Armstrong,2013-03-22 John Frankenheimer s career as a professional director began and ended in television In the mid 1950s he won acclaim working on live productions for anthology series like Playhouse 90 and from the mid 1990s until his death in 2002 he helmed a string of Emmy winning features for cable TV including The Burning Season 1994 and Andersonville 1996 Despite these successes Frankenheimer s reputation rests primarily upon the nearly thirty feature films he directed which range from bona fide classics like Birdman of Alcatraz 1962 and The Manchurian Candidate 1962 to such lesser achievements as Prophecy 1979 and Dead Bang 1989 Unfortunately for Frankenheimer the discrepancy between his best films and his worst led many critics during his lifetime to dismiss him as someone whose talent dissipated in the late 1960s In the decade since his death however several critics have emerged who reject the assertion that the quality of Frankenheimer s output faded after an impressive start In John Frankenheimer Interviews Essays and Profiles Stephen B Armstrong has collected the most interesting and insightful articles and features published on this underrated director While question and answer exchanges make up the bulk of the items featured here also included are journalistic profiles of the director at work and essays Frankenheimer himself wrote for magazine audiences In addition readers will find a series of interviews of people who worked with Frankenheimer including actors Roy Scheider Tim Reid and the director's wife of 40 years Evans Frankenheimer In this volume the director and others look back on a career that included such films as Seven Days in May The Train Grand Prix The Iceman Cometh Black Sunday and Ronin The first collection of its kind John Frankenheimer Interviews Essays and Profiles enables those who value the director's work to develop a better understanding of the man through his own words and the words of others

Movement Thalia Verkade,Marco te Brömmelstroet,2024-05-02 This book will no question make you think in new ways Why have we surrendered our cities to cars What might it be like to inhabit a space designed for people instead It's exciting and hopeful this we can do Bill McKibben author of The Flag The Cross and the Station Wagon Almost everywhere in the world streets are designed for travel at the highest speed giving precedence to the chunkiest vehicles We take for granted that the streets outside of our homes are designed only for movement from one point to another But what happens if we radically rethink how we use these public spaces Could we change our lives for the better In Movement How to Take Back Our Streets and Transform Our Lives journalist Thalia Verkade and mobility expert the cycling professor Marco te Brömmelstroet take a three year shared journey of discovery into the possibilities of our streets They investigate and question the choices and mechanisms underpinning how these public spaces are designed and look at how they could be different Verkade and te Brömmelstroet draw inspiration from the Netherlands and look at what other countries are doing and could do to diversify how they use their streets and make them safer During the pandemic decision makers in cities around the world were confronted with the questions of who our streets belong to how we want to use them and who gets to decide Making our communities safer cleaner and greener starts with asking these fundamental questions To truly transform mobility we need to look far beyond the technical aspects and put people at the center of urban design Movement will change the way that you view our streets
