Research Concepts in Human Behavior G. C. Helmstadter, 1970 Research Concepts in Human Behavior : Education, Psychology, Sociology Howard Kingsbury Smith, 1970 Methods in Cognitive Linguistics Monica Gonzalez-Marquez, Irene Mittelberg, Seana Coulson, Michael J. Spivey, 2007-06-28

Methods in Cognitive Linguistics is an introduction to empirical methodology for language researchers. Intended as a handbook to exploring the empirical dimension of the theoretical questions raised by Cognitive Linguistics, the volume presents guidelines for employing methods from a variety of intersecting disciplines, laying out different ways of gathering empirical evidence. The book is divided into five sections: Methods and Motivations provides the reader with the preliminary background in scientific methodology and statistics. The sections on Corpus and Discourse Analysis and Sign Language and Gesture describe different ways of investigating usage data. Behavioral Research describes methods for exploring mental representation, simulation, semantics, child language development, and the relationships between space and language and eye movements and cognition. Lastly, Neural Approaches introduces the reader to ERP research and to the computational modeling of language.

The Health Promoting School Bjarne Bruun Jensen, Stephen Clift, 2005-12-31. This book brings together recent international scholarship on the links between education and health and recent research evidence evaluating the processes and outcomes of health promoting schools initiatives. The book arises out of the Education and Health in Partnership conference which took place in Egmond aan Zee, the Netherlands, in September 2002. The key aims of the conference were to focus on effective partnership working for health in schools and to consider the evidence base for health promoting schools programmes. A significant outcome of the conference was the Egmond Agenda, which outlines the principal components for success in establishing health promoting schools. Contributors from across Europe, the United States, South Africa, and Australia present findings from national health promoting school projects with a particular emphasis on the promotion of mental health. The volume will be of interest to all education and health professionals interested in the contributions of schools in promoting health, empowerment, action competence, and wellbeing of young people.

Chapters are organized into four sections addressing concepts related to time, space, matter, and spirituality. Each chapter addresses multiple areas to present the reader with a deeply interconnected series of analytical and interpretive pieces that bring quantum storytelling to life.
