Bondarenko, Stephen I. Ternyik, Elżbieta Mączyńska, William R. Thompson, Leo Nefiodow, Anthony Harper, Though the researchers of the theory of long and medium term cycles are certainly worried about the economic situation they understand that the cyclicity still remains an inevitable attribute of economic development And Juglar's aphorism that crisis is a consequence of the preceded prosperity is still true In this third issue of the Yearbook Kondratieff Waves with the subtitle Cycles Crises and Forecasts we present a number of insight contributions on nature regularities and interconnections among cycles of different duration Some economic cycles may result in a severe economic crisis The current one shows once again the importance of the study of cyclical dynamics and its peculiarities Between the 1980s and 1990s the Keynesian receipts were replaced by neoliberal and monetarist ones which seemed to be miraculous as well The depleted growth was marked with the largest global crisis of 2008 which also showed that within globalization when regulation in the international arena is impossible yet there recur the signs of Juglar cycles of the 19th and first half of the 20th centuries with their uncontrollable upwards and sharp declines evolving into collapses and panic This is supported by the fact that for eight years the world has been at the depressive phase This edition will be useful for economists social scientists as well as for a wide range of those interested in the problems of the past present and future of global economy and globalization This research has been supported by the Russian Foundation for the Humanities Project No 16 02 14053

Clifford, 1997-04-21 When culture makes itself at home in motion where does an anthropologist stand In a follow up to The Predicament of Culture one of the defining books for anthropology in the last decade James Clifford takes the proper measure a moving picture of a world that doesn't stand still that reveals itself en route in the airport lounge and the parking lot as much as in the marketplace and the museum In this collage of essays meditations poems and travel reports Clifford takes travel and its difficult companion translation as openings into a complex modernity He contemplates a world ever more connected yet not homogeneous a global history proceeding from the fraught legacies of exploration colonization capitalist expansion immigration labor mobility and tourism Ranging from Highland New Guinea to northern California from Vancouver to London he probes current approaches to the interpretation and display of non Western arts and cultures Wherever people and things cross paths and where institutional forces work to discipline unruly encounters Clifford's concern is with struggles to displace stereotypes to recognize divergent histories to sustain postcolonial and tribal identities in contexts of domination and globalization Travel diaspora border crossing self location the making of homes away from home these are transcultural predicaments for the late twentieth century The map that might account for them the history of an entangled modernity emerges here as an unfinished series of paths and negotiations leading in many directions while returning again and again to the struggles and arts of cultural encounter the impossible inescapable tasks of translation
