The Desert Origins of God Juan Manuel Tebes, Christian Frevel, 2021-07-15 This special issue publishes most of the contributions of a three day workshop of the K te Hamburger Kolleg Dynamics in the History of Religions between Asia and Europe held on July 2019 at the Center for Religious Studies Ruhr University Bochum It seeks to explore and contextualize the configuration of the varied desert cultic practices from the southern Levant and northern Arabia during the Late Bronze Iron Ages that may have contributed to the emergence of the Yahwistic cult By this it raises also crucial questions on the early history of the Israelite and Judean religions in the first millennium BCE Recent archaeological excavations in the Negev southern Transjordan and Hejaz and new interpretations of old epigraphic and iconographic evidence are rapidly changing the biblical based paradigm of the interactions between the desert cults and the Iron Age Levantine religions Cultural contacts and the entanglement of religious networks are paramount for the understanding of this early history Recent archaeological iconographic and epigraphic studies of the Southern Levant contribute to the question of the emergence and early development of a Yahwistic religion The issue adopts an interdisciplinary approach assessing textual archaeological as well as epigraphic and iconographic data

Jewish Literacy in Roman Palestine Catherine Hezser, 2001 Since Judaism has always been seen as the quintessential religion of the book a high literacy rate amongst ancient Jews has usually been taken for granted Catherine

Hezser presents the first critical analysis of the various aspects of ancient Jewish literacy on the basis of all of the literary epigraphic and papyrological material published so far. Thereby she takes into consideration the analogies in Graeco Roman culture and models and theories developed in the social sciences. Rather than trying to determine the exact literacy rate amongst ancient Jews she examines the various types, social contexts and functions of writing and the relationship between writing and oral forms of discourse. Following recent social anthropological approaches to literacy the guiding question is who used what type of writing for which purpose. First Catherine Hezser examines the conditions which would enable or prevent the spread of literacy such as education and schools, the availability and costs of writing materials, religious interest in writing and books, the existence of archives and libraries and the question of multilingualism. Afterwards she looks at the different types of writing such as letters, documents, miscellaneous notes, inscriptions and graffiti and literary and magical texts until she finally draws conclusions about the ways in which the various sectors of the populace were able to participate in a literate society.

The Temple of Ramesses II in Abydos Ogden Goelet, Sameh Iskander, 2022-04-12. Of all the enormous monuments throughout Egypt and Nubia that Ramesses II the Great ca 1279-1212 BCE left behind, his temple at Abydos built early in his reign stands as one of his most elegant with its simple architectural layout and dramatic and graceful painted relief scenes. Though best known for its dramatic reliefs depicting the battle of Kadesh, the temple also offers a wealth of information about religious and social life in ancient Egypt. It reflects, for example, the strenuous efforts of the early Ramessides to reestablish the Osiris cult in Egypt and particularly at Abydos in the aftermath of the Amarna period. Building on the comprehensive photographic and epigraphic documentation of the temple presented in The Temple of Ramesses II at Abydos volumes 1 Wall Scenes and 2 Pillars, Niches and Miscellanea, volume 3 Architectural and Inscriptional Features offers a detailed analysis of the overall architectural layout and decorative program of the temple and its symbolism. This discussion approaches the religious history of the site through its archaeology, its inscriptions, both planned and secondary graffiti, and its situation in the complex religious landscape of Abydos. Of particular interest are the temple's role as a staging point for the great Osiris Festival and its procession among the most important of all ritual events in the Egyptian religious calendar during the Ramesside period, the promotion of an active, unbound form of Osiris, and the evidence for important cult activities that took place on the rooftop of the temple, the presence of which is documented today by the staircase that accessed it from Court B.
