The Security Environment in the Asia-Pacific, 2000 The Security Environment in the Asia-Pacific 2000
Pacific Asia rivals the Middle East and South Asia as the most insecure region on earth today This timely volume presents a survey of major issues confronting the Asia Pacific region as it enters the new millennium ASEAN's role in collective security concerns over China and the disputed territories in the South China Sea conflict on the Korean peninsula Japan's role in the post Cold War security order United States interests in Pacific security and the relationship between Asian and European countries and governmental organizations The Changing Security Environment in the Asia Pacific Region L. Benny Moerdani, 1994 Asia-Pacific Security Joanne Wallis, Andrew Carr, 2016-10-01 This new textbook gathers an international roster of top security studies scholars to provide an overview of Asia Pacific's international relations and pressing contemporary security issues It is a suitable introduction for undergraduate and masters students use in international relations and security studies courses Merging a strong theoretical component with rich contemporary and historical empirical examples Asia Pacific Security examines the region's key players and challenges as well as a spectrum of proposed solutions for improving regional stability Major topics include in depth looks at the United States relationship with China Security concerns presented by small and microstates the region's largest group of nations threats posed by terrorism and insurgency the region's accelerating arms race and the potential for an Asian war the possible roles of multilateralism security communities and human security as part of solutions to regional problems Comprehensive Security in Asia, 2000-04-27 The term comprehensive security was first used by the late Japanese prime minister Ohira but the concept as such can be traced back to Japanese thinking on security during the fifties Its meaning goes far beyond requirements of military defence against a particular enemy and stresses the need to take into account other aspects vital to national stability food energy environment communication and social security While not denying the importance of military security it explicitly encompasses a wide range of other aspects the search for environmental security for instance which requires cooperation with other countries including hypothetical enemies The concept stresses the need for confidence building methods as a requirement for its attainment and pertains to issues such as preventive diplomacy energy security second order cybernetics greater transparency of international financial markets as means to enhance overall stability It is a notion that goes beyond simplifications such as us and them Since the word has been first coined in Japan it has caught on in other Asian countries as well It has become clear that the concept is particularly suited for a continent where large and powerful countries such as China Korea Japan and Indonesia are unlikely to enter into close cooperation along the model of the European Union In short in this volume a team of scholars from Asia Europe and the United States provide clear analyses of issues vital to Asian politics an important contribution to one of the key issues of contemporary Asian politics The Security Environment of the Asia Pacific Region at the Beginning of the 21st Century and Japan's New Security Strategy

Koichiro Bansho, 2000 After the end of the Cold War a great number of changes occurred in the Asia Pacific region not only politically and economically but also within the security environment In some ways the end of the Cold War has not been as kind to the Asia Pacific region as it was to most of Europe However it is obviously moving towards a new dimension For Japan's security strategy to cope with those changes long range planning and more drastic changes are needed This paper will evaluate strategic changes in the coming new century and to discuss effective measures to facilitate the peace and stability stressing the significance of the Japan U S security relationship and a possible security framework for the region Finally I will discuss Japan's new security strategy its basic concepts and the role of the Japan's Self Defense Forces

Australian Security After 9/11 Derek McDougall, 2020-07-24

Debates on security became more intense following the unanticipated end of the Cold War conflict and took on added force after the terrorist attacks on the US on September 11 2001 Generally viewed as a part of the wider West despite its separation by enormous geographical distances from both Europe and the United States Australia is a regional power in its own right It has been an active and loyal member of the US led coalitions of the willing first in Afghanistan and then in Iraq The terrorist attacks in Bali one year after the attacks in the United States brought home to Australia the direct nature of the new global terrorist threats to its own security This volume brings together leading experts on international security and Australia's foreign and security policies in a critical examination of Australia's adaptations to the new security challenges It is the first in depth and comprehensive analysis of Australia's defence and security policies as well as the country's role in countering regional and global challenges to international security since the war on terrorism began

The Transformation of Security in the Asia/Pacific Region Desmond Ball, 2013-10-14

The security architecture of the Asia Pacific region is in a profound transformation Such changes are not without problems which are discussed here

The Security Environment in the Asia-Pacific Sanu Kainikara, RAAF Air Power Development Centre, 2012

Post 2008 the international community has once again experienced a period of heightened volatility with a number of nations struggling to contain the fall out of the global financial crisis Although comparatively less affected than some European nations the Asia Pacific also is witnessing a certain amount of instability Australia as a trading nation is not immune to these changes The undeniable fact is that the security environment in the Asia Pacific will be impacted by the economic stability or otherwise of its constituent nations Australia's security and prosperity is underwritten by its economic stability and its ability to develop its trade and commerce further This can only be ensured through making its trade routes especially the sea lanes through which its trade flourishes safe and open In other words Australia's continued security is dependent on the safety and security of the ocean commons It is therefore not surprising that Australia's defence strategy has always been built on a national maritime strategy whether articulated in so many words or not This paper examines Australia's strategic interests and outlook from a strategic perspective and puts forward some views on its security perceptions In contextualising Australia's maritime strategy within the ongoing developments in the Asia Pacific region this paper serves a useful purpose P iv China, India, Japan and the Security of Southeast Asia Regional Strategic Studies Programme (Institute of Southeast Asian Studies),1993 This volume presents the findings of a research project organized by the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies in 1989 to look specifically into the impact of the end of the Cold War on regional security It is one of the few attempts that have been made to understand the complex nature of relations between the major Asian powers and Southeast Asia in the context of their historical ambitions and current strategic imperatives The eleven contributors are a unique combination of regional and international expertise in the field of strategic analysis representing all the major interested parties in the wider Asia Pacific environment Their chapters deal not only with China India and Japan but also with the central role of ASEAN particularly its largest member Indonesia and the rapidly changing profile of Vietnam BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies ,2000* The Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies established in 1995 is a regional study conference and research center with a non warfighting mission to enhance cooperation and build relationships through mutual understanding and study of comprehensive security issues among military and civilian representatives of the United States and other Asia Pacific nations The center provides a focal point where national officials decision makers and policy makers can gather to exchange ideas explore pressing issues and achieve a greater understanding of the challenges that shape the security environment of the Asia Pacific region Its focus is on the increasingly complex interrelationships of the military economic political and diplomatic policies relevant to regional security issues Maritime Security between China and Southeast Asia Liselotte Odgaard,2017-03-02 Arguing that security relations between China and Southeast Asia are profoundly affected by disputes over maritime space and territory in the South China Sea the author demonstrates that the primacy of strategic competition over strategic partnerships promotes the emergence of a structure of deterrence encouraging South East Asia to side with the United States to balance the military power of China Combining the concepts of international disputes and order the book establishes a framework designed to focus on periods of transition where international regulatory mechanisms are out of step with developments in the security environments of states Features include Substantial evidence that strategic competition between the United States China and South East Asia promotes stability A comprehensive account of military diplomatic economic historical and legal aspects of security environments of states Suitable for scholars and graduate students of international relations international law security studies conflict management and regionalism it will also be invaluable supplementary reading for undergraduate courses Asia-Pacific Security William Tow,Mark Thomson,Yoshinobu Yamamoto,Satu Limaye,2007-05-31 The aim of this book is to explore the implications stemming from the recent upgrading of Australia Japan US security interactions and the implications for Asia Pacific regional security that these represent While a fully functioning trilateral security alliance binding Australia Japan and the United States is unlikely to materialise or Cold War Frontiers in the Asia-Pacific Kimie Hara, 2006-12-13 After World War II many regional conflicts emerged in the Asia Pacific such as the divided Korean peninsula the Cross Taiwan Strait the Northern Territories Southern Kuriles Takeshima Dokdo Senkaku Diaoyu and the Spratly Nansha islands problems These and other disputes such as the Okinawa problem in relation to the US military presence in the region all share an important common foundation in the post war disposition of Japan particularly the 1951 Peace Treaty Signed by forty nine countries in San Francisco this multilateral treaty significantly shaped the post war international order in the region and with its associated security arrangements laid the foundation for the regional Cold War structure the San Francisco System This book examines the history and contemporary implications of the San Francisco System with particular focus on its frontier problems Drawing on extensive archival research and in depth analysis Kimie Hara uncovers key links between the regional problems in the Asia Pacific and their underlying association with Japan and explores the clues for their future resolution within the multilateral context in which they originated Cold War Frontiers in the Asia Pacific will appeal to students and scholars interested in international relations of the Asia Pacific region diplomatic history and Japanese diplomacy New Zealand National Security Carl Bradley, William Hoverd, Nick Nelson, 2020-04-19 In an interrelated and increasingly complex dynamic and globalised security environment New Zealand faces a range of complex and multifaceted non traditional threats They range from trade insecurity to terrorism and transnational crime disputes over the control and exploitation of resources and tensions linked to ideological cultural and religious differences The volume s contributors include local and international academics alongside experts who have extensive New Zealand security sector expertise in defence diplomacy national security coordination intelligence policing trade security and bordermanagement New Zealand National Security Challenges Trends and Issues situates New Zealand within its broader political and regional security context and the various great and minor power tensions occurring within the Asia Pacific and South Pacific regions It looks at how to protect New Zealand s border and the zones where its interests meet the world it examines alternative ways of thinking and doing New Zealand s national security and it looks at looming national security questions It aims to provide New Zealanders with a critical awareness of the various salient security trends challenges and opportunities to initiate a whole of society discussion of security US Security Engagement with Southeast Asia during the Clinton and Bush Pham Cao Cuong, 2025-02-01 This book examines Southeast Asia s role in US security policy toward the region during the Bill Clinton and George W Bush administrations It delves into the US security approach toward regional institutions like ASEAN and the ARF and hones in on specific ASEAN member states including the Philippines Thailand Singapore Indonesia and Malaysia as well as the interaction between the US and these countries regarding security Despite Southeast Asia not being a primary priority in US foreign policy since the end of the Cold War the region has consistently held significance in Washington s security strategy Given the goal of establishing a New Pacific Community it is critical for the United States to ensure a peaceful and stable Southeast Asia thereby avoiding the emergence of any potential future rivals to the United States To effectively implement the Clinton Doctrine s security pillar the United States has taken measures such as providing military aid and increasing military activities with ASEAN member countries During President George W Bush s administration Southeast Asia gained increased significance for the United States economically and geostrategically Since September 11 2001 Southeast Asia has emerged as a crucial player in the US security strategy The US recognises the region as a second front in its global war on terrorism Furthermore the US has been actively enhancing its ties with ASEAN and the ARF while prioritising the development of bilateral relations with crucial ASEAN member countries including the Philippines Thailand Singapore Indonesia and Malaysia Looking ahead the United States aims to ensure that no potential competitors arise in the region that could challenge its future dominance When examining the dynamics between the US and Southeast Asia it becomes evident that the influence of China has consistently been significant During the 1990s and 2000s China played an important role in shaping US security policy in the region and influencing the relationship between the US and ASEAN member countries The rise of China s economic and military power compelled the United States to shift its regional policy towards cooperation and competition to increase its interests in Southeast Asia Meanwhile the US security relationship with each ASEAN member country has many nuances depending on each country s role and interests towards the US To provide readers with a comprehensive perspective and enhance their understanding of US security policy towards the Southeast Asia region particularly in light of the growing emphasis on the Indo Pacific region with Southeast Asia at its core we would like to introduce the book US Security Engagement with Southeast Asia during the Clinton and Bush Administrations authored by Pham Cao Cuong This research comprehensively analyses the relationship between the United States and Southeast Asia It is included in the research work catalogue on US President Bill Clinton It can be found at the William J Clinton Library and Museum in the Clinton Presidential Park and Centre Little Rock Arkansas Furthermore this research work on terrorism is included in the Bibliography Terrorism by Region Southeast Asia compiled and selected by the Terrorism Research Initiative Terrorism Research Centre TRC The book highlights the importance of studying the history of US security policy towards Southeast Asia and the security relations between the US and ASEAN member countries Research on the security relations between the US and this region indicates that historical issues significantly impact the US s relations with the area The foundations that the US has established in Southeast Asia play a crucial role in shaping these relations
