Geography and Economy in South Africa and its Neighbours Christian M. Rogerson, 2017-05-15 The dismantling of the apartheid regime in South Africa caused massive transformation in both geographical and economic terms not only in this country but also in the region as a whole As the post apartheid government enters its second term this captivating volume assesses its progress in unravelling the geography of apartheid both in South Africa itself and in its relationships with other countries in Southern Africa and Africa It also considers the ways in which South Africa now that it is no longer a pariah state has begun to position itself within the current global economy Examining South Africa's land and agriculture mining and minerals manufacturing tourism corporate finance the labour market and transport the volume discusses the challenges of balancing growth and redistribution the extent and nature of progress change and relationships within the regional and global economy A compelling investigation into the economics of South Africa's neighbouring states in relation to their natural resources colonialism and inter relationships with themselves and with South Africa leads to a focus on the region as a whole and its relations with the global economy

Democratising Local Government, 2002 Local government is at the forefront of development In South Africa the ambitious policy objectives of post apartheid reconstruction and development hinge on the successful creation of a democratic tier of government close to the people An entirely new system of developmental local government has thus been introduced As is the case in many developing countries the responsibilities of municipalities in South Africa have been extended dramatically often without adequate resources Managing municipalities for development therefore requires political will and strategic intervention The book provides a comprehensive introduction to developmental local government It includes the design of the new local government system and the issues posed by decentralisation an overview of specific challenges of urban and rural municipalities a discussion of special issues facing local government including poverty gender and environment new tools for local government including budgeting indicators municipal partnerships and capacity building

The Crisis of South African Foreign Policy Matthew Graham, 2015-09-28 The emergence of a new democratic South Africa under Nelson Mandela was regarded as a high watermark for international ideals of human rights and democracy Much was expected of the ANC in power particularly that it would be able to translate its ideals into a coherent foreign policy for the African continent Yet its foreign policy since 1994 has been mired in accusations of incoherence contradiction and failure Here based on extensive archival research and interviews Matthew Graham offers new ways of interpreting South Africa's foreign policy by investigating the continuities and discontinuities of the ANC's international relations from exile to political power Charting the political intrigues during the country's transition from apartheid and the subsequent influences on Presidents Mandela and Mbeki The Crisis of South African Foreign Policy makes a vital contribution to our understanding of why post apartheid South Africa has failed to lead Africa on the world stage

Globalization, the Third World State and Poverty-Alleviation in the Twenty-First Century B. Ikubolajeh

Governance in the New South Africa Guy C. Z. Mhone,Omano Edigheji,2003 The major challenges confronting South Africa since the advent of non racial multiparty democracy have been the need to promote democratic governance economic growth global competitiveness and to improve the standard of living of its people especially the previously disadvantaged majority Black population These challenges have coincided with the ascendancy of globalisation with its attendant social economic and political imperatives all of which have consequences for governance and development at the national level not least in emerging economies like South Africa This important book assesses the implications of global imperatives for the nature capacity character and scope of democratic governance and the pursuit of equitable development in the new South Africa A major conclusion is that the implementation of domestic economic reforms predicated on market fundamentalism with its dominant logic and paradigm of globalisation and economic management is incompatible and irreconcilable with the quest for democratic governance and equitable development The contributors contend that such an approach reproduces a substantively undemocratic and inequitable society Governance in the New South Africa concludes by offering some considerations related to how substantive democracy and equitable development may be promoted in South Africa on the basis of democratic governance and developmentalism

Progressive Library Organizations Alfred Kagan, 2015-04-09 This work presents the history and impact of the seven most important progressive library organizations worldwide in Austria Germany South Africa Sweden United Kingdom and two in the United States Each organization is considered within its national context and in fact the English word organization does not quite fit the nature of all of the groups The South African organization LIWO was transitional in that it helped bring South African librarianship from apartheid to majority rule and then disbanded The other organizations or their successors are still working in one form or another Some of the organizations have had or continue to have vibrant local chapters though many of the original activists have recently retired or died The author has interviewed many of them at a time when they were assessing their life work and handing off to new generations

Public Problems - Private Solutions? Simon Raiser, 2017-11-30 Cities and city regions are undergoing rapid transformation They are prime locations of innovation while at the same time facing growing problems of spatial fragmentation and social exclusion By addressing these problems cities become forerunners for new patterns of governance which include increasingly private actors While research on global cities has focused primarily on the world's leading financial and economic centres comparative research on the changing role of large complex cities in the developing world is less advanced But it is here where public problems are most seriously threatening the cohesion of urban society and where the need for new answers is most urgent Illustrated by in depth examinations of four city regions Shanghai Mumbai Johannesburg and S o Paulo this book readdresses this balance The book revisits the same set of cities from different angles thereby reflecting urban contradictions juxtapositions and disjunctures
