At the Threshold of Liquid Geology Eric W. Bragg,2002-09-15 This modern collection of surrealist prose poems was inspired by the improvisational method of automatic writing popularized by the International Surrealist Movement From one brain to another without any literary rules or standards the words in these automatic writings are not just words but rays of subconscious illumination that peel away the various layers of the civilized western psyche one by one Full of bizarre transformations and dark irrationally motivated patterns of erotic thought these writings will seduce the reader into nothing less than a sublime overload and transgressive derangement of the senses While a must read for the poetically daring and the adventurous this book is not recommended for those who seek peaceful numbness and safety spiritualism Paprika Paradise James Jeffrey, 2013-08-01 For James Jeffrey his mother's homeland of Hungary has always featured in family stories sometimes as a fairytale land other times as an exotic parallel universe It is a place where storks build nests as large as tables on chimney tops and grandparents live in suburbs called Uranium Town People say hello when they mean goodbye have no word for he or she and bestow an almost godlike status on cakes and lard It is the country where

James's mother a volatile divorcee who could outflirt Zsa Zsa Gabor and his father a coal miner from a particularly sensible part of England began an unlikely romance that lasted until the other end of the earth With his wife children and still warring parents in tow James decided that the time had come to go back to Hungary Their journey into the little known paprika paradise is hilarious thought provoking and completely unpredictable Joyous illuminating and enchanting Herald Sun
