Seeing The Unspeakable The Art Of Kara Walker:

Seeing the Unspeakable Gwendolyn DuBois Shaw, 2004-12-06 One of the youngest recipients of a MacArthur genius grant Kara Walker an African American artist is best known for her iconic often life size black and white silhouetted figures arranged in unsettling scenes on gallery walls These visually arresting narratives draw viewers into a dialogue about the dynamics of race sexuality and violence in both the antebellum South and contemporary culture Walker s work has been featured in exhibits around the world and in American museums including the Museum of Modern Art the Guggenheim and the Whitney At the same time her ideologically provocative images have drawn vociferous criticism from several senior African American artists and a number of her pieces have been pulled from exhibits amid protests against their disturbing representations Seeing the Unspeakable provides a sustained consideration of the controversial art of Kara Walker Examining Walker s striking silhouettes evocative gouache drawings and dynamic prints Gwendolyn DuBois Shaw analyzes the inspiration for and reception of four of Walker s pieces The End of Uncle Tom and the Grand Allegorical Tableau of Eva in Heaven John Brown A Means to an End and Cut She offers an overview of Walker s life and career and contextualizes her art within the history of African American visual culture and in relation to the work of contemporary artists including Faith Ringgold Carrie Mae Weems and Michael Ray Charles Shaw describes how Walker deliberately challenges viewers sensibilities with radically de sentimentalized images of slavery and racial stereotypes This book reveals a powerful artist who is questioning rather than accepting the ideas and strategies of social responsibility that her parents generation fought to establish during the civil rights era By exploiting the racist icons of the past Walker forces viewers to see the unspeakable aspects of America s racist past and conflicted present

Kara Walker Vanina Gere, 2022-11-22 Selected texts that survey the full range of Kara Walker s artistic practice emphasizing the work itself rather than the debates and controversies around it Kara Walker s work and its borrowings from an iconography linked to the fantasized and travestied history of American chattel slavery has been theorized and critiqued in countless texts throughout her career Exegeses of her work have been shaped by the numerous debates on the very debates it generated How then do we approach a work that has been covered by such thick theoretical layers This collection is unique in emphasizing Walker s work itself rather than the controversies surrounding it These essays and interviews survey Walker s artistic practice from her early works in the 1990s through her most recent ones from her famous silhouette projects to her lesser known drawings and lantern shows The texts by art historians curators critics scholars and writers engage scrupulously with Walker s pieces as material works of art putting them in the context of the sociopolitical and cultural environments that shape but never determine them They include an interview of the artist by Thelma Golden of the Studio Museum in Harlem an essay in the form of a lexicon cataloguing key elements in Walker s art by curator Yasmin Raymond and an essay by volume editor Vanina G r on Walker s use of historical archives Finally novelist Zadie Smith considers Walker s public art as counter propositions to colonial monuments and as a

Design and Visual Culture from the Bauhaus to Contemporary Art Edit Tóth,2018-05-16 This book complements the more textually based Bauhaus scholarship with a practice oriented and creative interpretive method which makes it possible to consider Bauhaus related works in an unconventional light Edit Toth argues that focusing on the functionalist approach of the Bauhaus has hindered scholars from properly understanding its design work With a global scope and under studied topics the book advances current scholarly discussions concerning the relationship between image technologies and the body by calling attention to the materiality of image production and strategies of re channeling image culture into material processes and physical body space the space of dimensionality and everyday activity

Archibald Motley Jr. and Racial Reinvention Phoebe Wolfskill,2017-08-10 An essential African American artist of his era Archibald Motley Jr created paintings of black Chicago that aligned him with the revisionist aims of the New Negro Renaissance Yet Motley s approach to constructing a New Negro a dignified figure both accomplished and worthy of respect reflected the challenges faced by African American artists working on the project of racial reinvention and uplift Phoebe Wolfskill demonstrates how Motley s art embodied the tenuous nature of the Black Renaissance and the wide range of ideas that structured it Focusing on key works in Motley s oeuvre Wolfskill reveals the artist s complexity and the variety of influences that informed his work Motley s paintings suggest that the racist problematic image of the Old Negro was not a relic of the past but an influence that pervaded the Black Renaissance Exploring Motley in relation to works by notable black and non black contemporaries Wolfskill reinterprets Motley s oeuvre as part of a broad effort to define American cultural identity through race class gender religion and regional affiliation

Remixing the Civil War Thomas J. Brown, 2011-11-15 In 1961 the historian and poet Robert Penn Warren remarked that the Civil War is for the American imagination the great single event of our history This volume reconsiders whether fifty years later Warren's claim still holds true Essays from specialists in art literature and history examine how contemporary culture represents and interprets the Civil War They look at the works of more than thirty artists and writers as well as multiple movements political and social to reveal the many and provocative ways in which Americans engage the Civil War today The book includes chapters on the place of Abraham Lincoln in Barack Obama's presidential campaign controversies over the symbolism of the Confederate flag and the proliferation of Juneteenth observances Remixing the Civil War pays special attention to the works of African Americans and white southerners for whom the Civil War was a revolutionary and defining moment Such prominent scholars as Robert H Brinkmeyer Jr W Fitzhugh Brundage Kirk Savage and Elizabeth Young explore the works of major artists and lesser known figures including Bobbie Ann Mason Kara Walker Dario Robleto and John Huddleston The authors find that Americans today openly and playfully manipulate familiar images of the Civil War to explore the malleability and permeability of traditional social categories like national identity gender and race This collection continues the conversation Warren began fifty years ago although taking it in unorthodox and challenging directions to offer fresh and stimulating perspectives on the war's presence in the collective imagination of the nation On the Sleeve of the Visual Alessandra Raengo, 2013 An investigation of race and the ontology of the visual Critical Race Theory and Bamboozled Alessandra Raengo, 2016-10-20 An introduction to Critical Race Theory through a close analysis of Spike Lee's film Bamboozled Laughing Fit to Kill Glenda Carpio, 2008-07-01 Reassessing the meaning of black humor and dark satire Glenda Carpio traces a tradition in which black American humorists innovated sharp edged occasionally gruesome and sometimes obscene modes of surrealist humor to represent the brutality of chattel slavery and its legacy in contemporary culture World Cinema and the Visual Arts David Gallagher, 2013-10-15 World Cinema and the Visual Arts combines new analyses of two subjects of ongoing research in the field of humanities cinema and the visual arts Originally presented at the American Comparative Literature Association Conference 2010 in New Orleans the papers of this volume have been expanded and extended from their original points of enquiry and analyse films from the diverse cultural traditions of China Germany the United Kingdom America Northern Ireland and India The Art of Remembering Gwendolyn DuBois Shaw, 2024-03-01 Gwendolyn DuBois Shaw explores African American art and representation from the height of the British colonial period to the present seeking out the recovery of facts and narratives of African American creativity and self representation that have been purposefully set aside actively ignored and disremembered Incomplete Alix Beeston, Stefan Solomon, 2023-06-06 This field defining collection establishes unfinished film projects abandoned interrupted lost or open ended as rich and underappreciated resources for feminist film and media studies In deeply researched and creatively conceived chapters scholars join with film practitioners in approaching the unfinished film as an ideal site for revealing the lived experiences practical conditions and institutional realities of women s film production across historical periods and national borders Incomplete recovers projects and practices marginalized in film industries and scholarship alike while also showing how feminist filmmakers have cultivated incompleteness as an aesthetic strategy Objects of loss and of possibility incomplete films raise profound historiographical and ethical questions about the always unfinished project of film history film spectatorship and film studies Kitsch Monica Kjellman-Chapin, 2020-05-15 Kitsch the mere word evokes mental images of cutesy collectibles treacly trinkets sweetly sentimental scenes thematically trite tabletop tchotchkes or perhaps anemic appropriations of canonical works of art Frequently dismissed as facile lowbrow or one off throwaway aesthetics kitsch elicits responses that range from the sardonic smirk laced with derision to the grin glimmering with the indulgence in a guilty pleasure Kitsch however is surprisingly mobile and complex as evidenced by its recent renewal as kitschy cool This ambiguity not only allows it to gesture towards a disparate array of artifacts and ideations but also to be pushed and pulled in various applicatory directions The contributors to this collection address the problem of how and what kitsch might signify and approach the kitsch question as a complex nuanced interrogative They consider kitsch in relation to its historical association with pseudo art its theoretical underpinnings and connections to class the deliberate mobilization of kitsch in the work of specific artists kitsch as a form of practice as well as kitsch s traffic with race patriotism and postmodernism The essays in this collection necessarily cut a wide interpretative path mapping the terrain of the phenomenon of kitsch historically conceptually practically in multivocal ways befitting the polysemous creature that is kitsch itself Drawing upon art history popular culture studies philosophy and visual culture the authors responses to the big question of kitsch move well beyond habitual artificial boundaries far beyond the simple binaries of good bad high low elite popular or art kitsch into far more complex challenging and ultimately rewarding territory Slavery and the Post-Black Imagination Bertram D. Ashe, Ilka Saal, 2020-01-06 Honorable Mention for the 2022 Modern Language Association Prize for an Edited Collection Interrogates how artists have created new ways to imagine the past of American slavery From Kara Walker s hellscape antebellum silhouettes to Paul Beatty s bizarre twist on slavery in The Sellout and from Colson Whitehead s literal Underground Railroad to Jordan Peele s body snatching Get Out this volume offers commentary on contemporary artistic works that present like musical deep cuts some challenging alternate takes on American slavery These artists deliberately confront and negotiate the psychic and representational legacies of slavery to imagine possibilities and change The essays in this volume explore the conceptions of freedom and blackness that undergird these narratives critically examining how artists growing up in the post Civil Rights era have nuanced slavery in a way that is distinctly different from the first wave of neo slave narratives that emerged from the Civil Rights and Black Power Movements Slavery and the Post Black Imagination positions post blackness as a productive category of analysis that brings into sharp focus recent developments in black cultural productions across various media These ten essays investigate how millennial black cultural productions trouble long held notions of blackness by challenging limiting scripts They interrogate political as well as formal interventions into established discourses to demonstrate how explorations of black identities frequently go hand in hand with the purposeful refiguring of slavery s prevailing tropes narratives and images

Mobility and Identity in US Genre Painting Lacey Baradel, 2020-12-30 This book examines the portrayal of themes of boundary crossing itinerancy relocation and displacement in US genre paintings during the second half of the long nineteenth century c 1860 1910 Through four diachronic case studies the book reveals how the high stakes politics of mobility and identity during this period informed the production and reception of works of art by Eastman Johnson 1824 1906 Enoch Wood Perry Jr 1831 1915 Thomas Hovenden 1840 95 and John Sloan 1871 1951 It also complicates art history s canonical understandings of genre painting as a category that seeks to reinforce social hierarchies and emphasize more rooted connections to place by instead privileging portrayals of social flux and geographic instability The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history literature American studies and cultural geography

Black Frankenstein Elizabeth Young, 2008-08-10 For all the scholarship devoted to Mary Shelley s English novel Frankenstein there has been surprisingly little attention paid to its role in American culture and virtually none to its racial resonances in the United States In Black Frankenstein Elizabeth Young identifies and interprets the figure of a black American Frankenstein monster as it appears with surprising frequency throughout nineteenth and twentieth century U S culture in fiction film essays oratory painting and other media and in works by both whites and African Americans Black Frankenstein stories Young argues effect four kinds of racial critique they humanize the slave they explain if not justify black violence they condemn the slaveowner and they expose the instability of white power The black Frankenstein s monster has served as a powerful metaphor for reinforcing racial hierarchy and as an even more powerful metaphor for shaping anti racist critique Illuminating the power of parody and reappropriation Black Frankenstein tells the story of a metaphor that continues to matter to literature culture aesthetics and politics
