The Nature of Political Theory Andrew Vincent, 2004-03-25 In his controversial new book Andrew Vincent sets out to analyse and challenge the established nostrums of contemporary political theory The nature of Political Theory offers three major contributions to current scholarship It offers first a comprehensive synoptic and comparative analysis of the major conceptions of political theory predominantly during the twentieth century This analysis incorporates systematic critiques of both Anglo American and continental contributions The nature of theory is seen as intrinsically pluralistic and internally divided Secondly the idea of foundationalism is employed in the book to bring some coherence to this internally complex and fragmented practice The book consequently focuses on the various foundational concerns embedded within conceptions of political theory Thirdly the book argues for an adjustment to the way we think about the discipline Political theory is reconceived as a theoretically based indeterminate subject which should be more attuned to practice and history Andrew Vincent makes a case for a more ecumenical and tolerant approach to the discipline suggesting that there are different but equally legitimate answers to the question what is political theory Acceptance of this view would involve a supplementation of the standard substantive approaches to contemporary political theory The Nature of Political Theory offers a unique and idiosyncratic perspective on our current understanding of political theory making it an indispensable resource for all scholars and students of the discipline Empire and Modern Political Thought Sankar

Muthu,2012-09-17 This collection of original essays by leading historians of political thought examines modern European thinkers writings about conquest colonization and empire The creation of vast transcontinental empires and imperial trading networks played a key role in the development of modern European political thought The rise of modern empires raised fundamental questions about virtually the entire contested set of concepts that lay at the heart of modern political philosophy such as property sovereignty international justice war trade rights transnational duties civilization and progress From Renaissance republican writings about conquest and liberty to sixteenth century writings about the Spanish conquest of the Americas through Enlightenment perspectives about conquest and global commerce and nineteenth century writings about imperial activities both within and outside of Europe these essays survey the central moral and political questions occasioned by the development of overseas empires and European encounters with the non European world among theologians historians philosophers diplomats and merchants Islamic Identity, Postcoloniality, and Educational Policy Jeffrey Ayala

Milligan,2020-02-26 This book theorizes a philosophical framework for educational policy and practice in the southern Philippines where decades of religious and political conflict between a minority Muslim community and the Philippine state has plagued the educational and economic development of the region It offers a critical historical and ethnographic analysis of a century of failed attempts under successive U S colonial and independent Philippine governments to deploy education as a tool to mitigate the conflict and assimilate the Muslim minority into the mainstream of Philippine society and examines recent efforts to integrate state and Islamic education before proposing a philosophy of prophetic pragmatism as a more promising framework for educational policy and practice that respects the religious identity and fosters the educational development of Muslim Filipinos It represents a timely contribution to the search for educational policies and practices more responsive to the needs and religious identities of Muslim communities emerging from conflict not only in the southern Philippines but in other international contexts as well Islamic Identity, Postcoloniality, and Educational Policy J.

Milligan,2005-07-31 Tensions between Muslim communities and state institutions are endemic in many parts of the world For decades successive colonial and independent governments in the Philippines have deployed educational policy as a tool to mitigate one such conflict between Muslims and Christians a conflict which has claimed more than 100 000 lives since the

1970 s Postcolonial Education and Islamic Identity in the Southern Philippines offers a postcolonial critique of this century long educational project in an effort to understand how educational policy has failed Muslim Filipinos and to seek insight from their experience into the potential and pitfalls of educational responses to ethnic and religious tensions Research Handbook on Liberalism Duncan Ivison, 2024-05-02 This timely Research Handbook reckons with the past present and future of liberalism at a time when anxieties are being expressed about its viability Duncan Ivison brings together a broad and international range of leading experts to explore the complexities of liberalism examining the extent to which it can address rising challenges from illiberalism to inequality Animals as Legal Beings Maneesha Deckha, 2020-12-16 In Animals as Legal Beings Maneesha Deckha critically examines how Canadian law and by extension other legal orders around the world participate in the social construction of the human animal divide and the abject rendering of animals as property Through a rigorous but cogent analysis Deckha calls for replacing the exploitative property classification for animals with a new transformative legal status or subjectivity called beingness In developing a new legal subjectivity for animals one oriented toward respecting animals for who they are rather than their proximity to idealized versions of humanness Animals as Legal Beings seeks to bring critical animal theorizations and animal law closer together Throughout Deckha draws upon the feminist animal care tradition as well as feminist theories of embodiment and relationality postcolonial theory and critical animal studies Her argument is critical of the liberal legal view of animals and directed at a legal subjectivity for animals attentive to their embodied vulnerability and desirous of an animal friendly cultural shift in the core foundations of anthropocentric legal systems Theoretically informed yet accessibly presented Animals as Legal Beings makes a significant contribution to an array of interdisciplinary debates and is an innovative and astute argument for a meaningful more than human turn in law and policy Post-Islamist Political Theory Meysam Badamchi, 2017-06-22 This book deals with the concept of post Islamism from a mainly philosophical perspective using political liberalism as elaborated by John Rawls as the key interpretive tool What distinguishes this book from most scholarship in Iranian studies is that it primarily deals with the projects of Iranian intellectuals from a normative perspective as the concept is understood by analytical philosophers The volume includes analyses of the strengths and weakness of the arguments underlying each thinker s ideas rather than looking for their historical and sociological origins genealogy etc Each chapter develops a particular conjectural argument for the possibility of an overlapping consensus between Islam and political liberalism though the arguments presented draw upon different Islamic particularly Shia resources Thus while Shabestari and Soroush primarily reason from a modernist theological or kalami perspective M H Tabatabai and Mehdi Haeri Yazdi s arguments are mainly based on traditional Islamic philosophy and Quranic exegesis While Kadivar An Naim and Fanaei are post Islamist in the exact sense of the term Malekian goes beyond typical post Islamism by proposing a theory for spirituality that constrains religion within the boundaries of enlightenment thought Throughout the book specific attention is given to Ferrara and March s readings of political liberalism

Although the book's chapters constitute a whole they can also be read independently if the reader is only curious about particular intellectuals whose political theories are discussed Liberalism, Diversity and Domination Inder S.

Marwah, 2019-05-23 This study addresses the complex and often fractious relationship between liberal political theory and difference by examining how distinctive liberalisms respond to human diversity Drawing on published and unpublished writings private correspondence and lecture notes the study offers comprehensive reconstructions of Immanuel Kant's and John Stuart Mill's treatment of racial cultural gender based and class based difference to understand how two leading figures reacted to pluralism and what contemporary readers might draw from them The book mounts a qualified defence of Millian liberalism against Kantianism's predominance in contemporary liberal political philosophy and resists liberalism's implicit association with imperialist domination by showing different divergent responses to diversity Here are two distinctive liberal visions of moral and political life Postcolonial Translocations Marga Munkelt, Markus Schmitz, Mark Stein, Silke

Stroh, 2013 The sites from which postcolonial cultural articulations develop and the sites at which they are received have undergone profound transformations within the last decades This book traces the accelerating emergence of cultural crossovers and overlaps in a global perspective and through a variety of disciplinary approaches It starts from the premise that after the spatial turn human action and cultural representations can no longer be grasped as firmly located in or clearly demarcated by territorial entities The collection of essays investigates postcolonial articulations of various genres and media in their spatiality and locatedness while envisaging acts of location as dynamic cultural processes It explores the ways in which critical spatial thinking can be made Productive Testing the uses and limitations of translocation as an open exploratory model for a critically spatialized postcolonial studies it covers a wide range of cultural expressions from the anglophone world and beyond literature film TV photography and other forms of visual art philosophy historical memory and tourism The extensive introductory chapter charts various facets of spatial thinking from a variety of disciplines and critically discusses their implications for postcolonial studies The Contributors' essays range from theoretical interventions into the critical routines of postcolonial criticism to case studies of specific cultural texts objects and events reflecting temporal and spatial material and intellectual physical and spiritual mobility What emerges is a fascinating survey of the multiple directions postcolonial translocations can take in the future This book is aimed at students and scholars of postcolonial literary and cultural studies diaspora studies migration studies transnational studies globalisation studies critical space studies urban studies film studies media studies art history philosophy history and anthropology Contributors Diana Brydon Lars Eckstein Paloma Fresno Calleja Lucia Kr mer Gesa Mackenthun Thomas Martinek Sandra Meyer Therese M Meyer Marga Munkelt Lynda Ng Claudia Perner Katharina Rennhak Gundo Rial y Costas Markus Schmitz Mark Stein Silke Stroh Kathy Ann Tan Petra Tournay Theodotou Daria Tunca Jessica Voges Roland Walter Dirk Wiemann The Liberal Script at the Beginning of the 21st Century Tanja A. Börzel, Johannes Gerschewski, Michael Zürn, 2024-10-10 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. 21st century liberalism is being contested on multiple fronts and by a wide range of actors. To understand these challengers it is important to have a better grasp of their common target. This book introduces the liberal script as an analytical concept that allows us to analyze and problematize liberal thinking as well as its different components and linkages and the tensions that they produce. What happens when the pursuit of market efficiency is incompatible with social justice? It is these tensions between the different components of the liberal script that are at the heart of the challenges against it. Different societies have resolved these tensions in different ways leading to a variety of liberal subscripts and their contestations. The volume integrates theoretical and methodological perspectives from different disciplines including political science, sociology, law, history, philosophy, postcolonial studies and educational science. In demonstrating the theoretical and empirical added value of using the concept of liberal script, the volume presents a multifaceted and nuanced picture of what is at stake in the challenges to liberalism in the early 21st century. This volume has emerged from research carried out as part of the Cluster of Excellence Contestations of the Liberal Script (SCRIPTS) which analyzes the contemporary controversies about liberal ideas, institutions and practices on the national and international level from a historical, global and comparative perspective. It connects academic expertise in the social sciences and area studies and collaborates with research institutions in all world regions. Operating since 2019 and funded by the German Research Foundation (DFG), SCRIPTS unites eight major Berlin-based research institutions: Freie Universität Berlin, the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin, the Berlin Social Science Center (WZB), the Hertie School, the German Institute for Economic Research (DIW), the Berlin branch of the German Institute of Global and Area Studies (GIGA), the Centre for East European and International Studies (ZOIS) and the Leibniz Zentrum Moderner Orient (ZMO).

Multicultural Politics of Recognition and Postcolonial Citizenship Rachel Busbridge, 2017-07-20. This book examines claims for recognition of cultural difference from immigrant and Indigenous minorities, highlighting the ways in which they intersect with ideas of national community. Busbridge argues that there is an important albeit underexplored relationship between nation and multicultural politics of recognition. Drawing on the Australian context, the book explores how nation features as a productive if somewhat ambivalent discursive resource in contemporary Muslim and Aboriginal struggles to be recognised. In demanding recognition, minorities enter into the business of making the nation by positing alternative conceptions of national identity, culture and belonging that are more attentive to their differences and claims. This dynamic is engaged as an expression of postcolonial citizenship. Postcolonial citizenship is imagined in terms of the ways in which minority groups actualise multicultural realities through rewriting ideas of national community. It underlines the critical importance of revising the power relations that deem some groups more national and others less so and which in Western multicultural societies are typically tied to notions of the West and its others. This book is an important conceptual, theoretical and political intervention.

Jose Rizal Lisandro E. Claudio,2018-10-30 The global history of liberalism has paid too much attention to the West neglecting the contributions of liberals from colonial nations This book mines the thought of Filipino propagandist and novelist Jose Rizal to present a vision of liberalism for the colonized It is both an introduction to Rizal and a treatise on rights freedom and tyranny in colonial contexts Though a work on history it responds to the illiberal present of rising authoritarianism and populism Progress, Pluralism, and Politics David Williams,2021-01-13 Liberal thinkers of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries were alert to the political costs and human cruelties involved in European colonialism but they also thought that European expansion held out progressive possibilities In Progress Pluralism and Politics David Williams examines the colonial and anti colonial arguments of Adam Smith Immanuel Kant Jeremy Bentham and L T Hobhouse Williams locates their ambivalent attitude towards European conquest and colonial rule in a set of tensions between the impact of colonialism on European states the possibilities of progress in distant and diverse places and the relationship between universalism and cultural pluralism In so doing he reveals some of the central ambiguities that characterize the ways that liberal thought has dealt with the reality of an illiberal world Of particular importance are appeals to various forms of universal history attempts to mediate between the claims of identity and the reality of difference and the different ways of thinking about the achievement of liberal goods in other places Pointing to key elements in still ongoing debates within liberal states about how they should relate to illiberal places Progress Pluralism and Politics enriches the discussion on political thought and the relationship between liberalism and colonialism The Radical Critique of Liberalism
