Boggs, 2010 This book details key property and casualty concepts rarely discussed or found in print rather they are often left to be discovered over time These important concepts are now written down for all insurance practitioners to easily access Examples of the topics and concepts found in this book include rules for reading ANY insurance policy why losses are excluded contractual risk transfer legal liability theories COPE details and the proper explanation of coinsurance concepts Also included is a rather extensive glossary of insurance and insurance related terms Readers will 1 Gain a deeper understanding of insurance theories 2 Be better prepared to explain insurance concepts to their clients and 3 Develop a greater appreciation and understanding of the claims valuation process The Principles of Surety Underwriting Luther Eugene Mackall, 1914 The Principles of Surety Underwriting; with Annotations Giving the Law of the Several States on Important Points Luther Eugene MacKall, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1914 edition Excerpt insolvent or unable to meet the obligation This is a frequent occurrence 4 The indemnitor is likely to learn before the surety company of the approach of trouble and dispose of his property and make himself execution proof Sec 202 When Bonds may be Issued on the Strength of Indemnity In view of the reliability of personal indemnity it is manifest that very little dependance can be put in it and the following rules are suggested for the guidance of underwriters who are so often requested to issue bonds on personal indemnity 1 A bad risk that is a risk which is distinctly below the standard should never be accepted on the strength of personal indemnity In cases which are on the border line where there is some doubt about the applicant s ability to perform the obligation guaranteed or where it is impossible or inconvenient to get full information the risk may sometimes be accepted on personal indemnity where the indemnitors are found upon a verification of their financial statements to be worth in net available assets subject to execution an amount equal to two or three times the amount of the bond 2 Where the deficiency of the applicant is in financial resources as where a contractor has not the necessary funds the risk should not be accepted on the indemnity of third persons unless such persons are able and have agreed by loans or endorsements to make up the deficiency 3 Credit guarantees or bonds directly guaranteeing the payment of money should not in any event be accepted on the strength of personal indemnity although of course there is no objection to the acceptance of personal indemnity in cases where the applicant seems to be strong enough financially to warrant the execution of the bond No The Annals - The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters Society of Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriters, 1954
