Comacchio, Neil Sutherland, 2024-10-29 Ring Around the Maple is about the condition of children in Canada from roughly 1850 to 2000 a time during which the modern increasingly disrupted traditional ways Authors Cynthia R Comacchio and Neil Sutherland trace the lives of children over this long century with a view to synthesizing the rich interdisciplinary often multi disciplinary literature that has emerged since the 1970s Integrated into this synthesis is the authors new research into many often seemingly disparate archival and published primary sources Emphasizing how the child and childhood are sociohistoric constructs and employing age analytically and relationally they discuss the constants and the variants in their historic dimensions While childhood tangibly modernized during these years it remained a far from universal experience due to identifiers of race gender culture region and intergenerational adaptations that characterize the process of growing up This work highlights children's perspectives through close critical against the grain readings of diaries correspondence memoirs interviews oral histories and autobiographies many buried in obscure archives It is the only extant historical discussion of Canadian children that interweaves the experiences of First Nations Métis and Inuit children with those of children from a number of settler groups Ring Around the Maple makes use of photographs catalogues advertisements government publications musical recordings radio shows television shows material goods documentary and feature films and other such visual and aural testimony Much of this evidence has not to date been used as historical testimony to uncover the lives of ordinary children This book is generously illustrated with photographs and ephemera carefully selected to reflect children's lives conditions interests and obligations It will be of special interest to historians and social scientists interested in children and the culture of childhood but will also appeal to readers who enjoy the little stories that together make up our collective history especially when those are told by the children who lived them

Creating Societies Dirk Hoerder, 2000-01-01 Dirk Hoerder shows us that it is not shining railroad tracks or statesmen in Ottawa that make up the story of Canada but rather individual stories of life and labour Caribbean women who care for children born in Canada lonely prairie homesteaders miners in Alberta and British Columbia women labouring in factories Chinese and Japanese immigrants carving out new lives in the face of hostility Hoerder examines these individual experiences in Creating Societies the first systematic overview of the total Canadian immigrant experience Using letters travel accounts diaries memoirs and reminiscences he brings the immigrant s experiences to life Their writings often recorded for grandchildren neighbours and sometimes a larger public show how immigrant lives were entwined with the emerging Canadian society Hoerder presents an important new picture of the emerging Canadian identity dispelling the Canadian myth of a dichotomy between national unity and ethnic diversity and emphasizing the long standing interaction between the members of a different ethnic groups

Crying the News Vincent DiGirolamo, 2019-08-05 From Benjamin Franklin to Ragged Dick to Jack Kelly hero of the Disney musical Newsies newsboys have long intrigued Americans as symbols of struggle and achievement But what do we really know about the children who hawked and delivered newspapers in American cities and towns Who were they What was their life like And how important was their work to the development of a free press the survival of poor families and the shaping of their own attitudes values and beliefs Crying the News A History of America s Newsboys offers an epic retelling of the American experience from the perspective of its most unshushable creation It is the first book to place newsboys at the center of American history analyzing their inseparable role as economic actors and cultural symbols in the creation of print capitalism popular democracy and national character DiGirolamo s sweeping narrative traces the shifting fortunes of these little merchants over a century of war and peace prosperity and depression exploitation and reform chronicling their exploits in every region of the country as well as on the railroads that linked them While the book focuses mainly on boys in the trade it also examines the experience of girls and grown ups the elderly and disabled blacks and whites immigrants and natives Based on a wealth of primary sources Crying the News uncovers the existence of scores of newsboy strikes and protests The book reveals the central role of newsboys in the development of corporate welfare schemes scientific management practices and employee liability laws It argues that the newspaper industry exerted a formative yet overlooked influence on working class youth that is essential to our understanding of American childhood labor journalism and capitalism Property Wrongs Doug Smith, 2023-04-13T00:00:00Z Until 1969 the City of Winnipeg had undertaken only two public housing projects even though the failure of the market to provide adequate housing for low income Winnipeggers had been apparent since the beginning of the century By 1919 providing housing was a significant issue in municipal politics that was embraced by civic officials professionals reformers labour leaders and social democratic politicians It also became a proxy issue for refighting the 1919 General Strike at city hall However Winnipeg's business community proved effective opponents of public housing The struggle for public housing was also a struggle for democracy Up until the 1960s public housing required approval by a referendum in which only the city's property owners could vote This rule deprived close to half the city's voters and virtually everyone who might qualify to live in public housing of the right to vote Over decades that barrier to democracy was whittled away An NDP provincial government elected in 1969 added 11 144 units of public housing to the existing 568 units Today public housing is once more under attack Rather being treated as valued public assets they are considered embarrassing encumbrances that should be sold as part of a process of turning public housing over to the private sector The struggle to protect and expand the provision of non profit housing is undermined by the rupture in political memory of the long struggle to build public housing and the current political situation Personal Recollections, 1993 Emphasis is on Jews in Manitoba Canadian Book Review Annual, 1978 Personal Recollections Jewish Historical Society of Western Canada, 1993 Emphasis is on Jews in Manitoba In Search of Canadian Materials, 1979 Jewish Autobiographies and Biographies David S.
