposes and interrogates established definitions of peacebuilding and excellence in diverse education settings including in conflict and assesses how they might work together in international educational contexts Showcasing in depth case studies from Rwanda Ethiopia Liberia and the UK chapters tackle issues of global significance such as identity conflict decolonisation and climate justice fusing empirical research outcomes with practical examples Each chapter argues for the central role of peacebuilding in defining excellence in education demonstrating context specific cognitive affective and relational strands of learning and teaching Ultimately challenging contemporary thinking and educational theory in an accessible practitioner focused way this book demonstrates how imaginative and reflective practice in diverse contexts can lead to the educational transformation required for the world s current and future challenges This book will inspire educators researchers and policymakers involved with education policy and politics citizenship education and teacher education and

development to work towards change both within classrooms and at the systems level so that education can contribute to peacebuilding through new definitions of excellence Doing Educational Research Marit Honerød Hoveid, Lucian Ciolan, Angelika Paseka, Sofia Marques da Silva, 2019-06-10 Every educational research project has challenges and obstacles that need to be managed and overcome This book uses real case studies employing a wide range of research methodologies and drawn from educational contexts across Europe to explore these challenges offering flexible and universal guidance that you can apply to your own research Published in partnership with EERA this book is Realistic and informed It explores a range of perspectives on educational research from planning to data collection to international collaboration Challenging It integrates a holistic and critical view on the process of educational research Culturally aware It covers a variety of research projects from different countries and encourages you to challenge dominant perspectives in education This is the first major English language textbook for postgraduate and postdoctoral education researchers that represents and explores the range of research traditions that exist throughout Europe and what they mean in practice Becoming Bilingual in School and Home in Tibetan Areas of China: Stories of Struggle YiXi LaMuCuo, 2019-07-09 This book contributes significantly to our understanding of bilingualism and bilingual education as a sociocultural and political process by offering analyses of the stories of five Tibetan individual journeys of becoming bilingual in the Tibetan areas of China at four different points in time from 1950 to the present The data presented comprises the narrative of their bilingual encounters including their experiences of using language in their families in village and in school Opportunities to develop bilingualism were intimately linked with historical and political events in the wider layers of experiences which reveal the complexity of bilingualism Moreover their experiences of developing bilingualism are the stories of struggle to become bilingual They struggle because they want to keep two languages in their lives It illustrates their relationship with society They are Tibetans L1 is not the official language of their country but it is the tie with their ethnicity It addresses bilingualism linked with the formation of identity The unique feature of this book is that it offers a deep understanding of bilingualism and bilingual education by examining the stories of five individuals learning experiences over a period of almost 60 years The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies Jennifer Rowsell, Kate Pahl, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies offers a comprehensive view of the field of language and literacy studies With forty three chapters reflecting new research from leading scholars in the field the Handbook pushes at the boundaries of existing fields and combines with related fields and disciplines to develop a lens on contemporary scholarship and emergent fields of inquiry The Handbook is divided into eight sections The foundations of literacy studies Space focused approaches Time focused approaches Multimodal approaches Digital approaches Hermeneutic approaches Making meaning from the everyday Co constructing literacies with communities This is the first handbook of literacy studies to recognise new trends and evolving trajectories together with a focus on radical epistemologies of literacy The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies is an essential reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students and those researching and working in the areas of applied linguistics and language and literacy

Permanent Exclusion from School and Institutional Prejudice Anna Carlile, 2013-02-11 Permanent exclusion from school and institutional prejudice Creating change through critical bureaucracy Anna Carlile This book tells the story of permanent exclusion from school from within an urban children's services department It focuses on two areas what contributes to instances of permanent exclusion from school and what the effects are of its existence as a disciplinary option The book questions how and why local government officers make particular decisions about children and young people Rather than focussing on what children and young people did behaviourally to get excluded the book adopts a Foucauldian analysis to concentrate on their place within a larger policy community which includes professionals and policy makers It adopts a critical bureaucratic exercise in studying up on powerful organisations an informed approach to ameliorating social inequity The findings described here suggest a broad deep and opaque seam of institutional prejudice permanent exclusion from school can be understood to be both caused by this and to intensify its effects This has implications for the voices of young people subject to or at risk of permanent exclusion from school and the final chapter outlines a Foucauldian Freirian student voice project offering ideas about how schools might tackle this

The Multilingual Edge of Education Piet Van Avermaet,Stef Slembrouck,Koen Van Gorp,Sven Sierens,Katrijn Maryns,2017-12-18

This book highlights the need to develop new educational perspectives in which multilingualism is valorised and strategically used in settings and contexts of instruction and learning Situated in the current educational debate about multilingualism and ethno linguistic minorities chapter authors examine the polarised response to heightened linguistic diversity and how the debate is very much premised on binary views of monolingualism and multi or bilingualism Contributors argue that the diverse linguistic backgrounds of immigrant and minority students should be considered an asset instead of being regarded as a barrier to teaching and learning From its title through to its conclusion this book underlines the current perspective of multilingualism as possessing cutting edge potential for transforming diverse classrooms into more inhabitable more equitable and more efficiently organised spaces for learning This book will be of interest to scholars and researchers in educational linguistics applied linguistics sociolinguistics anthropological linguistics pedagogics educational studies and educational anthropology

Mediatization and Sociolinguistic Change Jannis Androutsopoulos, 2014-09-04 This is the first volume to focus on the role of media in processes of linguistic change one of the most contested issues in contemporary sociolinguistics Its 17 chapters and five section commentaries present cutting edge research from variationist and interactional sociolinguistics media linguistics language ideology research and minority language studies The volume advances our understanding of linguistic change in a mediatized world in three ways First it introduces the notions of sociolinguistic change and mediatization to create a broader theoretical framing than the one offered by the media and language change Second it takes the discussion beyond the notions of influence and effect and the binary distinction of media vs community language Third it examines the relation of sociolinguistic change and mediatization and from five complementary viewpoints media influence on linguistic structure media engagement in interaction change in mass and new media language language ideological change and the role of media for minority languages Bringing these strands of sociolinguistic scholarship together this volume examines their shared references and common lines of thinking
