and Intervention for Classroom Teachers Beverly A. DeVries, 2019-05-31 The fifth edition of this comprehensive resource helps future and practicing teachers recognize and assess literacy problems while providing practical effective intervention strategies to help every student succeed DeVries thoroughly explores the major components of literacy offering an overview of pertinent research suggested methods and tools for diagnosis and assessment intervention strategies and activities and technology applications to increase students skills Updated to reflect the needs of teachers in increasingly diverse classrooms the fifth edition addresses scaffolding for English language learners and offers appropriate instructional strategies and tailored teaching ideas to help both teachers and their students Several valuable appendices include assessment tools instructions and visuals for creating and implementing the book's more than 150 instructional strategies and activities and other resources New to the Fifth Edition Up to date and in line with ILA CCSS and most state and district literacy standards this edition also addresses the important shifts and evolution of these standards New chapter on Language Development Speaking and Listening covers early literacy assessment and interventions New intervention strategies and activities are featured in all chapters and highlight a stronger technology component Updated Companion Website with additional tools resources and examples of teachers using assessment strategies Precursors of Functional Literacy

Ludo Verhoeven, Carsten Elbro, Pieter Reitsma, 2002-11-18 The purpose of this volume is to present recent research in the field of the acquisition of functional literacy and its precursors The volume aims to capture the state of the art in this rapidly expanding field An attempt is made to clarify the vague and often inconsistent definitions of functional literacy from the perspective of development Cognitive linguistic educational and social factors of literacy development are all taken into account The volume consists of three subsequent parts The first part goes into phonological precursors of literacy development In this part the focus is on the development of early language precursors of reading and writing The cultural foundations of these precursors are explored and their links with reading development are dealt with in detail Different psycholinguistic approaches are also proposed to explain the occurrence of literacy problems In the second part the scope is on the constraints of reading and writing efficiency at the word level and beyond The acquisition of reading and writing is seen as a result from the interaction between phonological orthographic and semantic processes A crosslinguistic perspective is taken on the role of writing system factors in the acquisition of literacy skills The final part deals with the role of social and educational factors in literacy acquisition Starting from a crosscultural perspective the central issue is how the attainment of functional literacy is dependent on sociocultural variation The predictors of more advanced levels of literacy development are considered including foreign language literacy and adult literacy

Fluency and Reading Comprehension in Typical Readers and Dyslexics Readers Simone A. Capellini, Giseli D. Germano, 2018-02-22 Reading involves decoding and comprehension components and to become efficient it requires a large number of cognitive and linguistic processes Among those the phonological awareness the alphabetic principle the decoding the fluency the lexical development and the text comprehension development The reading comprehension is strongly related with the development of vocabulary oral language linguistic skills memory skills and ability to make inferences and the world experiences of each individual These processes become important only when the professional needs to deal with students presenting difficulties in learning how to read The difficulty using the knowledge of conversion rules between grapheme and phoneme to the word reading construction characterizes the dyslexia which is a specific learning disorder with a neurological source These difficulties presented by students with dyslexia interfere in their learning process impairing the learning development Knowing and following the reading development and its processes as well as obtaining the punctuation of fluency abilities and students comprehension allow us to understand what happens when the student presents difficulties to read This could help in the identification of learning disabilities and in the development of intervention programs
