Post Industrial Tyneside An Economic And Social Survey Of Tyneside In The 1980s:

Post-industrial Tyneside Fred Robinson, 1988 The Northern Counties from AD 1000 Norman Mccord, Richard Thompson, 2018-10-08 Informative vivid and richly illustrated this volume explores the history of England's northern borders the former counties of Northumberland Cumberland Durham Westmorland and the Furness areas of Lancashire across 1000 years The book explores every aspect of this changing scene from the towns and poor upland farms of early modern Cumbria to life in the teeming communities of late Victorian Tyneside In their final chapters the authors review the modern decline of these traditional industries and the erosion of many of the region's historical characteristics Human Geography of the UK David Graham, Irene Hardill, Eleonore Kofman, 2013-01-11 This new key textbook for introductory courses in human geography provides first and second year undergraduates with a comprehensive thematic approach to the changing human geography of the UK at the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty first century Covering local regional national European and global issues it also explores in some detail topics which are part of the lived experience of undergraduates themselves such as crime unemployment social exclusion and AIDS User friendly textbook features include chapter introductions summaries and important theoretical principles up to date further reading and key on line sources case studies examples and revision questions Sidney Pollard David Renton, 2004-10-29 Sidney Pollard was a pioneering labour historian who influenced the great luminaries in the field E P Thompson and E J Hobsbawm Almost single handedly he pioneered the study of economic management in history and the understanding of the economic processes by which regions are formed As a labour historian his contribution to the study of the marginalized in society was original and vital His history was intimately connected with his personal life from escape to Britain from Nazi occupied Vienna on the Jewish kindertransporte to work in Britain the USA Israel and apartheid South Africa A Region in Transition John Tomaney, Neil Ward, 2017-07-05 The UK has now joined a Europe wide trend towards more devolved forms of government e.g. Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland Assemblies In the context of this general trend towards regionalism as a focus for public policy and as a source of cultural and political identity an interdisciplinary team from Newcastle University combine to analyze how this affects the North East of England There has been comparatively little published on the contemporary development of English Regions and the North East is a particularly important case study as throughout the 1990s it has experienced a range of social economic and political changes This book will contribute to key contemporary policy debates which will affect all of the English regions and should be read by all social scientists interested in European regional development Representing the Nation Jessica Evans, David Boswell, 1999 Representing the Nation gathers key writings from leading cultural thinkers to ask what role cultural institutions play in creating and shaping our sense of ourselves as a nation The Changing Shape of Work Richard K. Brown, 2016-07-27 The contributors provide critical accounts of the transformation of work and employment during the final quarter of the twentieth century They draw on their own and others current research to identify the origins and consequences of these developments and illustrate their impact on society organizations individuals and communities Wide ranging reviews of changes in labour markets and employment practices provide the context for detailed studies including the feminization of work informal working responses to unemployment organizational culture and Total Quality Management Women drinking out in Britain since the early twentieth century David Gutzke,2016-05-16 Given recent media coverage of women s drinking habits it is surprising that a topic of such interest has not produced a comprehensive examination This book provides not just a survey spanning a century of momentous change but integrates diverse sources with concepts to offer a new understanding of the changing nature of women s drinking patterns It challenges traditional assumptions and offers original interpretations about the diverse factors influencing women s consumption of alcohol including advertising moral panics sexism legislative initiatives employment age ethnicity technology new drinking venues and marketing strategies What most influenced how women transformed their consumption of alcohol What beverages did they drink To what extent did women themselves act as agents of change These and other questions serve as the basis for analysing women s drinking patterns from a social and cultural perspective Close attention is also paid to the image of drinking projected in advertising the mass media and films Beyond the Neoliberal Creative City Robert G. Hollands,2024-10-15 A buoyant creative economy can be seen as the saviour of many cities but behind such urban makeovers lie serious problems such as widening inequalities and gentrification Blending lively city case studies with broader theoretical debates this book explores the opportunities for a more just and sustainable urban future Twin Cities John Garrard,Ekaterina Mikhailova,2018-10-03 This dynamic international collection provides a comprehensive overview of twin cities on administrative and international borders across the world Drawing on contemporary and historical examples it documents constant and changing features of twinned communities over time The chapters explore a variety of urban formations including independent cities located side by side cities that have merged over decades or even centuries and those projected to merge cities partitioned by treaties and cities duplicated in pursuit of better security intensified trade or both between neighbouring countries From Europe to Africa North America to the Middle East South America to Asia this book focuses on relationships between cities citizens and municipal international borders A cartographical contents and editorial commentary guide readers through diverse contributions The authors ask how far cities are changing or remaining constant in the context of conurbanisation Europeanisation and globalization The book provides a glimpse into the variety of roles twin cities can play globally from laboratories of integration and para diplomatic actors to economic and cultural brokers This is a valuable engaging resource for researchers in the fields of geography urban studies border studies international relations and global development It will be of great use to individuals involved in twin city initiatives and general readers New Geographies of Race and Racism Caroline Bressey,2016-04-29 In recent years geographers interested in ethnicity race and racism have extended their focus from examining geographies of segregation and racism to exploring cultural politics social practice and everyday geographies of identity and experience This edited collection illustrates this new work and includes research on youth and new ethnicities the contested politics of race and racism intersections of ethnicity religion and race and the theorisation and interrogation of whiteness Case studies from the UK and Ireland focus on the intersections of race and nation and the specificities of place in discourses of racilisation and identity A key feature of the book is its engagement with a range of methodological approaches to examining the significance of race including ethnography visual methodologies and historical analysis Enterprise and Heritage John Corner, Sylvia Harvey, 2005-08-04 Using case studies commentary and critique the contributors discuss the importance of the two concepts in British social and cultural life with examples from film television literature urban planning architecture and tourism

Refugees, Capitalism and the British State Tom Vickers, 2016-04-08 Today in a period of economic crisis public sector cuts and escalating class struggle Marxism offers important tools for social workers and service users to understand the structures of oppression they face and devise effective means of resistance This book uses Marxism's lost insights and reinterprets them in the current context by focussing on one particular section of the international working class refugees and asylum seekers in Britain Vickers analysis demonstrates the general utility of a Marxist approach enabling an exploration of the interplay between state policies how these are experienced by their subjects and how conflicts are mediated The substantive focus of the book is twofold to analyse the material basis of the oppression of refugees in Britain by the British state and to examine the means by which the British state has managed this oppression through the cultivation of a refugee relations industry within a broader narrative of social capital building These questions demand answers if social workers and other practitioners are to successfully work with refugees and asylum seekers and this book provides these through a detailed Marxist analysis Race, Place and Globalization Anoop Nayak, 2016-09-08 What does it mean to be young in a changing world How are migration settlement and new urban cultures shaping young lives And in particular are race place and class still meaningful to contemporary youth cultures This path breaking book shows how young people are responding differently to recent social economic and cultural transformations From the spirit of white localism deployed by de industrialized football supporters to the hybrid multicultural exchanges displayed by urban youth young people are finding new ways of wrestling with questions of race and ethnicity Through globalization is whiteness now being displaced by black culture in fashion music and slang and if so what impact is this having on race politics Moreover what happens to those people and places that are left behind by changes in late modernity By developing a unique brand of spatial cultural studies this book explores complex formations of race and class as they arise in the subtle textures of whiteness respectability and youth subjectivity This is the first book to look specifically at young ethnicities through the prism of local global change Eloquently written its riveting ethnographic case studies and insider accounts will ensure that this book becomes a benchmark publication for writing on race in years to come The English Urban Landscape Philip Waller, 2000-03-30 A volume on the history of the English urban environment that will appeal to both general readers and academic specialists The emphasis throughout is emphatically that of the historian rather than the physical geographer that is a primary focus on the people who make the landscapes the changing social structure of the communities and the different economies which sustained them The text is enhanced by 130 integrated illustrations including half tones and diagrams The thirteen chapters combine chronological and thematic surveys After a general introduction by Dr Waller chapters 2 5 provide overviews of how the urban landscape in England developed during the Roman period the Early Medieval period the Medieval period and the Early Modern Period The second larger part of the text offers a variety of thematic approaches to the history of the built environment with a focus on the last two centuries metropolitanism the commercial city the industrial city transport slums and suburbs recreation civil and ecclesiastical and artistic and literary In addition there are a number of cameo features throughout the text eg on a small market town a garden city a council estate the Potteries There is a list of further reading on each chapter

Transport Policy and the Environment David Banister,2002-09-11 There is currently considerable concern with limiting the growth of transport demand the use of resources and related pollution This book makes a major contribution to the debate on transport and the environment and is likely to become a benchmark against which new research will be developed Transport Policy and the Environment presents for the first time the results of extensive research quantifying the contribution of transport to environmental problems assessing the options for resolving those problems investigating the conflicts arising from policy implementation developing new and better methods of data collection and analysis It brings together the results of a major research programme funded by the UK Economic and Social Research Council on Transport and the Environment and provides a clear view on current policy It is the major contribution that UK research has made to the debate and provides the first set of substantive results on the effectiveness of policy and the means by which the impact can be measured and assessed

Japanese Inward Investment in UK Car Manufacturing Young-Chan Kim,2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 This compelling text provides fresh insight into an area that is often touched upon but rarely examined in any great detail the relationship between Multinational Enterprises MNEs and their host governments Taking Japanese Foreign Direct Investment FDI strategy arguably the model of FDI Young Chan Kim takes a revealing look at why the United Kingdom UK has dominated among the EU member states for FDI destination while ironically losing its nationalized car manufacturers Scholars of business history international business and business economics will find this work invaluable

Metropolitan Planning in Britain Peter Roberts,Kevin Thomas,Gwyndaf Williams,2014-02-04 Metropolitan Planning in Britain is the first comparative analysis and assessment of metropolitan areas and their strategic planning for almost two decades Changes in population distribution styles of local government business practices and attitudes to the environment have all had an impact on cities in recent years which planners and other policy makers must take into consideration Based on a series of research projects and the activities of a study group supported by the Regional Studies Association the book examines in detail nine major urban areas their specific characters and requirements and how metropolitan planning is adapting to fulfil those requirements It also discusses the possible future evolution of metropolitan planning especially in the light of new regional arrangements and devolution Newcastle Upon Tyne Robert Colls, 2001 undoubtedly the most important book on the history of Newcastle to hit the market for upwards of half a century and is arguably the best of all time a brilliant and ground breaking work it will be argued that there is still room on the market for a straight forward chronological history of the city but such a work will never achieve the depth of analysis which this collection of specialist essays skilfully attains The North Easterner Meadowell Michael Barke, Guy Turnbull, 1992 This is an account of the Meadowell estate in North Shields Although not an account of the recent riots the book aims to inform debate on fundamental causes of civil disorder especially by young people in problem estates The authors attempt to answer three questions what influences formed the estate s character what shapes contemporary life on Meadowell and distinguishes it from life outside and how do these influences affect the delivery of policy
