The Obligation of Empire James J. Hentz, 2021-12-14

Some of the nation's most respected scholars of international affairs examine the debates over U.S. grand strategy in light of U.S. security policies and interests in tactical regions around the world. The contributors begin by describing the four grand strategies currently competing for dominance of U.S. foreign policy: neo-isolationism argues that the United States should not become involved in conflicts outside specifically defined national interests; selective engagement proposes that the United States, despite its position as the world's only remaining superpower, should limit its involvement in foreign affairs; cooperative security advocates that the United States is not and should not act as an imperial country; primacy asserts that the United States is an empire and therefore it should conduct an expansive foreign policy. Focusing on regions that present new challenges to U.S. grand strategy such as Sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East, and Latin America, the contributors offer the most current examinations of U.S. policies and assess the effectiveness of competing strategies in each region. The Obligation of Empire offers an innovative set of foreign policy initiatives that explore the tensions between global agendas and regionalist approaches.

Contributors: Andrew J. Bacevich, Doug Bandow, Dale Davis, Thomas Donnelly, James J. Hentz, Clifford Kiracofe, Charles Kupchan, Jeffrey Stark, S. Frederick Starr, and Brantley Womack.

James J. Hentz, associate professor of international studies at the Virginia Military Institute, is the co-editor of New and Critical Security and Regionalism Beyond the Nation State.

Regionalization and Security in Southern Africa N. Poku, 2001-02-02

Once torn by ideological conflicts and the dominance of command economies, Southern Africa is now moving towards economic liberalism and openness. In general, the ascendancy of market economics is acknowledged by its governments, albeit with different degrees of enthusiasm. Theoretically rich and empirically engaging, this timely book offers a critical insight into the ensuing debate on regionalism and the process of regionalization in southern Africa.

Demilitarisation and Peace-Building in Southern Africa Peter Batchelor, 2018-12-17

First published in 2004, this work is based on a collaborative research project. This trilogy considers the dynamics of demilitarisation and peace building in southern Africa in the aftermath of major violent conflicts. The overall aim of the research is to support and facilitate the achievement of sustainable peace and human development in southern Africa by analysing demilitarisation and peace building processes in the region and identifying policy options and interventions for peace building. The central focus of the research is the extent to which demilitarisation following the termination of wars has contributed to broad processes of peace building in the affected region. Has the military in southern Africa downsized and refocused towards new roles? Has there been a peace dividend allowing more investment in economic and human development, thereby dealing with some of the root causes of conflict? Volume I provides a conceptual framework for the analysis of demilitarisation and peace building processes applicable particularly in the southern Africa context. This volume argues that a broad concept of peace building has to take into account economic political social and cultural factors at the local national and regional level Globalising the Regional, Regionalising the Global: Volume 35, Review of International Studies Rick Fawn,2009-04-30 A collection of leading international scholars examine the concept of regions from a range of perspectives and assess leading contemporary examples Africa's Challenge to International Relations Theory K. Dunn,T. Shaw,2001-02-20 Africa has been noticeably absent in international relations theory This new collection of essays by contemporary Africanists convincingly demonstrates the importance of the continent to every theoretical approach in international relations This collection breaks new ground in how we think about both international relations and Africa re examining such foundational concepts as sovereignty the state and power critically investigating the salience of realism neo liberalism liberalism in Africa and providing new thinking about regionalism security and identity Theory, Change and Southern Africa P. Vale,L. Swatuk,B. Oden,2001-06-26 As dramatic changes unfold throughout the world and the new millennium begins many in South Africa have begun to ask what next The scale and pace of change have led to a feeling of powerlessness How to cope with globalization regionalization a depleting ozone layer new diseases rampant militarization let alone unseen structures of influence and oppression like race class and gender While there is no shortage of theoretical models on offer many feel that they are inadequate for the case of Southern Africa In this book scholars of both international relations and Southern Africa present a wide variety of thoughts on the future of the reign and the place of theory in helping us to understand the bewildering array of events characterizing the late modern early twenty first century world This book marks a call to theory if Southern Africans are to overcome the divisive legacy of the past and to move toward a more prosperous and sustainable collective future theory must be placed at the centre of everyday life For it is our understanding of the world that shapes both it and us Neoliberalism, Civil Society and Security in Africa P. Carmody,2007-10-17 Free market policies have been in operation across Africa for the past 25 years yet they have failed to reverse deepening poverty This book explores with case studies why such policies continue to be implemented and the ways in which they have been reinvented by socialization depoliticization regionalization and securitization Beyond Settlement Vanessa E. Shields,Nicholas Baldwin,2008 Political ideological and ethnic conflicts have resulted in countless deaths the creation of millions of refugees the destruction of livelihoods and widespread human suffering to say nothing of the economic destruction This book examines institution building and security sector reform in conflict states by analyzing eighteen case studies covering eleven countries and six decades With regard to institution building there is an analysis of four democratic levers elections the legislature the executive and devolution focusing on how the structure and function of these political institutions contribute to the management and reduction of conflict and to the consolidation of fragile democracies Concerning security sector reform there is an analysis of how military police and intelligence institutions are reformed in states that are coming out of conflict states that are moving beyond settlement Some of the conflicts in this study are ongoing

Palestine while others have been resolved Spain South Africa while still others are in a peace building or immediate post conflict stage Northern Ireland

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994 In South Africa's changed political state how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy This book presents an overview of the security environment how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement force preparation force employment and force sustainability The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy recruitment and retention military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged HIV AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness In closing the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation spelling out some lessons learned The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil military relations of countries around the world

South Africa T. Davenport, C. Saunders, 2000-03-08 A survey of the whole of South African history from pre colonial times to 1999 suitable for serious students of the subject It handles all major topics with special focus on the dramatic changes that have occurred since 1990

The Liberal Model and Africa K. Good, 2001-12-17 This book critically examines the realities of liberal democracy its elitism and non accountability and its inequalities and injustices Participatory systems and movements whether in Athens seventeenth and nineteenth century England or South Africa 1970 1990 are more effective in satisfying the democratic aspirations of the people and in curtailing ambitious elites than what is passed off now as democracy By interrogating contemporary democratic regimes in the United States and in Botswana and South Africa the severe limitations and constraints inherent in liberal democracy are highlighted The need for a clear evaluation of what constituted democracy emerges as a powerful message of Kenneth Good's argument

Economic Recovery in Africa V. Makhan, 2002-05-17 African countries have experienced modest economic recovery during the 1990s But these countries are caught in a vicious circle in which the existing economic structure cannot generate enough savings and export earnings needed to finance their development and mount a sustained assault on widespread poverty Yet foreign aid has been cut back sharply and the continent receives only a trickle of foreign investment flows New policy regimes are now in place creating the right environment for external financing to make a major difference Development finance is one of the foremost challenges facing African countries and the international community in the new century

Cape Town After Apartheid Tony Roshan Samara, 2011 Reveals how liberal democracy and free market economics reproduce the inequalities of apartheid in Cape Town South Africa

Macroeconomic and Structural Adjustment

Policies in Zimbabwe Clever Mumbengegwi, 2001-12-17 The policy relevant analysis of this volume examines nearly twenty years of Zimbabwe's macroeconomic and structural adjustment experiences since independence Part One analyses the impact on economic growth inflation employment and labour markets Part Two deals with financial liberalization and the financial turmoil and currency crisis experienced in the wake of reforms Part Three examines trade liberalization and its impact on investment and income distribution Part Four gives sectoral perspectives on the agricultural manufacturing and health sectors

Demobilization in Sub-Saharan Africa K. Kingma, 2016-04-30 In the early and mid 1900s several African countries demobilized part of their armed forces This book analyzes in the light of Africa's large development challenges and continuing wars and insecurity the question of how demobilizations have contributed to peace and human development It also explores what we can learn from the different approaches that have been taken
