the 1937 union victory of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and Joe Louis's 1937 and 1938 heavyweight championship fights. For the first time in history, black Americans emerged as cultural heroes and ambassadors, and many felt a new pride in citizenship. In this book, Gena Caponi Tabery chronicles these triumphs and shows how they shaped American music, sports, and dance of the 1930s and beyond. But she also shows how they emboldened ordinary African Americans to push for greater recognition and civil liberties, how cultural change preceded and catalyzed political action. Tracing the path of one symbolic gesture, the jump across cultural and disciplinary boundaries, Caponi Tabery provides a unique political, intellectual, and artistic analysis of the years immediately preceding World War II.

Tales from the Indiana High School Basketball Locker Room Jeff Washburn, 2013-08-01. It is often said that while Dr. James Naismith invented basketball in Massachusetts, the sport was raised and ultimately came of age in the high schools of Indiana, the state where politics, religion, and sweet corn fall in line behind the game played with the round orange ball. Tales from Indiana High School Basketball, now newly revised, centers on those special people who have played the game: their stories, their passion, their drive for excellence, their laughs, and their tears. This is a book about Lebanon schoolboy hero Rick Mount, the first prep basketball player ever featured on the cover of Sports Illustrated; it's about Gene Cato, the Indiana High School Athletic Association's former commissioner whose father, his high school coach, would not put the young scoring phenomenon into a game until his team's fans demanded it; it's also about Marion's Purple Reign, consecutive state championships in 1985, 1986, and 1987, when the Giants were the most important game on every opponent's schedule; John Wooden, Bobby Plump, Steve Alford, Damon Bailey; it's as easy for an Indiana high school basketball fan to roll the names off the tongue as it is to find the broadcast of a high school game on AM radio on any Friday night during an Indiana winter. Tales from Indiana High School Basketball is not so much about statistics and winning streaks as it is about the personalities and emotions of those who created a phenomenon that became a way of life in the Hoosier State.
