Indigenous Literature of Oceania Nicholas J. Goetzfridt, 1995-02-28 Oceania has a rich and growing literary tradition The imaginative literature that emerged in the 1960s often reflected the forms and structures of European literature though the ideas expressed were typically anticolonial After three decades the literature of Oceania has become much more complex in terms of style as well as content and authors write in a multiplicity of styles and voices While the written literature of Oceania is continuously gaining more critical attention questions about the imposition of European literary standards and values as a further extension of colonialism in the Pacific have become a central issue This book is a detailed survey of the expanding amount of critical and interpretive material written about the imaginative literature of authors from Oceania It focuses on commentary and scholarship concerned with the poetry fiction and drama written in English by indigenous peoples of the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia The criticisms have appeared in academic books and journals since the mid 1960s They have developed to the point at which critical issues related to decolonization and the expression of ideas without having to first satisfy foreign expectations often determine the direction of such discussions Entries are grouped in

Mimesis, Genres and Post-Colonial Discourse J. Durix, 1998-08-17 Through a broad ranging survey of the allegory utopia the historical novel and the epic in post colonial literature Jean Pierre Durix proposes a critical reassessment of the theory of genres He argues that in the New Literatures which are often rooted in hybrid aesthetics the often decried mimesis must be viewed from a completely different angle Analysing texts by Gabriel Garc a M rquez Salman Rushdie Alejo Carpentier Wilson Harris and Edouard Glissant he pleads for the redefinition of magic realism if the term is to retain generic relevance Striding Both Worlds Melissa Kennedy,2011-01-01 Striding Both Worlds illuminates European influences in the fiction of Witi Ihimaera Aotearoa New Zealand s foremost M ori writer in order to question the common interpretation of M ori writing as displaying a distinctive M ori world view and literary style Far from being discrete endogenous units all cultures and literatures arise out of constant interaction engagement and even friction Thus M ori culture since the 1970s has been shaped by a long history of interaction with colonial British Pakeha and other postcolonial and indigenous cultures M ori sovereignty and renaissance movements have harnessed the structures of European modernity nation building and more recently Western global capitalism transculturation and diaspora contexts which contest New Zealand bicultural identity encouraging M ori to express their difference and self sufficiency Ihimaera s fiction has been largely viewed as embodying the specific values of M ori renaissance and biculturalism However Ihimaera in his techniques modes and themes is indebted to a wider range of literary influences than national literary critique accounts for In taking an international literary perspective this book draws critical attention to little known or disregarded aspects such as Ihimaera s love of opera the extravagance of his baroque lyricism his exploration of fantasy and his increasing interest in taking M ori into the global arena In revealing a broad range of cultural and aesthetic influences and inter references commonly seen as irrelevant to contemporary M ori literature Striding Both Worlds argues for a hitherto frequently overlooked and undervalued depth and complexity to Ihimaera s imaginary The present study argues that an emphasis on difference tends to lose sight of fiction s capacity to appreciate originality and individuality in the polyphony of its very form and function In effect literary negotiation of M ori sovereign space takes place in its forms rather than in its content the uniqueness of M ori literature is found in the way it uses the common tools of literary fiction including language imagery the text s relationship to reality and the function of characterization By interpreting aspects of Ihimaera s oeuvre for what they share with other literatures in English Striding Both Worlds aims to present an additional complementary approach to M ori New Zealand and postcolonial literary analysis The Journal of the Polynesian Society Polynesian Society (N.Z.),1915 Vols for 1892 1941 contain the transactions and proceedings of the society Memoirs of the Polynesian Society ,1924 Transactions and Proceedings Royal Society of New Zealand,1880 Transactions and Proceedings of the Royal Society of New Zealand Royal Society of New Zealand,1882 Includes proceedings of member institutes of the Society and of the Society s Science Congress through v 84 1956 57 Transactions and Proceedings of the New Zealand Institute New Zealand Institute,1882 The proceedings or notices of the member institutes of the society form part of the section Proceedings in each volume lists of members are included in v 1 41 43 60 64 The Ancient History of the Maori: Horo-uta or Taki tumu migration John White,1887 An official collection
