Positive Sum Improving Northsouth Negotiations:

Positive Sum I. William Zartman, 2019-01-22 The claims of the developing countries for more equal participation in existing international economic arrangements have been eclipsed temporarily by global economic recession and the pressures on developing countries to adjust their economies to radically changed circumstances But negotiations between the industrial countries of the North and the developing countries of the South will remain an important feature of international politics in the years ahead Careful analysis of the negotiating experience of the 1970s when the pressures of the South for reform of the international economic system reached their peak in a wide variety of international forums can help improve the negotiating process itself as well as policy formulation Positive Sum focuses on the relationship of the process of the negotiations of the recent past to their final outcomes This emphasis differentiates it from the many works on North South relations that assess results only The volume presents eight case studies of specific North South negotiations prepared as part of a project of the Overseas Development Council in Washington D C The book's emphasis is on pragmatic paths conflict management conciliation cooperation to mutually satisfactory solutions in asymmetrical situations In its policy recommendations the study seeks to move the parties away from sharp divisions between the rich and strong on one side and the poor and relatively weak on the other Its objective is to identify tactics and procedures that are more likely to deliver positive sum mutually beneficial rather than zero sum winner takes all results The book offers useful guidelines for negotiators and analysts of future multilateral negotiations

Positive Sum: Improving North-South Negotiations I. William Zartman, Developing the Global South Paulos Milkias, 2010 For four decades the UN has attempted to foster development in the countries of the global south The book provides a synopsis of these efforts from the Brandt Commission Report to Boutros Boutros Ghali's Agenda for Development Prof Milkias presents opposing arguments in allotting responsibility for the growing gap between the North and the South and details the Millennium Development Goals and assesses their successes and failures so far He provides suggestions for closing the gap for removing the debt burden that is currently crushing the nations of the South and for relieving the poverty ignorance and disease that plague so much of humanity

The American Role in the Global Economy Susan J. Whitson, 1988 Multilateral Negotiations Fen Osler Hampson, Michael Hart, 1999-04-05 Political scientist Fen Osler Hampson with the assistance of trade specialist Michael Hart studies the component parts of the multilateral negotiation process to identify those factors making for success or failure The authors argue that multilateral negotiation is in essence a coalition building enterprise involving states nonstate actors and international organizations Among the questions they raise are How do issues get to the table in multilateral negotiations Who sits at the table and who composes the tiers of relevant stakeholders What are the procedures for managing complexity What are the obstacles strategic and psychological to reaching agreement Ranging from the 1963 Test Ban Treaty to the Climate Change Convention 1992 and the completion of the Uruguay Round of GATT 1993 individual case studies include discussions on security environmental and economic issues Of particular interest is the attention given to nongovernmental actors such as scientists and environmental groups like Greenpeace International in prenegotiation and negotiation phases

The Implementation Game Carolyn Deere, 2011-06-16 With the launch of the World Trade Organization WTO in 1995 its Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights TRIPS emerged as a symbol of coercion in international economic relations In the decade that followed intellectual property became one of the most contentious topics of global policy debate This book is the first full length study of the politics surrounding what developing countries did to implement TRIPS and why Based on a review of the evidence from 1995 to 2007 this book emphasises that developing countries exhibited considerable variation in their approach to TRIPS implementation In particular developing countries took varying degrees of advantage of the legal safeguards and options commonly known as TRIPS flexibilities that the Agreement provides To explain this variation this book argues that TRIPS implementation must be understood as a complex political game played out among developing country governments and a range of stakeholders developed countries non governmental organisations NGOs intergovernmental organisations IGOs and industry groups The contested nature of the TRIPS bargain spurred competing efforts to revise the terms of TRIPS and to influence global IP regulation more broadly The intensity of the implementation game was amplified by an awareness among the various stakeholders that the IP reforms developing countries pursued would influence these ongoing international negotiations The book attributes the variation in TRIPS implementation to the interplay between these global IP debates international power pressures and political dynamics within developing countries The book includes historical analysis compilations of evidence and analysis supported by examples from across the developing world The Implementation Game will be of interest both to scholars of international relations law and international political economy as well as to policymakers commentators and activists engaged in debates on the global governance of intellectual property

Information Technologies and Global Politics James N. Rosenau, J. P. Singh, 2002-01-10 Examines how information technologies may be shifting power and authority away from the state

Mapping Agency Ulrike Lorenz-Carl, Martin Rempe, 2016-05-13 Despite regionalism having developed into a global phenomenon the European Union EU is still more often than not presented as the role model of regionalism whose institutional designs and norms are adopted by other regional actors and organizations as part of a rather passive downloading process Reaching beyond such a Eurocentric perception Mapping Agency provides an empirically rich African perspective on regionalisms in Sub Saharan Africa It adopts an actor centred approach but departs from a rather simplified understanding of agency as exerting power and instead scrutinizes to what extent actors actually participate in or are excluded from processes of regionalism The value of this volume derives from the inclusion of historical dimensions its open multi actor approach to both formal and informal processes and its comparative perspective within but also beyond Sub Saharan Africa The chapters offer a multifaceted picture of agency beyond disciplinary divides where the EU is one actor amongst many and where local national regional and global state and non state actors shape and sometimes break processes of regionalisms in Sub Saharan Africa      Getting it Done Bertram Irwin Spector,I. William Zartman,2003 From NAFTA to NATO from the WTO to the WHO a vast array of international regimes manages an astounding number of regional and global problems Yet the dynamics of these enormously influential bodies are barely understood Scholars have scrutinized international regimes but that scrutiny has been narrowly focused on questions of regime formation and regime compliance Remarkably little attention has been paid to the crucial question of how regimes sustain themselves and evolve This pioneering work sets about correcting that neglect As its title suggests Getting It Done explores how international regimes accomplish their goals goals that constantly shift as problems change and the power of member states shifts In a series of conceptually bold opening chapters the volume editors emphasize that successful evolution depends above all on a process of continuous negotiation domestic as well as international in which norms principles and rules are modified as circumstances and interests change The second part of the volume takes this framework and applies it to four case studies two regional two global Each case study presents the aims achievements and structure of a regime and demonstrates how it adjusts its course through negotiation A final chapter draws both theoretical and practical lessons for the future      Opportunities Missed, Opportunities Seized Bruce W. Jentleson,2000 The basic logic of preventive diplomacy is unassailable Act early to prevent disputes from escalating reduce tensions that could lead to war deal with today s conflicts before they become tomorrow s crises Yet as we look at the record of these first years of the post Cold War era it is quite mixed There have been some preventive diplomacy successes and opportunities that have been seized by major powers and international organizations to help preserve and protect the peace But there also have been other opportunities that have been missed with some of the century s most deadly conflicts the result This study examines ten major post Cold War cases including Croatia Bosnia Rwanda the Baltics Russia Ukraine Macedonia and North Korea_ to assess the key factors contributing to both the success and failure of preventive diplomacy The method of case study analysis employed is based on the work of Alexander L George Authors include both leading academics and prominent policy officials with first hand knowledge      Conflict Management and African Politics Terrence Lyons,Gilbert M. Khadiagala,2010-10-04 This book builds on the overarching theme of conflict management to reflect on negotiations mediation and conflict resolution in Africa      The A to Z of the Non-Aligned Movement and Third World Guy Arnold,2010-04-06 During the long period when the world was divided between East and West and the Cold War threatened to turn hot with devastating consequences the Non Aligned Movement was one of the few institutions that consistently sought other outcomes not in its own interest but that of all humanity Consisting of over 100 states that are free of any formal alliances with any major power bloc the Non Aligned Movement provides aid to those countries striving to gain independence eliminate poverty and develop their economy Just what the Non Aligned Movement and Third World sought and at times achieved is set forth in this unique reference work with its over 200 cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons organizations and conferences as well as the key issues and concepts Entries are supported by an extensive chronology an introduction to the movement and a bibliography for further research

Transforming Ethnopolitical Conflict Alex Austin, Martina Fischer, Norbert Ropers, 2013-04-17 Preface Confronted with a wide variety of conflicts the international community has attempted to respond through humanitarian assistance development aid crisis prevention and conflict resolution programmes To date many of these activities have exacerbated conflict dynamics as much as they have enhanced the opportunities for sustainable development and peace In an effort to understand what works lessons learned and best practices are being collected usually in the form of evaluations of individual projects or programs Although the number of studies undertaken has increased few lessons have been systematised or accumulated for broader discussion in the academic field or for practitioners use The Berghof Research Center for Constructive Conflict Management produced this Handbook in response to the contemporary challenges which have to be faced by those who are working in and on violent conflict The intention is to give an overview of recent developments in the field of conflict transformation from various perspectives from academic analysts and practitioners as well as from experts representing different areas of work inside and outside of conflict zones

European Union and India D. K. Giri, 2001 Study in the context of economic commerce and trade

Environmental Policy in an International Context Andrew Blowers, Pieter Glasbergen, 1996-05-31 This volume examines the environmental issues currently under debate in the international arena The text approaches the topic at a conceptual level and from an interdisciplinary viewpoint It analyses the roles of key players in environmental policy the nation state non governmental organizations and the business community It continues with an examination of the importance of international relations trade east west north south and goes on to consider the prospects for sustainable development and social changes required for sustainable development to become a reality

The International Trading System Alice Landau, 2005-02-03 The World Trade Organization WTO is without doubt one of our main instruments of globalization the controversy which is whipped up by this organization is arguably mainly caused by the mystery which surrounds it The International Trade System seeks to remove the clouds of misunderstanding that circle the multilateral commercial system by clearly mainstreaming early warning of conflicts and hazards and provides conceptual and policy conclusions     Developing Countries and the Global Trading System John Whalley, 2016-03-07     Peacemaking in International Conflict I. William Zartman, 2007 This updated and expanded edition of the highly popular volume originally published in 1997 describes the tools and skills of peacemaking that are currently available and critically assesses their usefulness and limitations     The International Spread of Ethnic Conflict David A. Lake, Donald Rothchild, 2020-10-06 The wave of ethnic conflict that has recently swept across parts of Eastern Europe the former Soviet Union and Africa has led many political observers to fear that these conflicts are contagious Initial outbreaks in such places as Bosnia Chechnya and Rwanda if not contained appear capable of setting off epidemics of catastrophic proportions In this volume David Lake and Donald Rothchild have organized an ambitious sophisticated exploration of both the origins and spread of ethnic conflict one that will be useful to policymakers and theorists alike The editors and contributors argue that ethnic conflict is not caused directly by intergroup differences or centuries old feuds and that the collapse of the Soviet Union did not simply uncork ethnic passions long suppressed They look instead at how anxieties over security competition for resources breakdown in communication with the government and the inability to make enduring commitments lead ethnic groups into conflict and they consider the strategic interactions that underlie ethnic conflict and its effective management How why and when do ethnic conflicts either diffuse by precipitating similar conflicts elsewhere or escalate by bringing in outside parties How can such transnational ethnic conflicts best be managed Following an introduction by the editors which lays a strong theoretical foundation for approaching these questions Timur Kuran Stuart Hill Donald Rothchild Colin Cameron Will H Moore and David R Davis examine the diffusion of ideas across national borders and ethnic alliances Without disputing that conflict can spread James D Fearon Stephen M Saideman Sandra Halperin and Paula Garb argue that ethnic conflict today is primarily a local phenomenon and that it is breaking out in many places simultaneously for similar but largely independent reasons Stephen D Krasner Daniel T Froats Cynthia S Kaplan Edmond J Keller Bruce W Jentleson and I William Zartman focus on the management of transnational ethnic conflicts and emphasize the importance of domestic confidence building measures international intervention and preventive diplomacy
