Distinguished Outsider Christian Rogowski, 1994 A study of the shifts of critical opinion on Musil with special reference to The Man Without Qualities Austrian writer Robert Musil 1880 1942 ranks with Proust Joyce Kafka and Thomas Mann as a master of the modern prose narrative his works encompass a wide range of theoretical and aesthetic impulses ranging from Nietzsche to Mach from Gestalt theory to Freudian psychoanalysis This volume traces the scholarly reception of Musil's works marked by discontinuities and abrupt shifts of perception At the beginning of his career Musil was stereotyped as an author primarily interested in morally questionable psychological issues before being plunged into near oblivion by his exile forced by National Socialism After the Second World War he was rediscovered but the development of Musil studies was severely hampered by the inability to determine an authoritative edition of his unfinished masterpiece Der Mann ohne Eigenschaften The Man without Qualities 1930-43 Professor Rogowski shows how successive generations of scholars have appropriated Musil for their own ends constructing a bewildering and often contradictory array of images of the author according to their own ideological and methodological biases and how this multitude of different perspectives corresponds with changes in German studies and historical developments over the past four decades In so doing he sheds new light on Musil's paradoxical status as in the words of Frank Kermode the least read of the great twentieth century novelists CHRISTIAN ROGOWSKI is assistant professor of German at Amherst College

Miniature Metropolis Andreas Huyssen, 2015-04-06 Andreas Huyssen explores the history and theory of metropolitan miniatures short prose pieces about urban life written for European newspapers His fine grained readings open vistas into German critical theory and the visual arts revealing the miniature to be one of the few genuinely innovative modes of spatialized writing created by modernism

The Twenty Days of Turin Giorgio De Maria, 2017-02-07 An NPR Best Book of the Year Vulture 15 Must Read Translated Books From the Past 5 Years Written during the height of the 1970s Italian domestic terror a cult novel with distinct echoes of Lovecraft and Borges makes its English language debut In the spare wing of a church run sanatorium some zealous youths create the Library a space where lonely citizens can read one another's personal diaries and connect with like minded souls in dialogues across the ether But when their scribbles devolve into the ugliest confessions of the macabre the Library's users learn too late that a malicious force has consumed their privacy and their sanity As the city of Turin suffers a twenty day phenomenon of collective psychosis culminating in nightly massacres that hundreds of witnesses cannot explain the Library is shut down and erased from history That is until a lonely salaryman decides to investigate these mysterious events which the citizenry of Turin fear to mention Inevitably drawn into the city's occult netherworld he unearths the stuff of modern nightmares what's shared can never be unshared An allegory inspired by the grisly neo fascist campaigns of its day The Twenty Days of Turin has enjoyed a fervent cult following in Italy for forty years Now in a fretful new age of lone wolf terrorism fueled by social media we can find uncanny resonances in Giorgio De Maria's vision of mass fear a mute palpitating dread that seeps into every moment of daily existence With its stunning anticipation of the Internet and the apocalyptic repercussions of oversharing this bleak prescient story is more disturbingly pertinent than ever Brilliantly translated into English for the first time by Ramon Glazov The Twenty Days of Turin establishes De Maria's place among the literary ranks of Italo Calvino and beside classic horror masters such as Edgar Allan Poe and H P Lovecraft Hauntingly imaginative with visceral prose that chills to the marrow the novel is an eerily clairvoyant magnum opus long overdue but ever timely

Modernism and Morality M. Halliwell,2001-09-12 Modernism and Morality discusses the relationship between artistic and moral ideas in European and American literary modernism Rather than reading modernism as a complete rejection of social morality this study shows how early twentieth century writers like Conrad Faulkner Gide Kafka Mann and Stein actually devised new aesthetic techniques to address ethical problems By focusing on a range of decadent naturalist avant garde and expatriate writers between 1890 and the late 1930s this book reassesses the moral trajectory of transatlantic fiction

Memory, History, Nation Susannah Radstone,2017-09-04 In the last decade a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity authority and universality memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial subjective and local At the same time memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent This inter disciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory The chapters in this volume offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained They explore the relation between individual and social memory between real and imaginary event and fantasy history and myth Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book Topics covered range from the Basque country to Cambodia from Hungary to South Africa from the Finnish Civil War to the cult Jim Jarmusch movie Dead Man from the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame to Australia Part I Transforming Memory is concerned primarily with the social and personal transmission of memory across time and generations Part II Remembering Suffering Trauma and History brings the after effects of catastrophe to the fore Part III Patterning the National Past the relation between nation and memory is the central issue Part IV And Then Silence reflects on the complex and multiple meaning of silence and oblivion wherein amnesia is often used as a figure for the denial of shamefu

Kendall R. Phillips, 2004-04-12 A collection of essays by prominent scholars from many disciplines on the construction of public memories The study of public memory has grown rapidly across numerous disciplines in recent years among them American studies history philosophy sociology architecture and communications As scholars probe acts of collective remembrance they have shed light on the cultural processes of memory Essays contained in this volume address issues such as the scope of public memory the ways we forget the relationship between politics and memory and the material practices of memory Stephen Browne's contribution studies the alternative to memory erasure silence and forgetting as posited by Hannah Arendt in her classic Eichmann in Jerusalem Rosa Eberly writes about the Texas tower shootings of 1966 memories of which have been minimized by local officials Charles Morris examines public reactions to Larry Kramer's declaration that Abraham Lincoln was homosexual horrifying the guardians of Lincoln's public memory And Barbie Zelizer considers the impact on public memory of visual images specifically still photographs of individuals about to perish e.g. people falling from the World Trade Center and the sense of communal loss they manifest Whether addressing the transitory and mutable nature of collective memories over time or the ways various groups maintain engender or resist those memories this work constitutes a major contribution to our understanding of how public memory has been and might continue to be framed

Sense and Essence Birgit Meyer, Mattijs van de Port, 2018-07-01 Contrary to popular perceptions cultural heritage is not given but constantly in the making a construction subject to dynamic processes of re-inventing culture within particular social formations and bound to particular forms of mediation Yet the appeal of cultural heritage often rests on its denial of being a fabrication its promise to provide an essential ground to social cultural identities Taking this paradoxical feature as a point of departure and anchoring the discussion to two heuristic concepts the politics of authentication and aesthetics of persuasion the chapters herein explore how this tension is central to the dynamics of heritage formation worldwide

Time's Echo Jeremy Eichler, 2023-08-29 A BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR THE NEW YORK TIMES NPR WINNER OF THREE NATIONAL JEWISH BOOK AWARDS Finalist for the Baillie Gifford Prize for Non Fiction A stirring account of how music bears witness to history and carries forward the memory of the wartime past SUNDAY TIMES OF LONDON HISTORY BOOK OF THE YEAR In 1785 when the great German poet Friedrich Schiller penned his immortal Ode to Joy he crystallized the deepest hopes and dreams of the European Enlightenment for a new era of peace and freedom a time when millions would be embraced as equals Beethoven's Ninth Symphony then gave wing to Schiller's words but barely a century later these same words were claimed by Nazi propagandists and twisted by a barbarism so complete that it ruptured as one philosopher put it the deep layer of solidarity among all who wear a human face When it comes to how societies remember these increasingly distant dreams and catastrophes we often think of history books archives documentaries or memorials carved from stone But in Time's Echo the award winning critic and cultural historian Jeremy Eichler makes a passionate and revelatory case for the power of music as culture's memory an art form uniquely capable of carrying forward meaning from the past With a critic's ear a scholar's erudition and a novelist's eye for detail Eichler shows how four towering composers Richard Strauss Arnold Schoenberg Dmitri Shostakovich and Benjamin Britten lived through the era of the Second World War and the Holocaust and later transformed their experiences into deeply moving transcendent works of music scores that echo lost time Summoning the supporting testimony of writers poets philosophers musicians and everyday citizens Eichler reveals how the essence of an entire epoch has been inscribed in these sounds and stories Along the way he visits key locations central to the music's creation from the ruins of Coventry Cathedral to the site of the Babi Yar ravine in Kyiv As the living memory of the Second World War fades Time's Echo proposes new ways of listening to history and learning to hear between its notes the resonances of what another era has written heard dreamed hoped and mourned A lyrical narrative full of insight and compassion this book deepens how we think about the legacies of war the presence of the past and the renewed promise of art for our lives today

Attention and Distraction in Modern German Literature, Thought, and Culture Carolin Duttlinger, 2022-05-26 Attention is fundamental to how we experience reality and yet this notion has been understood and practised in very different ways across history This interdisciplinary study explores the dynamic relationship between attention and its supposed opposite distraction as it unfolds from the eighteenth century to the present day Its primary focus is on twentieth century Germany and Austria where matters of in attention gained a unique urgency during a period of social change and political crisis Building on Enlightenment practices of self observation nineteenth century Germany was the birthplace of experimental psychology a discipline which sought to measure and potentially enhance human attention This approach was also adopted outside the psychological laboratory for instance in the First World War when psychological testing was used to select soldiers for particular strategic positions After the war these techniques filtered through into everyday life Weimar Germany was unique in the western world in rolling out the methods of psychotechnics across civilian society in fields such as work and education advertising and mass entertainment This state sponsored programme aimed to reshape people s minds and behaviour in order to build a more efficient streamlined society But as this study shows this initiative also had profound repercussions in the fields of thought literature and culture New readings of leading writers and intellectuals of the period Kafka Musil Kracauer Benjamin and Adorno are interspersed with broader cultural historical chapters dedicated to the history of psychology and psychiatry to Weimar self help literature portrait photography and musical culture

From Literature to Cultural Literacy Naomi Segal, Daniela

Koleva, 2014-10-06 Researchers in the new field of literary and cultural studies look at social issues especially issues of change and mobility through the lens of literary thinking The essays range from cultural memory and migration to electronic textuality and biopolitics

Commemorating and Forgetting Martin J. Murray, 2013-04-25 When the past is painful as riddled with violence and injustice as it is in postapartheid South Africa remembrance presents a problem at once practical and ethical how much of the past to preserve and recollect and how much to erase and forget if the new nation is to ever unify and move forward The new South Africa s confrontation of this dilemma is Martin J Murray s subject in Commemorating and Forgetting More broadly this book explores how collective memory works how framing events persons and places worthy of recognition and honor entails a selective appropriation of the past not a mastery of history How is the historical past made to appear in the present In addressing these questions Murray reveals how collective memory is stored and disseminated in architecture statuary monuments and memorials literature and art landscapes of remembrance that selectively recall and even fabricate history in the service of nation building He examines such vehicles of memory in postapartheid South Africa and parses the stories they tell stories by turn sanitized distorted embellished and compressed In this analysis Commemorating and Forgetting marks a critical move toward recognizing how the legacies and impositions of white minority rule far from being truly past remain embedded in intertwined with and imprinted on the new nation s here and now

Places of Commemoration Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn, 2001 Everyone is occupied consciously or unconsciously with identity one s origin and the question of one s place in humankind and society of the past present and future Identity and memory are not stable and objective things but representations or constructions of reality related to a particular interest such as class gender of power relations Identity is problematic without history and without the commemoration of history and of course such remembrance may distort historical events and facts When dealing with gardens a substantial part of our physical environment there are always unspoken questions of identity Places of Commemoration examines commemorative sites of different character including gardens landscapes memorials cemeteries and sites of former Nazi concentration camps detailing the ideas behind the creation of memorials and monuments and the struggles over the narratives they present

The Legacy of a Troubled Past Bernard Cros, Mathilde Rogez, Gilles Teulie, 2022-06-07 Since the advent of democracy in 1994 South Africa has been engaged in an unprecedented exercise of national soul searching torn between the need to lay to rest centuries of racial conflict and the desire to come to terms with its traumatic history This book asks whether the country has begun to turn the corner on the legacy of collective hurt To do so it ranges in scope across 350 years of South African history encompassing the struggle against the apartheid regime the downfall of white supremacy the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the first 25 years of democracy up to more recent movements such as RhodesMustFall or the inquests into the 2012 Marikana massacre that point to the persistence of traumatic memory in contemporary society The authors assembled here set out to analyse the representation of such memory how it has been woven into narratives recorded preserved and questioned and how issues of individual and collective responsibility have been grafted onto it through the visual arts literature political discourse and public action In focusing on memory along with its derived forms of memorialization collective memory nostalgia or post memory our contributors pose a fundamental question is South Africa finally coming to the end of the post apartheid transition period Do the decades of memory work on racial violence and repression examined here hold out hope for the nation to make peace with its past
