Howarth,2024-09-17 Live performance has changed poetry more than anything else in the last hundred years it has given poets new audiences and a new economy and it has generated new styles from Imagism to confessional to contemporary Spoken Word But the creative impact that public reading had right through the twentieth century has not been well understood Mixing close listening to archive performances with intimate histories of modernist venues and promoters The Poetry Circuit tells the story of how poets met their audience again and how the feedback loops between their voices the venues and the occasions turned poems into running dramas between poet and listener A nervous T S Eliot reveals himself to be anything but impersonal while Marianne Moore's accident prone readings become subtle ways of keeping her poems in constant re draft Robert Frost used his poems to spar with his fans and rivals while Langston Hughes wrote Ask Your Mama to expose the prejudice circulating in the room as he spoke it The Poetry Circuit also shows how the post war reading boom made new kinds of poetry involving their audience and setting in the performance such as John Ashbery's anti charismatic Poets Theatre Amiri Baraka's documentary soundtracks of the streets or the confessional readings of Allen Ginsberg which shame the listeners more than the poet Covering the first seventy years of the poetry reading The Poetry Circuit demonstrates that there never were page and stage poets the reading simply changed what every modern poet could do

Poet's Work, Poet's Play Daniel Tobin,Pimone Triplett,2008 An indispensable resource for anyone interested in the art and craft of contemporary poetry Poetry Amorak Huey,W. source of Thomas's daring and inventive style in the poet's Anglo-Welsh origins as well as his historical, cultural and social contexts: the Great Depression and 1930s literary London, surrealism, World War II and Cold War popular culture. The result is a revealing and fresh introduction to the life and work of this important Welsh writer. Poetic Inquiry Sandra L. Faulkner, 2019-07-22

Poetic Inquiry: Craft, Method and Practice examines the use of poetry as a form of qualitative research representation and method used by researchers, practitioners and students from across the social sciences and humanities. It serves as a practical manual for using poetry in qualitative research through the presentation of varied examples of Poetic Inquiry. It provides how-to exercises for developing and using poetry as a qualitative research method. The book begins by mapping out what doing and critiquing Poetic Inquiry entails via a discussion of the power of poetry, poets and researchers' goals for the use of poetry and the kinds of projects that are best suited for Poetic Inquiry. It also provides descriptions of the process and craft of creating Poetic Inquiry and suggestions for how to evaluate and engage with Poetic Inquiry. The book further contends with questions of method, process and craft from poets and researchers' perspectives. It shows the implications for the aesthetic and epistemic concerns in poetry and furthers transdisciplinary dialogues between the humanities and social sciences. Faulkner shows the importance of considering the form and function of Poetic Inquiry in qualitative research through discussions of poetry as research method, poetry as qualitative analysis and representation and Poetic Inquiry as a powerful research tool. Poet of the Medieval Modern Francesca Brooks, 2021

The early Middle Ages provided twentieth-century poets with the material to re-imagine and rework local, religious and national identities in their writing. Poet of the Medieval Modern focuses on a key figure within this tradition: the Anglo-Welsh poet and artist David Jones (1895-1974), representing the first extended study of the influence of early medieval English culture and history on Jones and his novel-length late modernist poem The Anathemata (1952). Jones's second major poetic project after In Parenthesis (1937), The Anathemata fuses Jones's visual and verbal arts to write a Catholic history of Britain as told through the history of man as artist. Drawing on unpublished archival material including manuscripts, sketches, correspondence and most significantly the marginalia from David Jones's Library, this volume reads with Jones in order to trouble the distinction between poetry and scholarship. Placing this underappreciated figure firmly at the centre of new developments in Modernist and Medieval Studies, Poet of the Medieval Modern brings the two fields into dialogue and argues that Jones uses the textual and material culture of the early Middle Ages, including Old English prose and poetry, Anglo-Latin hagiography, early medieval stone sculpture, manuscripts and historiography to re-envision British Catholic identity in the twentieth century. Long poem Jones returned to the English record to seek out those moments where the histories of the Welsh had been elided or erased. At a time when the Middle Ages are increasingly weaponised in far-right and nationalist political discourse, the book offers a timely discussion of how the early medieval past has been resourced to both shore up and challenge English hegemonies across modern British culture. Poetry, Poetic Inquiry and Rwanda Laura Apol, 2020-11-09

This book describes the practice of poetic inquiry and takes the reader through the process of translating lived experience into poetry that attends to the lives of others Using her own writing from early drafts to published poems Apol demonstrates elements of poetic inquiry that both give it strength and make it complicated the importance of craft the aesthetic the imperative of accuracy and reliability the investigative the significance of ethical responsibility that leads to action witness and the centrality of relational connectedness and accountability withness Apol raises questions about what it means for poems to function as both research and art and illustrates what happens when there are irresolvable conflicts between the demands of the poem and a commitment to relationship Throughout Apol addresses her white privilege as well as the dominant white colonial narrative that often seeps into arts based work unless it is overtly and critically addressed The book goes beyond arts based research speaking as well to other forms of cross national cross cultural research It is a call for relational scholarship that moves toward action a heart rending teaching a post traumatic aesthetic map laid down with clear and poignant theory and praxis to extend serve and guide
