Applied Welfare Economics Chris Jones, 2005-05-05 Applied Welfare Economics uses important results in the welfare economics literature to extend a conventional Harberger cost benefit analysis After reviewing the properties of different welfare measures a conventional welfare equation is used to evaluate marginal policy changes in a general equilibrium economy with tax distortions The analysis is extended to accommodate trade and income taxes time internationally traded goods and non tax distortions including externalities non competitive behaviour public goods and price quantity controls The welfare analysis is developed in stages and where possible is explained using diagrams to make it more adaptable to the different institutional arrangements encountered in applied work With this in mind computable welfare expressions are solved using demand and supply elasticities for each good The lump sum transfers used in a conventional analysis to separate welfare effects are carefully examined to identify the role of the marginal social cost of public funds MCF in policy evaluation The main contribution in the book is to separate income effects for marginal policy changes in the shadow value of government revenue which converts efficiency effects into dollar changes in private surplus It is a scaling coefficient that makes income effects irrelevant in single aggregated consumer economies and conveniently isolates distributional effects in heterogeneous consumer economies The decomposition is used to test for Pareto improvements and to examine the separate but related roles of the shadow value of government revenue and the MCF in applied work

Virtual Crowds Mubbasir Kapadia, Nuria Pelechano, Jan Allbeck, Norm Badler, 2015-11-01 This volume presents novel computational models for representing digital humans and their interactions with other virtual characters and meaningful environments In this context we describe efficient algorithms to animate control and author human like agents having their own set of unique capabilities personalities and desires We begin with the lowest level of footstep determination to steer agents in collision free paths Steering choices are controlled by navigation in complex environments including multi domain planning with dynamically changing situations

Virtual agents are given perceptual capabilities analogous to those of real people including sound perception multi sense attention and understanding of environment semantics which affect their behavior choices The roles and impacts of individual attributes such as memory and personality are explored The animation challenges of integrating a number of simultaneous behavior and movement demands on an agent are addressed through an open source software system Finally the creation of stories and narratives with groups of agents subject to planning and environmental constraints culminates the presentation

Beddington-Behrens, 2013-08-01 I invite you to come on a journey with me into one of the most important yet often most neglected dimension of yourself namely your heart I want to help you discover as I have slowly been discovering that our hearts not only hold the key to our being able to live a fuller and more meaningful life but also to our being able to play a part in helping heal our planet The change needed is a shift out of our primarily head focus into becoming increasingly heart centred where we are connected to our hearts and are potentially capable of moving mountains We are only going to be good activists if we have plenty of heart in our lives if we are big hearted with a well activated Heart A culture of Heart is vital if we are to heal the many wounds and splits that exist between different classes religions tribes and nations The book has been written from a place of great hope and joy based on knowledge that our world is changing and that the planetary heart is at last awakening

Sustainable Agriculture Green Manure in Rice Farming , Green Manure in Rice Farming International Rice Research Institute,1988 Jefferson Davis, Confederate President Herman Hattaway,Richard E. Beringer,2002 Now two Civil War historians Herman Hattaway and Richard Beringer take a new and closer look at Davis s presidency In the process they provide a clearer image of his leadership and ability to handle domestic diplomatic and military matters under the most trying circumstances without the considerable industrial and population resources of the North and without the formal recognition of other nations BOOK JACKET Holistic Education and Embodied Learning John P. Miller,Kelli Nigh,2017-03-01 Learning often begins with an experience in the body Our body can tighten or feel expansive depending on different learning contexts This experience of learning in the body is crucial to holistic education This book explores embodied learning from several perspectives This first section explores how psychology can inform us about embodied learning for example the work of Carl Jung and Wilhelm Reich devoted much of their thinking to how energy manifests itself in the body Meditation and movement are also examined as ways of embodied learning for example Dalcroze a form of movement education is presented within the context of whole person education The book also presents schools where embodied learning is nurtured Waldorf education is discussed as well as a public school in Toronto where the body is central to holistic education The book also presents visions of embodied learning John Miller presents a holistic vision of teacher education and Tobin Hart who has written extensively in this field writes about the embodied mind Embodied learning is an emerging area of inquiry in holistic education and this book presents a variety of perspectives and practices that should be helpful to both scholars and practitioners
