Once There Was A Swagman:

Once a Jolly Swagman Matthew Richardson, 2006-01-01 Banjo Paterson's Waltzing Matilda is the one song that has been bringing people together spontaneously since 1895 and the one song that belongs to all Australians. Generations of experts have argued about the original story that Paterson immortalised about the origins of the tune and about what Paterson meant by his almost parodic over use of Australian colloquialisms. Once a Jolly Swagman takes readers off the score sheet into the story of the song and tells of its evolution up until the twenty first century. It tries to answer the riddles within the song and unpick its inherent contradictions where's the heroism in a suicidal thief? What was jolly about the jumbuck? Is Waltzing Matilda the key to Australian values? What does it mean that a beloved song about Australia's pioneering past is written by a city lawyer? In this age of economic rationalism and a globalised world how does a voice from the billabong saying 'You'll come a waltzing matilda with me' still matter and what does it tell us about ourselves? Australian Folk Song Ron Edwards, 1994

Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature Helen Frank, 2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children's literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another. The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation, locale or country are constructed in translated children's literature with the translation of Australian children's fiction into French serving as a case study. Issues examined include the selection of books for translation, the relationship between children's books and the national and international publishing industry, the packaging of translations and the importance of titles, blurbs and covers, the linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children, intertextual references, the function of the translation in the target culture, didactic and pedagogical aims, euphemistic language and explicitation and literariness in translated texts. The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback, the antipodes, the exotic, the wild, the unknown, the void, the end of the world, the young and innocent nation and the Far West. Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban, multicultural, Aboriginal, worldly and inharmonious are seriously under-represented. The study also shows that French translations are conventional, conservative and didactic, showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean, rural, exoticism. The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu, especially through translated children's literature. Children's Fiction Sourcebook Margaret Hobson, Jennifer Madden, Ray Prytherch, 2018-12-17 First published in 1992, this Sourcebook is a basic working tool for all those concerned with children's reading.
