

B. Sociolinguistics and Dialectology

- ▶ Dialectology is a study of geographical varieties of language. From the definition dialectology seems to be a part of sociolinguistics areas. However, there are at least two main differences between the two.
- ▶ First, dialectology is interested in historical development of language varieties and it survey mainly the comparison between the dialects and the standard code, whereas sociolinguistics is more interested in synchronic analysis and describes the relations between the language varieties and the social dynamism.
- ▶ Secondly, dialectologists are concerned with analyzing various linguistics forms and the cognates, while sociolinguistics takes the as important objects of analysis only when the social issues are correlated to them. After all, both share interests in language varieties and the significance of them in understanding the concept and idea of a language.

New Methods in Dialectology P. Th. van Reenen, M. E. H. Schouten, 2019-11-05 No detailed description available for New Methods in Dialectology

The future of dialects Marie-Hélène Côté, Remco Knooihuizen, John Nerbonne, 2016-02-05 Traditional dialects have been encroached upon by the increasing mobility of their speakers and by the onslaught of national languages in education and mass media Typically older dialects are leveling to become more like national languages This is regrettable when the last articulate traces of a culture are lost but it also promotes a complex dynamics of interaction as speakers shift from dialect to standard and to intermediate compromises between the two in their forms of speech Varieties of speech thus live on in modern communities where they still function to mark provenance but increasingly cultural and social provenance as opposed to pure geography They arise at times from the need to function throughout the different groups in society but they also may have roots in immigrants speech and just as certainly from the ineluctable dynamics of groups wishing to express their identity to themselves and to the world The future of dialects is a selection of the papers presented at Methods in Dialectology XV held in Groningen the Netherlands 11-15 August 2014 While the focus is on methodology the volume also includes specialized studies on varieties of Catalan Breton Croatian Belgian Dutch English in the US the UK and in Japan German including Swiss German Italian including Tyrolean Italian Japanese and Spanish as well as on heritage languages in Canada

Handbook of Perceptual Dialectology Dennis Richard Preston, Daniel Long, 1999 The Handbook of Perceptual Dialectology Volume 2 expands on the coverage of both regions and methodologies in the investigation of nonlinguists' perceptions of language variety New areas studied include Canada anglophone and francophone Cuba Hungary Italy Korea and Mali and most prominent among the new approaches are studies of the salience of specific linguistic features in variety identification and assessment As in Volume I the reader will find in these chapters everything from the statistical treatment of the ratings of dialect attributes to studies of the actual discourses of nonlinguists discussing language variety Dialectologists sociolinguistics ethnographers and applied linguists who work in areas where language variety is a concern will appreciate the findings and methods of these studies but social scientists of every sort who want to understand the role of language in the cultural lives of ordinary people will also find much of interest here

Issues and Methods in Dialectology Alan R. Thomas, 1997

Present-day Dialectology Jan Berns, Jaap van Marle, 2011-05-12 Present day Dialectology does not treat dialectology as an isolated discipline Instead it discusses dialectological topics within the framework of present day linguistics The book contains papers which seek to confront recent phonological morphologic syntactic and semantic theory with dialectological data In addition it explores the link between dialectology on the one hand and sociolinguistics and the study of language contact on the other
