Patronage In Thirteenthcentury Constantinople:

Patronage in Thirteenth-century Constantinople Hugo Buchthal,Hans Belting,1978 Patronage in thirteenth-century constantinople : an antelier of late Byzantine book illumination and calligraphy Hugo Buchthal,1978 Art and Identity in Thirteenth-Century Byzantium Antony Eastmond,2017-03-02 The church of Hagia Sophia in Trebizond built by the emperor Manuel I Grand Komnenos 1238 63 in the aftermath of the fall of Constantinople to the Fourth Crusade is the finest surviving Byzantine imperial monument of its period Art and Identity in Thirteenth Century Byzantium is the first investigation of the church in more than thirty years and is extensively illustrated in colour and black and white with many images that have never previously been published Antony Eastmond examines the architectural sculptural and painted decorations of the church placing them in the context of contemporary developments elsewhere in the Byzantine world in Seljuq Anatolia and among the Caucasian neighbours of Trebizond Knowledge of this area has been transformed in the last twenty years following the collapse of the Soviet Union The new evidence that has emerged enables a radically different interpretation of the church to be reached and raises questions of cultural interchange on the borders of the Christian and Muslim worlds of eastern Anatolia the Caucasus and Persia This study uses the church and its decoration to examine questions of Byzantine identity and imperial ideology in the thirteenth century This is central to any understanding of the period as the fall of Constantinople in 1204 divided the Byzantine empire and forced the successor states in Nicaea Epiros and Trebizond to redefine their concepts of empire in exile Art is here exploited as significant historical evidence for the nature of imperial power in a contested empire It is suggested that imperial identity was determined as much by craftsmen and expectations of imperial power as by the emperor s decree and that this was a credible alternative Byzantine identity to that developed in the empire of Nicaea The Byzantine Aristocracy, IX to XIII Centuries Michael Angold,1984

Studies in Coptic Culture Mariam Ayad,2016-05-02 Coptic contributions to the formative theological debates of Christianity have long been recognized Less well known are other equally valuable Coptic contributions to the transmission and preservation of technical and scientific knowledge and a full understanding of how Egypt s Copts survived and interacted with the country s majority population over the centuries Studies in Coptic Culture attempts to examine these issues from divergent perspectives Through the careful examination of select case studies that range in date from the earliest phases of Coptic culture to the present day twelve international scholars address issues of cultural transmission cross cultural perception representation and inter faith interaction Their approaches are as varied as their individual disciplines covering literary criticism textual studies and comparative literature as well as art historical archaeo botanical and historical research methods The divergent perspectives and methods presented in this volume will provide a fuller picture of what it meant to be Coptic in centuries past and prompt further research and scholarship into these subjects Illuminated Prophet Books: A Study of Byzantine Manuscripts of the Major and Minor Prophets John Lowden,1988 Miniature Painting in the Armenian Kingdom of Cilicia from the Twelfth to the Fourteenth Century Sirarpie Der Nersessian, 1993 Sirarpie Der Nersessian's scholarship has influenced the understanding of Armenian art and its Byzantine context. These two volumes are the culmination of six decades devoted to the exploration of Armenian art and reflect a deep knowledge of the manuscripts and their creators.

Women and Religious Life in Byzantium Alice-Mary Talbot, 2024-10-28 After an introductory general essay on the life cycle and status of women in Byzantine society, this volume focuses on female religious life with particular emphasis on the role of convents as spiritual sanctuary, refuge for women in need or provider of charitable services. Several essays compare Byzantine nunneries with male monasteries, pointing out the relatively small size and lack of intellectual and artistic activity in convents and more rigorous rules of enclosure and stability. Such phenomena as double monasteries, the conversion of a monastery to a nunnery and women's economic and spiritual ties with Mount Athos are also examined. Other articles investigate issues of female sanctity and sanctification, analyzing types of women saints, women during the era of iconoclasm and the role of the family in promoting the cult of a holy woman. In addition, there are studies on healing shrines in Constantinople in the middle Byzantine and Palaiologan periods and the resurgence of hagiographical writing in the late Byzantine era, particularly the reworking of the vitae of older saints.

Heavenly Sustenance in Patristic Texts and Byzantine Iconography Elena Ene D-Vasilescu, 2018-10-22 This book examines ideas of spiritual nourishment as maintained chiefly by Patristic theologians, those who lived in Byzantium. It shows how a particular type of Byzantine frescoes and icons illustrated the views of Patristic thinkers on the connections between the heavenly and the earthly worlds. The author explores the occurrence and geographical distribution of this new type of iconography that manifested itself in representations concerned with the human body and argues that these were a reaction to docetist ideas. The volume also investigates the diffusion of saints' cults and demonstrates that this took place on a North-South axis as their veneration began in Byzantium and gradually reached the northern part of Europe and eventually the entirety of Christendom.

The New Cambridge Medieval History: Volume 6, C.1300-c.1415 Rosamond McKitterick, 1995 The sixth volume of The New Cambridge Medieval History covers the fourteenth century, a period dominated by plague, other natural disasters and war, which brought to an end three centuries of economic growth and cultural expansion in Christian Europe, but one which also saw important developments in government, religious and intellectual life and new cultural and artistic patterns. Part I sets the scene by discussion of general themes in the theory and practice of government, religion, social and economic history and culture. Part II deals with the individual histories of the states of western Europe. Part III, with that of the Church at the time of the Avignon papacy and the Great Schism. Part IV, with eastern and northern Europe, Byzantium and the early Ottomans, giving particular attention to the social and economic relations with westerners and those of other civilisations in the Mediterranean.
