Screen Consciousness Robert Pepperell, Michael Punt, 2006 This collection of essays is driven by the question of how we know what we know and in particular how we can be certain about something even when we know it is an illusion The contention of the book is that this age old question has acquired a new urgency as certain trends in science technology and ideas have taken the discussion of consciousness out of the philosophy department and deposited it in the world at large As a consequence a body of literature from many fields has produced its own sets of concerns and methods under the rubric of Consciousness Studies Each contribution in this collection deals with issues and questions that lots of people have been thinking about for many years in many different contexts things such as the nature of film cinema world mind and so on Those of us fascinated by these diverse yet related issues may have often felt we were working in a disciplinary no man s land Now suddenly it seems with Consciousness Studies we have a coherent intellectual home albeit one that is self consciously eclectic The essays included in Screen Consciousness Cinema Mind and World are from a range of disciplines art philosophy film theory anthropology and technology studies each represented by significant international figures and each concerned with how their field is being transformed by the new discipline of Consciousness Studies Together they attempt to reconcile the oncoming rush of new data from science and technology about how we know what we know with the insights gained from the long view of history philosophy and art Each of the contributions seeks to interpose Consciousness Studies between film and mind where for cultural theorists psychoanalysis had traditionally stood This is more than simply updating Film Studies or nodding in the direction of cognitive film theory Film with all its sentient sensuous and social qualities is a common reference point between all these forces and Consciousness Studies provides the intellectual impetus for this book to revisit familiar problems with fresh insight

Robot Ethics Patrick Lin, Keith Abney, George A. Bekey, 2014-01-10 Prominent experts from science and the humanities explore issues in robot ethics that range from sex to war Robots today serve in many roles from entertainer to educator to executioner As robotics technology advances ethical concerns become more pressing Should robots be programmed to follow a code of ethics if this is even possible Are there risks in forming emotional bonds with robots How might society and ethics change with robotics This volume is the first book to bring together prominent scholars and experts from both science and the humanities to explore these and other questions in this emerging field Starting with an overview of the issues and relevant ethical theories the topics flow naturally from the possibility of programming robot ethics to the ethical use of military robots in war to legal and policy questions including liability and privacy concerns The contributors then turn to human robot emotional relationships examining the ethical implications of robots as sexual partners caregivers and servants Finally they explore the possibility that robots whether biological computational hybrids or pure machines should be given rights or moral consideration Ethics is often slow to catch up with technological developments This authoritative and accessible volume fills a gap in both scholarly literature and policy discussion offering an impressive collection of expert analyses of the most crucial topics in this increasingly important field Saudi Arabia Geoff Simons,2016-01-20 Simons describes the current human rights situation in Saudi Arabia with reference to corruption the treatment of dissidents the penal system the suppression of women slavery and other aspects A detailed history from pre Islamic times to the present is provided with attention to the influence of Mohammed the Saudi ascendancy the role of the West the discovery of oil and the wars in the region Finally attention is given to the various economic political religious problems that today face the Saudi regime and to the Saudi response Cyborg Cinema and Contemporary Subjectivity S. breaks new ground in providing an in depth critical assessment of cyborg cinema arguing that it remains one of the most intriguing and provocative cycles to have emerged in contemporary screen culture Tracing the cinematic cyborg s transition over the last two decades and evaluating the theoretical significance attributed to this figure it asks what relevance the cyborg continues to have in terms of understanding human identity our relationship to technology and to one another

Living Machines Tony J. Prescott,Nathan Lepora,Paul F. M. J. Rees,2013-05-09 First broadcast in the not too distant past on a television station in Minnesota Mystery Science Theater 3000 soon grew out of its humble beginnings and found a new home on cable television This simple show about a man and two robots forced to watch bad movies became a cult classic and episodes of the series continue to be packaged in DVD collections to this day Before its final run the show received Emmy nominations and a Peabody award for Television excellence and in 2007 Time magazine declared MST3K one of The 100 Best Shows of All Time In Reading Mystery Science Theater 3000 Critical Approaches Shelley S Rees presents a collection of essays that examines the complex relationship between narrative and audience constructed by this baffling but beloved television show Invoking literary theory cultural criticism pedagogy feminist criticism humor theory rhetorical analysis and film and media studies these essays affirm the show s narrative and rhetorical intricacy The first section Rhetoric and the Empowered Audience addresses MST3K s function as an exercise in rhetorical resistance Part Two Mystery Science Theater 3000 and Genre analyzes MST3K through distinct generic traditions including humor studies traditional science fiction tropes and the B movie Finally the third section addresses postmodern and intertextual readings of the show By providing an academic treatment of an iconic television phenomenon these essays argue that Mystery Science Theater 3000 is worthy of serious scholarly attention Though aimed at a discerning readership of academics this collection will also appeal to the intellectual nature of the show s well educated audience Sublime Dreams of Living Machines Minsoo Kang,2011-02-14

From the dawn of European civilization to the twentieth century the automaton better known today as the robot has captured the Western imagination and provided a vital lens into the nature of humanity Historian Minsoo Kang argues that to properly understand the human as machine and the human as fundamentally different from machine we must trace the origins of these ideas and examine how they were transformed by intellectual cultural and artistic appearances of the automaton throughout the history of the West Kang tracks the first appearance of the automaton in ancient myths through the medieval and Renaissance periods marks the proliferation of the automaton as a central intellectual concept in the Scientific Revolution and the subsequent backlash during the Enlightenment and details appearances in Romantic literature and the introduction of the living machine in the Industrial Age He concludes with a reflection on the destructive confrontation between humanity and machinery in the modern era and the reverberations of the humanity machinery theme today Sublime Dreams of Living Machines is an ambitious historical exploration and at heart an attempt to fully elucidate the rich and varied ways we have utilized our most uncanny creations to explore essential questions about ourselves Neuroscience and Religion Volney P. Gay,2009-08-16 For religious persons the notion of human being is tied inextricably to the notion of God or the gods and turns on this question what is human being How did we with our almost infinite capacities for thought change and domination come to be Imbued with powers far beyond any other animal humans are too faulty to be considered gods themselves Yet the idea of God or the gods appears in all distinctive human cultures it names the other pole of human it designates a being who realizes perfectly our imperfectly realized nature With the rise of new sciences come ancient anxieties about how we should define human being In the nineteenth century electricity and magnetism fascinated experts and captivated the lay public In the twenty first century advances in neuroscience open up vast new possibilities of mimicking and perhaps emulating human being In this book twelve scholars and scientists ask what if anything distinguishes Brain from Mind and Mind from Self and Soul Visions Michio Kaku,1999-03-04 This volume collects the research of today s scientists to explore the possibilities of the science of tomorrow Among the issues covered are how decoding DNA will allow us to alter and reshape our genetic heritage and how quantum physicists will harness the energy of the Universe

Iraq- Primus Inter Pariahs G. Simons,1999-06-25 The book considers the ethical credentials of the United States in branding various countries pariah states and describes the background to the Iraq Question the role of Saddam the genocidal sanctions regime etc A detailed chronology of 1997 98 US Iraq weapons inspections crisis is given prior to a profile of the subsequent UN Iraqi settlement and its aftermath The Vietnam Syndrome G. Simons,1997-10-27 This book focuses on the Vietnam Syndrome the effects for the United States of the American defeat in the Vietnam War It argues that a full understanding of the Syndrome requires a proper appreciation of key shaping elements in Vietnamese and American history Attention is given to the racial genocide that attended the birth of the United States to US imperialism and capitalism and to the Cold War framework The nature of America as a plutocracy is emphasised followed by profiles of policy options and three specific issues post war Vietnam El Salvador and Iraq Perils of Progress John Ashton,Ronald S. Laura,1999 This work offers a challenge to our society s largely unquestioning commitment to new technologies and practical advice on how to deal with their adverse effects While modern technologies have no doubt brought many benefits the authors argue that our confidence in them is seriously misplaced They consider an array of health and environmental issues including the damaging effects on human health of certain microwaves including those from mobile phones and television transmission towers the effects of aluminium in food and other consumer products and the evidence that the acids in margarines may be more detrimental to health than butter
