Remembering and Forgetting in Acadie Ronald Rudin, 2009-05-01 Between 2004 and 2005 Acadians observed two major anniversaries in their history the 400th anniversary of the birth of Acadie and the 250th anniversary of their deportation at the hands of the British Attending many of the commemorative activities that marked the anniversaries Ronald Rudin has documented these events as an embedded historian Conducting interviews and collecting the opinions of Acadians Anglophones and First Nations Remembering and Forgetting in Acadie examines the variety of ways in which the past is publicly presented and remembered A profound and accessible study of the often conflicting purposes of public history Rudin details the contentious cultural political and historical issues that were prompted by these anniversaries Offering an astounding collection of materials Remembering and Forgetting in Acadie is also accompanied by a website www.rememberingacadie.concordia.ca that provides access to films audio clips and photographs assembled on Rudin's journey through public memory The Cajuns Dean W. Jobb, 2010-01-14 One of the darkest events in Canadian history is replete with the drama of war politics and untold human suffering Starting in 1755 10 000 people of French ancestry were expelled from their homes along Canada's east coast by a tyrannical British governor with the complicity of American sympathizers While some Acadians returned home to try to evade capture and forge a living others made their way to the Spanish colony of Louisiana where they farmed and fished and began the vibrant Cajun culture that is renowned around the world Award winning author Dean Jobb has written a dramatic and compelling account of Le grand derangement the event that was immortalized in Longfellow's famous poem Evangeline Jobb brings a cast of characters to life so vividly that the reader is immediately captured by their stories The richness of detail is remarkable The quality of writing is cinematic The year 2005 marks the 250th anniversary of the expulsion This book is a bridge across the centuries for the descendants of a founding people of this nation whose courage and resourcefulness still resonate in modern day Acadie Canada Through American Eyes Jennifer Andrews, 2023-06-22 This book explores how Canada is imagined primarily by US writers and what readers and scholars on both sides of the Canada US border can learn from these recent depictions by examining a selection of US authored fiction from 9 11 to the present The novels and occasionally paintings films and musicals that are the subject of the book provide a deliberately varied set of case studies to probe how US texts along with works of art produced on both sides of the Canada US border uncover moments in Canadian historical and literary studies that have been buried or occluded to protect Canada's self representation as an exceptional nation The Acadian Saga Dean Jobb,2025-09-19 The Deportation of the Acadians one of the darkest events in Canadian history is replete with the drama of war politics and untold human suffering Starting in 1755 thousands of French speaking settlers were expelled from their homes on Canada's East Coast by a tyrannical British governor with the support of New England troops While many Acadians returned from exile to establish new communities that thrive today others made their way to Louisiana and founded the vibrant Cajun culture known around the world Now in a revised and updated edition of the book published to mark the 250th anniversary of the first deportations award winning author Dean Jobb revisits his dramatic and compelling account of Le grand d rangement immortalized in Longfellow's famous poem Evangeline Jobb brings a cast of characters to life so vividly that the reader is immediately captured by their stories The richness of detail is remarkable The quality of writing is cinematic With thirty images to complement the storytelling The Acadian Saga is a bridge across the centuries for the descendants of a founding people of this nation whose courage and resourcefulness still resonate in modern day Acadie and Louisiana Tourism Imaginaries at the Disciplinary Crossroads Maria Gravari-Barbas,Nelson Graburn,2016-06-23 Providing a unique analysis of current multidisciplinary research on the complex relationships between tourism and the imaginaries of tourist destinations this book traces the links between tourism imaginaries and their religious heaven and political utopia antecedents The substantive chapters are organised into three main thematic sections the first explores the touristic production and consumption of place imaginaries the second analyses the way places are practiced through imaginaries and the role imaginaries play in the tourist experience and the final section explores the way images and the media participate in the creation of tourism imaginaries Settling and Unsettling Memories Nicole Neatby,Peter Hodgins,2012-03-19 Settling and Unsettling Memories analyses the ways in which Canadians over the past century have narrated the story of their past in books films works of art commemorative ceremonies and online This cohesive collection introduces readers to overarching themes of Canadian memory studies and brings them up to date on the latest advances in the field With increasing debates surrounding how societies should publicly commemorate events and people Settling and Unsettling Memories helps readers appreciate the challenges inherent in presenting the past Prominent and emerging scholars explore the ways in which Canadian memory has been put into action across a variety of communities regions and time periods Through high quality essays touching on the central questions of historical consciousness and collective memory this collection makes a significant contribution to a rapidly growing field Nature, Place, and Story Claire Elizabeth Campbell,2017-08-09 National historic sites commemorate decisive moments in the making of Canada But seen through an environmental lens these sites become artifacts of a bigger story the occupation and transformation of nature into nation In an age of pressing discussions about environmental sustainability there is a growing need to know more about the history of our relationship with the natural world and what lessons these places of public history regional identity and national narrative can teach us Nature Place and Story provides new interpretations for five of Canada s largest and most iconic historic sites two of which are UNESCO World Heritage Sites L Anse aux Meadows Newfoundland Grand Pr Nova Scotia Fort William Ontario the Forks of the Red River Manitoba and the Bar U Ranch Alberta At each location Claire Campbell rewrites public history as environmental history revealing the country s debt to the power and fragility of the natural world and the relevance of the past to understanding climate change agricultural sustainability wilderness protection urban reclamation and fossil fuel extraction From the medieval Atlantic to modern ranchlands environmental history speaks directly to contemporary questions about the health of Canada s habitat Bringing together public and environmental history in an entirely new way Nature Place and Story is a lively and ambitious call for a fresh perspective on natural heritage

Reconstructing Historic Landmarks Wayne Brown, 2018-09-03 Historic reconstructions have been a consistent part of the historic preservation and heritage conservation movements in the United States and Canada Indeed reconstruction has been the primary tool at the most influential historic sites for example the Governor s Palace and the Capitol at Colonial Williamsburg USA and in Canada the Fortress of Louisbourg Dozens of other reconstructions have appeared during the past century in North America undertaken by individuals communities states and provinces and by national agencies responsible for cultural heritage Despite this prevalence historic reconstructions have received little scholarly attention and the question of what motivated the proponents of these projects remains largely unexamined This book explores that question through detailed studies of ten historic reconstructions located throughout Canada and the United States ranging from 1908 to 2011 Drawing upon diverse archival sources and site investigations the proponents of each site are given voice to address their need to remake these landmarks be it to sustain to challenge or even subvert a historical narrative or with reference to contemporary heritage studies to reclaim these spaces Reconstructing Historic Landmarks provides a fascinating insight into these shifting concepts of history in North America and will be of considerable interest both to students and scholars of historic preservation and indeed to heritage professionals involved in reconstructions themselves Canadian Wetlands Rod Giblett, 2014-12-15 In Canadian Wetlands Rod Giblett reads the Canadian canon against the grain critiquing its popular representation of wetlands and proposing alternatives by highlighting the work of recent and contemporary Canadian authors such as Douglas Lochhead and Harry Thurston and by entering into dialogue with American writers The book will engender mutual respect between researchers for the contribution that different disciplinary approaches can and do make to the study and conservation of wetlands internationally History of the Book in Canada: 1840-1918 History of the Book in Canada Project, 2004-01-01 This second of three volumes in the History of the Book in Canada demonstrates the same research and editorial standards established with Volume One by book history specialists from across the nation

At the Ocean's Edge Margaret Conrad, 2020-06-16 At the Ocean's Edge offers a vibrant account of Nova Scotia's colonial history situating it in an early and dramatic chapter in the expansion of Europe. Between 1450 and 1850 various processes, sometimes violent, often judicial, rarely conclusive, transferred power first from Indigenous societies to the French and British empires and then to European settlers and their descendants who claimed the land as their own. This book not only brings Nova Scotia's struggles into sharp focus but also unpacks the intellectual and social values that took root in the region. By the time that Nova Scotia became a province of the Dominion of Canada in 1867, its multicultural peoples including Mi'kmaq, Acadian, African, and British had come to a grudging, unequal and often contested accommodation among themselves. Written in accessible and spirited prose, the narrative follows larger trends through the experiences of colourful individuals who grappled with expulsion, genocide, and war to establish the institutions, relationships, and values that still shape Nova Scotia's identity.

The Centennial Cure Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton, 2017-04-24 In The Centennial Cure, the second volume in the Studies in Atlantic Canada History series, Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton critically examines the intersection of state policy, cultural development, and commemoration in Nova Scotia during Canada's centennial celebrations. Beaton's engaging and insightful analysis of four case studies—the establishment of the Cape Breton Miners Museum, the construction of Halifax's Centennial Swimming Pool, the Community Improvement Program, and the 1967 Nova Scotia Highland Games and Folk Festival—reveals the province's attempts to reimagine and renew public spaces. Through these case studies, Beaton illuminates the myriad ways in which Nova Scotians saw themselves in the context of modernity and ethnic identity during the post-war years. The successes and failures of these infrastructure and cultural projects intended to foster and develop cultural capital reflected the socio-economic realities and dreams of local communities. The Centennial Cure shifts our focus away from the dominant studies on Expo 67 to provide a nuanced and tension-filled account of how Canada's 1967 centennial celebrations were experienced in other parts of Canada.

Grand-Pré A. J. B. Johnston, W. P. Kerr, 2004 A. J. B. John Johnson, a historian with Parks Canada, has published extensively on French colonial Louisbourg. In particular, W. P. Wayne Kerr, an interpretation specialist with Parks Canada, has overseen the development of numerous exhibits and projects in Atlantic Canada.

Kouchibouguac Ronald Rudin, 2016-04-06 In 1969, the federal and New Brunswick governments created Kouchibouguac National Park on the province's east coast. The park's creation required the relocation of more than 1200 people who lived within its boundaries. Government officials claimed the mass eviction was necessary both to allow visitors to view nature without the intrusion of a human presence and to improve the lives of the former inhabitants. But unprecedented resistance by the mostly Acadian residents, many of whom described their expulsion from the park as a second deportation, led Parks Canada to end its practice of forcible removal. One resister, Jackie Vautour, remains a squatter on his land to this day. In Kouchibouguac, Ronald Rudin draws on extensive archival research, interviews with more than thirty of the displaced families, and a wide range of Acadian cultural creations to tell the story of the park's establishment, the resistance of its residents and the memory of that experience

France and the Americas Bill Marshall, 2005-05-24 A unique multidisciplinary encyclopedia covering the impacts that French and American politics, foreign policy and culture have had on shaping each country's identity. From 17th century fur traders in Canada to 21st century peacekeepers in Haiti, from France's decisive role in the Revolutionary War leading to the creation of the United States to recent disagreements over Iraq, France and the Americas charts the history of the inextricable links between France and the nations of the Americas. This comprehensive survey features an incisive introduction and a chronology of key events spanning 400 years of France's transatlantic relations. Students of many disciplines as well as the lay reader will appreciate this comprehensive survey which traces the common themes of both French policy, language and influence throughout the Americas and the wide-ranging transatlantic influences on contemporary France

French North America in the Shadows of Conquest Ryan André Brasseaux, 2020-12-29 French North America in the Shadows of Conquest is an interdisciplinary postcolonial and continental history of Francophone North America across the long twentieth century, revealing hidden histories that so deeply shaped the course of North America. Modern French North America was born from the process of coming to terms with the idea of conquest after the fall of New France. The memory of conquest still haunts those 20 million Francophones who call North America home. The book re-examines the contours of North American history by emphasizing alliances between Acadians, Cajuns and Québécois and French Canadians in their attempt to present a unified challenge against the threat of assimilation, linguistic extinction and Anglophone hegemony. It explores cultural trauma, narratives and the social networks Francophones constructed and shows how North American history looks radically different from their perspective. This book presents a missing chapter in the annals of linguistic and ethnic differences on a continent defined in part by its histories of dispossession. It will be of interest to scholars and students of American and Canadian history, particularly those interested in French North America as well as ethnic and cultural studies, comparative history, the American South and migration

Acadiensis, 2006 The Country Where My Heart Is Alasdair Brooks, Natascha Mehler, 2017-05-23 This international volume analyzes the archaeology of the period when modern national identities were initially formed and political nationalism was developed. Using the Peace of Westphalia 1648 and the beginning of the French Revolution 1789 as temporal bookends, the contributors view the concept of national identity as distinct from race and ethnicity.
