Movie House:

Movies at Home Kerry Segrave, 1999-01-01 The relationship of Hollywood and television initially turbulent has ultimately been profitable from the first sally in what was expected to be a war of attrition up through the soliciting of movies by major networks independent stations basic cable networks premium cable channels pay per view systems and even the corner video store When their initial efforts to acquire ownership interests in television outlets were thwarted Hollywood's major movie studios determined to withhold from the tube not only their films but also their actors no doubt in hopes of making the rival medium appear a weak substitute for cinema With ticket sales shrinking and television set purchases booming the studios erasing their last contemptuously drawn line in the sand grudgingly released their films to television and made a fortune

Movie Houses of Greater Newark Philip M. Read, 2013-07-15 For decades Newark and its environs have been lit up by the bright neon lights of grand movie palaces and theaters In the early 20th century stages that were originally built for vaudeville acts were turned over to silver screens and the flickering images from motion picture projectors This new technology ushered Hollywood movies to the East Coast and made cinema accessible for locals to enjoy Movie houses and palaces provided moviegoers a new type of viewing experience With ornate interiors and rich architecture these institutions offered their patrons a beautiful setting to watch classic films Over time these establishments evolved and began hosting burlesque shows and rock concerts Today many of these downtown landmarks have been demolished replaced or adaptively renovated into the modern multiplexes of today Images of the Paramount and the Mosque Theater help Movie Houses of Greater Newark tell the story of an era when going to the movies was an event

Our Movie Houses Norman O. Keim, 2008-06-09 Conventional screen histories tend to concentrate on New York City and Hollywood in chronicling the evolution of American cinema Notwithstanding both cities tremendous contribution Syracuse and Central New York also played a strategic yet little known role in early screen history In 1889 in Rochester New York George Eastman registered a patent for perforated celluloid film a development that would telescope the international race to record motion by means of photography to the immediate future In addition the first public film projection occurred in Syracuse New York in 1896 Norman O Keim and David Marc provide a highly readable and richly detailed account of the origins of American film in Central New York the colorful history of neighborhood theaters in Syracuse and the famous film personalities who got their start in the unlikely snow belt of New York State Lavishly illustrated this book will be treasured by both film buffs and Central New Yorkers

Repertory Movie Theaters of New York City Ben Davis, 2017-03-04 New York's repertory movie houses specialized in presenting films ignored by mainstream and art house audiences Curating vintage and undistributed movies from various countries they educated the public about the art of film at a time when the cinema had begun to be respected as an art form Operating on shoestring budgets in funky settings each repertory house had its own personality reflecting the preferences of the often eccentric proprietor While a few theaters existed in other cities New York offered the greatest number and variety Focusing on the active years from 1960 through 1994 this book documents the repertory movement in the context of economics and film culture Historic Movie Houses of Austin Susan Rittereiser, Michael C.
