Fehér,2022-12-28 Khrushchev and the Communist World first published in 1984 reviews the Khrushchev era when the legacy of the Stalinist past was partly repudiated and the possibilities of reform within the USSR and the countries of the socialist camp were explored The lessons derived from this exploration by Bloc leaders and Khrushchev s successors unhappily led them to conclude that the scope for such reform was extremely limited Many of Khrushchev s reforms and reorganisation measures were indeed rescinded but the notion had been planted that the naked terror of Stalinist rule and direct centralised command over other socialist states were no longer feasible This book reviews the evidence for this view both in internal terms and also in foreign affairs      History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope,John Neubauer,2007-07-18 The third volume in the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe focuses on the making and remaking of those institutional structures that engender and regulate the creation distribution and reception of literature The focus here is not so much on shared institutions but rather on such region wide analogous institutional processes as the national awakening the modernist opening and the communist regimentation the canonization of texts and censorship of literature These processes which took place in all of the region s cultures were often asynchronous and subjected to different local conditions The volume s premise is that the national awakening and institutionalization of literature were symbiotically interrelated in East Central Europe Each national awakening involves a language renewal an introduction of the vernacular and its literature in schools and universities the creation of an infrastructure for the publication of books and journals clashes with censorship the founding of national academies libraries and theaters a re construction of national folklore and the writing of histories of the vernacular literature The four parts of this volume are titled 1 Publishing and Censorship 2 Theater as a Literary Institution 3 Forging Primal Pasts The Uses of Folk Poetry and 4 Literary Histories Itineraries of National Self images
