Post Secular Philosophy Between Philosophy And Theology:

Post-Secular Philosophy Philip Blond, 2002-11 Post Secular Philosophy is one of the first volumes to consider how God has been approached by modern philosophers and consider the links between theology and postmodern thought Postsecular History Maxwell Kennel, 2021-11-13 This book explores how contemporary approaches to the meaning of time and history follow patterns that are simultaneously political and theological Even after postsecular critiques of Christianity religion and secularity many influential ways of dividing time and history continue to be formed by providential narratives that mediate between experience and expectation in movements from promise to fulfilment In response to persistent theological influences within ostensibly secular ways of understanding time and history Postsecular History revisits and revises the concept of periodization by tracing powerful efforts to divide time into past present and future and by critiquing historical partitions between the Reformation and Enlightenment Developing a postsecular critique of theopolitical periodization in six chapters Postsecular History questions how relations of possession novelty freedom and instrumentality implied in the prefix post are reproduced in postsecular discourses and the field of political theology The Cambridge Companion to Feminist Theology Susan Frank Parsons, 2002-07-04 Feminist theology is a significant movement within contemporary theology The aim of this Companion is to give an outline of feminist theology through an analysis of its overall shape and its major themes so that both its place in and its contributions to the present changing theological landscape may be discerned The two sections of the volume are designed to provide a comprehensive and critical introduction to feminist theology which is authoritative and up to date Written by some of the main figures in feminist theology as well as by younger scholars who are considering their inheritance it offers fresh insights into the nature of feminist theological work The book as a whole is intended to present a challenge for future scholarship since it critically engages with the assumptions of feminist theology and seeks to open ways for women after feminism to enter into the vocation of theology Postsecular Cities Justin Beaumont, Christopher Baker, 2011-06-16 This book reflects the wide spread belief that the twenty first century is evolving in a significantly different way to the twentieth which witnessed the advance of human rationality and technological progress including urbanisation and called into question the public and cultural significance of religion In this century by contrast religion faith communities and spiritual values have returned to the centre of public life especially public policy governance and social identity Rapidly diversifying urban locations are the best places to witness the emergence of new spaces in which religions and spiritual traditions are creating both new alliances but also bifurcations with secular sectors Postsecular Cities examines how the built environment reflects these trends Recognizing that the turn to the postsecular is a contested and multifaceted trend the authors offer a vigorous open but structured dialogue between theory and practice but even more excitingly between the disciplines of human geography and theology Both disciplines reflect on this powerful but enigmatic force shaping our urban humanity This unique volume offers the first insight into these interdisciplinary and challenging debates Handbook of the

Geographies of Religion Lily Kong, Orlando Woods, Justin K.H. Tse, 2024-12-02 This international and interdisciplinary handbook offers a comprehensive and an in depth overview of contemporary research theory and practice in the geographies of religion in various parts of the world and with different populations The book showcases the major theoretical interventions in the field and the debates about the existential constitution of sacred space and what this means for secularization It outlines the most significant geographical themes related to these new developments with their implications for how to think about landscapes space bodies and worlds The book also discusses the future of the field especially in the realms of encounters and ethics economies and markets institutions and organisations movements and migrations and media and mediums It also offers views from disciplines outside of geography including from sociology anthropology religious studies and media and communications which demonstrates the contributions of geographers of religion to wider intellectual conversations and debates

Exploring the Postsecular, 2010-05-17 The re emergence of the religious in secular domains has led prominent scholars such as Jürgen Habermas and Charles Taylor to speculate about a new postsecular age The alleged shift from the secular to the postsecular is most visible in the spheres of urban public space governance and civil society This volume addresses contemporary relations between religion politics and urban societies primarily from a theoretical perspective while also paying attention to empirical manifestations of the central conceptual ideas The primary focus is the relations between public religion deprivatization of religion and theorizations of modernity and modernities with the secondary and closely related focus on theorizing postsecular urbanism including the role of faith based organizations FBOs in cities Contributors include Justin Beaumont James A Beckford Luke Bretherton Paul Cloke Candice Dias Wilhelm Gr b Maaïke de Haardt Jason Hackworth Christoph Jedan Kim Knott Michiel Leezenberg Bernice Martin David Martin Gregor McLennan Arie L Molendijk Nihan zdemir S nmez Martijn Oosterbaan Andy F Sanders Anke Schuster and Hetty Zock

Ontologies of Violence Maxwell Kennel, 2023-07-24 Ontologies of Violence provides a new paradigm for understanding the concept of violence through comparative interpretations of French philosopher Jacques Derrida philosophical theologians in the Mennonite pacifist tradition and Grace M Jantzen s feminist philosophy of religion By drawing out and challenging the remarkably similar priorities shared by its three sources and by challenging the assumption that differences necessarily lead to displacement Ontologies of Violence provides a critical theory of violence by treating it as a diagnostic concept that implies the violation of value laden boundaries

The Blackwell Companion to Postmodern Theology Graham Ward, 2008-04-15 This Companion provides a definitive collection of essays on postmodern theology drawing on the work of those individuals who have made a distinctive contribution to the field and whose work will be significant for the theologies written in the new millennium The definitive collection of essays on postmodern theology drawing on the work of those individuals who have made a distinctive contribution to the field Each essay is introduced with a short account of the writer s previous work enabling the reader to view it in context Discusses the following disciplines Aesthetics Ethics Gender

Hermeneutics Phenomenology Heideggerians and Derrideans Edited by Graham Ward one of the most outstanding and original theologians working in the field today Theology and the Political Creston Davis, John Milbank, Slavoj Žižek, 2005-06-17 A reassertion of the importance of theology to political action that goes beyond both liberal democratic theory and neoconservatism Geographies of Postsecularity Paul Cloke, Christopher Baker, Callum Sutherland, Andrew Williams, 2019-01-03 This book explores the hopeful possibility that emerging geographies of postsecularity are able to contribute significantly to the understanding of how common life may be shared and how caring for the common goods of social justice well being equality solidarity and respect for difference may be imagined and practiced Drawing on recent geographic theory to recalibrate ideas of the postsecular public sphere the authors develop the case for postsecularity as a condition of being that is characterised by practices of receptive generosity rapprochement between religious and secular ethics and a hopeful re enchantment and re shaping of desire towards common life The authors highlight the contested formation of ethical subjectivity under neoliberalism and the emergence of postsecularity within this process as an ethically attuned politics which changes relations between religion and secularity and animates novel hopeful imaginations subjectivities and praxes as alternatives to neoliberal norms The spaces and subjectivities of emergent postsecularity are examined through a series of innovative case studies including food banks drug and alcohol treatment refugee humanitarian activism in Calais homeless participatory art projects community responses to the Christchurch earthquakes in New Zealand amongst others The book also traces the global conditions for postsecularity beyond the Western and predominantly Christian secular nexus of engagement This is a valuable resource for students in several academic disciplines including geography sociology politics religious studies international development and anthropology It will be of great interest to secular and faith based practitioners working in religion spirituality politics or more widely in public policy urban planning and community development The Politics of Postsecular Religion Ananda Abeysekara, 2008-05-08 Ananda Abeysekara contends that democracy along with its cherished secular norms is founded on the idea of a promise deferred to the future Rooted in democracy's messianic promise is the belief that religious political identity such as Buddhist Hindu Sinhalese Christian Muslim or Tamil can be critiqued neutralized improved and changed even while remaining inseparable from the genocide of the past This facile belief he argues is precisely what distracts us from challenging the violence inherent in postcolonial political sovereignty At the same time we cannot simply dismiss the democratic concept since it permeates so deeply through our modernist capitalist and humanist selves In The Politics of Postsecular Religion Abeysekara invites us to reconsider our ethical political legacies to look at them not as problems but as aporias in the Derridean sense that is as contradictions or impasses incapable of resolution Disciplinary theorizing in religion and politics he argues is unable to identify the aporias of our postcolonial modernity The aporetic legacies which are like specters that cannot be wished away demand a new kind of thinking It is this thinking that Abeysekara calls mourning and un inheriting Un inheriting is a way of meditating on history that both avoids the simple binary of remembering and forgetting and provides an original perspective on heritage memory and time Abeysekara situates aporias in the settings and cultures of the United States France England Sri Lanka India and Tibet In presenting concrete examples of religion in public life he questions the task of refashioning the aporetic premises of liberalism and secularism Through close readings of Nietzsche Heidegger Arendt Derrida Butler and Agamben as well as Foucault Asad Chakrabarty Balibar and Žižek he offers readers a way to think about the futures of postsecular politics that is both dynamic and creative

Apocalyptic Political Theology Thomas Lynch, 2019-01-24 Hegel's philosophy of religion contains an implicit political theology When viewed in connection with his wider work on subjectivity history and politics this political theology is a resource for apocalyptic thinking In a world of climate change inequality oppressive gender roles and racism Hegel can be used to theorise the hope found in the end of that world Histories of apocalyptic thinking draw a line connecting the medieval prophet Joachim of Fiore and Marx This line passes through Hegel who transforms the relationship between philosophy and theology by philosophically employing theological concepts to critique the world Jacob Taubes provides an example of this Hegelian political theology weaving Christianity Judaism and philosophy to develop an apocalypticism that is not invested in the world Taubes awaits the end of the world knowing that apocalyptic destruction is also a form of creation Catherine Malabou discusses this relationship between destruction and creation in terms of plasticity Using plasticity to reformulate apocalypticism allows for a form of apocalyptic thinking that is immanent and materialist Together Hegel Taubes and Malabou provide the resources for thinking about why the world should end The resulting apocalyptic pessimism is not passive but requires an active refusal of the world

On Tragedy and Transcendence Khegan M. Delport, 2021-10-08 From the time of Plato's proposed expulsion of the poets tragedy has repeatedly proposed a challenge to philosophical and theological certainties This is apparent already in early Christianity amongst leading figures during the patristic age But this raises the question Why was the theme of tragedy still accepted and deployed throughout the history of Christianity nevertheless Is this merely an accident or is there something more substantial at play Can Christian theology take the tragic seriously Must Christianity ultimately deny the tragic to be coherent or might it be able to sustain its negativity Some like George Steiner David Bentley Hart and John Milbank have doubts about such a coherency but others think differently This book aims to examine this debate laying out the lines of disagreement and continuing tensions Through a critical examination of the work of Donald MacKinnon and the eminent Christian thinker Rowan Williams the book aims to show that there is a path for reconciling the claims of Christian orthodoxy and the experience of tragedy one that is able to maintain a metaphysical foundation for both real transcendence and unfolding historicity without denying either

Women and the Divine G. Howie, 2016-04-30 This collection explores the question of whether it is possible to reconceive the category of transcendence from a feminist perspective The contributors use the concept of transcendence to approach questions relating to the body desire and subjectivity while offering a response to secular relativism The Changing World Religion Map Stanley D. Brunn, 2015-02-03 This extensive work explores the changing world of religions faiths and practices It discusses a broad range of issues and phenomena that are related to religion including nature ethics secularization gender and identity Broadening the context it studies the interrelation between religion and other fields including education business economics and law The book presents a vast array of examples to illustrate the changes that have taken place and have led to a new world map of religions Beginning with an introduction of the concept of the changing world religion map the book first focuses on nature ethics and the environment It examines humankind's eternal search for the sacred and discusses the emergence of green religion as a theme that cuts across many faiths Next the book turns to the theme of the pilgrimage illustrated by many examples from all parts of the world In its discussion of the interrelation between religion and education it looks at the role of missionary movements It explains the relationship between religion business economics and law by means of a discussion of legal and moral frameworks and the financial and business issues of religious organizations The next part of the book explores the many new faces that are part of the religious landscape and culture of the Global North Europe Russia Australia and New Zealand the U S and Canada and the Global South Latin America Africa and Asia It does so by looking at specific population movements diasporas and the impact of globalization The volume next turns to secularization as both a phenomenon occurring in the Global religious North and as an emerging and distinguishing feature in the metropolitan cosmopolitan and gateway cities and regions in the Global South The final part of the book explores the changing world of religion in regards to gender and identity issues the political religious nexus and the new worlds associated with the virtual technologies and visual media

Process and Difference Catherine Keller, Anne Daniell, 2012-02-01 The similarities and creative tensions between French based poststructuralism and Whiteheadian process thought are examined here by leading scholars Although both approaches are labeled postmodern their own proponents often take them to be so dissimilar as to be opposed Contributors to this book however argue that processing these differences of theory at a deeper level may cultivate fertile and innovative modes of reflection Through their comparisons contrasts and hybridizations of process and poststructuralist theories the contributors variously redefine concepts of divinity and cosmos advance the interaction between science and religion and engage the sex gender and religious ethics of otherness and subjectivity Sensible Ecstasy Amy Hollywood, 2010-01-15 Sensible Ecstasy investigates the attraction to excessive forms of mysticism among twentieth century French intellectuals and demonstrates the work that the figure of the mystic does for these thinkers With special attention to Georges Bataille Simone de Beauvoir Jacques Lacan and Luce Irigaray Amy Hollywood asks why resolutely secular even anti Christian intellectuals are drawn to affective bodily and widely denigrated forms of mysticism What is particular to these thinkers Hollywood reveals is their attention to forms of mysticism associated with women They regard mystics such as Angela of Foligno Hadewijch and Teresa of Avila not as emotionally excessive or escapist but as unique in their ability to think outside of the restrictive oppositions that continue to afflict our understanding of subjectivity the body and sexual difference Mystics such as these like their twentieth century descendants bridge the gaps between action and contemplation emotion and reason and body and soul offering new ways of thinking about language and the limits of representation Karl Rahner's Theological Aesthetics Peter Joseph Fritz, 2014 This innovative book discloses Karl Rahner's foremost achievement discovering and delineating an ethos of Catholicism a multi-faceted and comprehensive approach to life in Christ Karl Rahner's Theological Aesthetics does so by placing the German Jesuit and his teacher philosopher Martin Heidegger into a richly detailed dialogue on aesthetics The book treats classic Rahner topics such as anthropology and Christology But it breaks new ground by exploring themes such as angels Mary and the apocalypse juxtaposed with analogous philosophical topics in Heidegger Apologetics without Apology Elaine Graham, 2017-07-19 Against many expectations religion has not vanished from Western culture People are troubled and fascinated in equal measure by this new visibility and are unsure whether it is right to re-incorporate the vocabulary of faith into our common life This unprecedented co-existence of religion and secularism is sometimes termed the postsecular and in this book Elaine Graham considers some of its implications for the public witness of Christianity She argues that everyone from church leaders theologians local activists and campaigners needs to learn again how to speak Christian in these contexts They need to articulate credible theological justifications for their involvement in public life and to justify the very relevance of their faith to a culture that no longer grants automatic privilege or credence This entails a retrieval of the ancient practice of apologetics in order to encourage and equip Christians to defend and commend their core principles and convictions in public This new apologetics involves discerning the actions of God in the world participating in the praxis of God's mission and bearing witness in word and deed Rather than being an adversarial or argumentative process this is an invitation to dialogue and to the rejuvenation of our public life Freud's Converts Vicki Clifford, 2020-06-16 This work is an exploration of the relationship which psychotherapy has with religion Sigmund Freud and Carl Rogers were chosen for this exposition because they were each seduced by the high status given to science Freud and Rogers both founders of psychotherapies left a legacy which is not that of scientists whom they claimed they were Freud and Rogers each had a problematic relationship with religion This has had a lasting effect on the work and attitudes of their respective followers In order to explore effectively this relationship the work begins with a critical examination of the historical context in which both Freud and Rogers worked and how in their determination to be scientists both missed the importance of the religious The work continues with an exploration of the effects of this legacy on the work of contemporary psychotherapists The context in which their followers work relies on a relationship with the founder which goes beyond that of science and in addition each practitioner is influenced by socio-economic circumstances which are peculiar to them The resistance from psychotherapists to embrace religion has been complex although as it will be illustrated today there are some who are acknowledging the importance of the spiritual That psychotherapy functions as a religious movement has been excluded by practitioners in their determination to reflect the wishes of their founder which was that their work should be regarded as science Psychotherapists have traditionally been considered the custodians of the real and that their clients are the ones suffering from delusions With respect to their attitudes to religion not least the spiritual the positions seem to be reversed
