Reader In A Strange Land The Activity Of Reading Literary Utopias:

Reader in a Strange Land Peter Ruppert, 1986 Utopian Audiences Kenneth M. Roemer, 2003 How do readers transform Utopia How do they manipulate imaginary worlds to gain new perspectives of their own worlds In order to answer these and other questions this study employs a wide spectrum of reader response approaches to define the nature and impact of utopian literature Politics, Persuasion, and Pragmatism Ellen Susan Peel, 2002 An addition to the Theory and Interpretation of Narrative series Peel's book addresses how feminist utopian narratives attempt to persuade readers to adopt certain beliefs Using three feminist utopian novels as her main examples The Marriages between Zones Three Four and Five by Doris Lessing The Left Hand of Darkness by Ursula K Le Guin and Les Guérillères by Monique Wittig Peel examines how belief bridging and protean metaphor in these works persuade readers Literary persuasion often dismissed as propaganda in fact works in subtle and profound ways The book presents major techniques by which narrative literature exercises this sophisticated influence on beliefs Ultimately concluding that the pragmatic works better than the static in utopian feminism Peel shows how in novels such as those under discussion the narrative techniques support pragmatism Inquiring how narrative form can shape political belief by affecting readers responses the author integrates topics that are rarely combined The book investigates three theoretical issues utopian belief distinguishing the perfectionism of the static from the vitality of the pragmatic and showing how the latter creates narrative energy the persuasive process tracing narrative form and asking how implied readers match real ones and how readers are swayed by belief bridging and protean metaphor and feminist belief a nuanced definition that accounts both for what links feminists and what makes them diverse Politics Persuasion and Pragmatism explores the rhetorical and ethical power of narrative literature Charlotte Perkins Gilman Carol Farley Kessler, 1995-03-01 The focus of Carol Farley Kessler's work is how Charlotte Perkins Gilman developed as a writer and how she imagined a full blown utopia for women This book which offers a fresh reading of Gilman's fiction fills a void in Gilman scholarship in feminist utopian scholarship and in American literary studies Kessler provides three journeys through Gilman's life A Biographical Exploration discusses facets of her life having a substantial impact upon her utopian writing Four themes influence this development the legacy of ancestral expectations her relationships to father mother and daughter the experience of two marriages and a divorce and her friendships with women Gilman and her Prancing Young Utopia presents three stages in the development of Gilman's utopian writing First she imagined neighborhoods writing alternately fiction and nonfiction Second she tested in fiction the expression of utopian principles explained in her nonfiction Finally she created the whole society in her 1915 satire Herland All of the foregoing writing represents Gilman's effort to imagine in fiction solutions that she recommended in her 1898 feminist treatise Women and Economics Writing to Empower Living connects Gilman's biography to her utopian writing as both personal expression and public activism The writing can be understood as equipment for living Ten hard to locate utopian short stories and chapters from four novels conclude the volume Literary and Cultural Intersections during the Long Eighteenth Century Marianna D'Ezio, 2009-10-02 Culture and literature indeed intellectual life as a whole in eighteenth century Britain were characterized by complex internal tensions as well as influenced by the unprecedented atmosphere of major political cultural and social change which led to the revolutions at end of the century Furthermore the diffusion of periodicals and newspapers which formed the basis of public conversation in urban coffee houses functioned as a vehicle for the dispersion of works which publicly mirrored a private society in the process of transformation The focus on this change and the circulation of new ideas on taste and polite society as well as on culture and literature can be found in the continual intertwining between the public and the private spheres of society The aim of the first part of this collection of original unpublished essays by young international scholars is to investigate the dynamics of these overlapping spheres through new readings of eighteenth century literary works which not only analysed the mechanisms of the private and public spheres but also highlighted some remarkable cultural features such as clothing and fashion gossip and gender issues As suggested by the title the second part of the collection will expand on the principal idea of intersections in eighteenth century English literature from the intersections linking the private and public spheres of British society to those between eighteenth century works within the British literary canon taking into account the influence of European thought The purpose of the second group of essays is thus that of offering fresh perspectives and a re evaluation of literary and cultural reciprocal exchanges in order to better locate or re locate canonical works and authors within the eighteenth century literary tradition Travel As Metaphor Georges Van Den Abbeele, 1991 Contient un chapitre sur la notion de voyage chez Jean Jacques Rousseau Living Walden Two Hilke Kuhlman, 2005-05-31 In Walden Two behavioral psychologist B F Skinner describes one of the most controversial fictional utopias of the twentieth century During the 1960s and 70s this novel went on to inspire approximately three dozen actual communities which are entertainingly examined in Hilke Kuhlmann's Living Walden Two In the novel behavioral engineers use positive reinforcement in organizing and gently guiding all aspects of society leaving the rest of the citizens free to lead happy and carefree lives Among the real world communities a recurrent problem in moving past the planning stages was the nearly ubiquitous desire among members to be gentle guides coupled with strong resistance to being guided In an insightful and often hilarious narrative Hilke Kuhlmann explores the dynamics of the communities with an in depth examination of the two surviving Skinnerian communities Comunidad Los Horcones in Mexico and Twin Oaks in Virginia Drawing on extensive interviews with the founders and key players in the Walden Two communities Kuhlmann redefines the criteria for their success by focusing on the tension between utopian blueprints for a new society and communal experiments actual effects on individual lives Conserving Words Daniel J. Philippon, 2004 Conserving Words looks at five authors of seminal works of nature writing who also founded or revitalized important environmental organizations Theodore Roosevelt and the Boone and Crockett Club Mabel Osgood Wright and the National Audubon Society John Muir and the Sierra Club

Aldo Leopold and the Wilderness Society and Edward Abbey and Earth First These writers used powerfully evocative and galvanizing metaphors for nature metaphors that Daniel J Philippon calls conserving words frontier Roosevelt garden Wright park Muir wilderness Leopold and utopia Abbey Integrating literature history biography and philosophy this ambitious study explores how conserving words enabled narratives to convey environmental values as they explained how human beings should interact with the nonhuman world Pilgrimage and Holy Space in Late Antique Egypt David Frankfurter,1998 This collection of essays by ancient historians Egyptologists Coptologists and historians of religions covers the Egyptian and Jewish backgrounds of Coptic pilgrimage its major shrines and diverse responses to it in sermon and literature Unveiling a Parallel Alice Ilgenfritz Jones,Ella Merchant,1991-10-01 Written in 1893 by two women from Cedar Rapids Iowa Unveiling a Parallel is a remarkable precursor of twentieth century feminist utopian novels like Charlotte Perkins Gilman s Herland and Marge Piercy s Woman on the Edge of Time Couched as sentimental romance and utopian fantasy Jones and Merchant s work satirizes nineteenth century gender roles and discrimination against women humorously unveiling the absurdities of socially constructed femaleness and maleness Journeying to Mars the novel s nameless male narrator discovers a society where women enjoy equality with men He meets Elodia a community leader who drinks excessively has lovers and uses drugs Her behavior confounds his expectations about women s supposedly pious and pure natures and reveals that equality if rooted in a patriarchal culture is not necessarily a utopian virtue In contrast a more perfect state of development has been reached in a second country on Mars where the narrator learns how unselfishness nurture and mutual support can offer viable alternatives to passive chaste femininity or to greedy lustful masculinity By imagining a better world in women s terms and in women s language Jones and Merchant still speak with vital insight to both women and men today Dying Empire Francis Shor,2009-12-04 By the 1970s the global hegemony established by an American Empire in the post World War II period faced increasing resistance abroad and contradictions at home Contextualizing that hegemony resistance and contradictions is the focus of Dying Empire Presenting a wide ranging synthesis of approaches the book attempts to shed light on the construction of and challenges to the military economic and cultural imperial projects of the United States in the late 20th and early 21st centuries Opposing US imperialism and global domination Francis Shor combines academic and activist perspectives to analyze the crises endemic to empire and to propose a vision for the realization of another more socially just world The text incorporates the most recent critical discussions of US imperialism and globalization from above and below to illuminate the practices and possibilities for global resistance Offering insights into the political and cultural convulsions of recent decades whilst raising profound and compelling questions this book will be of interest to activists students and scholars of American political culture US foreign policy globalization imperialism international relations and social movements The Case For a Humanistic Poetics Daniel R. Schwarz,1990-06-18 An attempt to define a humanistic and pluralistic ideology of reading which takes recent theory into account By the same author as The Humanistic Heritage
