Poverty In Muslim Countries And The New International Economic Order:

Poverty in Muslim Countries and the New International Economic Order M. Iqbal, H. Ahmed, 2005-08-17 This text explains how various issues in the field of globalization relate to developing countries in general and Muslim countries in particular. It highlights both the positive as well as negative aspects of globalization. The text also highlights the reasons why a very large number of countries and a large proportion of the world population view globalization with suspicion despite many of its positive aspects. Another important issue discussed in the text is poverty in Muslim countries. The text provides useful insights into the extent, reasons, and the impact of poverty in these countries and gives policy recommendations for its alleviation.

Exodus From Empire Terrence E. Paupp, 2006-11-20 This book lays out a comprehensive vision for a new world order based on cooperation between the developing world and leading Left countries in Latin America. Arguing that the ravages of corporate capitalism are unsustainable, Terrence E. Paupp presents an energetic critique of the problems of empire and looks ahead to a global countermovement against the IMF and US hegemony.

The Challenge Of The New International Economic Order Edwin P. Reubens, 2019-07-11 This volume deals with the recent proposals in the United Nations and elsewhere for reconstructing the existing economic relations between less developed and more developed countries. The contributors to the book undertake to clarify the NIEO proposals, asking specifically to what extent they are really new, fully international, realistically economic, and are the constituents of a workable order. The confrontation of NIEO demands and real world constraints is a leading feature of the book, and each of the chapters deals with one or more elements of the NIEO proposals against the background of relevant conditions in both the countries and the international institutions and practices that interrelate them. The authors arrive at a considerable degree of consensus, mostly agreeing that the NIEO is not really a new order but endorsing specific NIEO proposals that will achieve gradual progress for LDCs in absolute terms.

Islamic Banking and Finance in the European Union M. Fahim Khan, Mario Porzio, 2010-01-01 As an introduction to the complex issue of harmonization of legal and regulatory structure of the European financial system and Islamic finance, this is a useful and welcome volume. The ideas, insights, and practical issues addressed in the informed papers that compose the book should be valuable for academics and students of finance and to those who provide legal and financial services. The book will be helpful also to European regulators who have yet to appreciate the importance of Islamic finance and its potential contribution to financial globalization as well as to European economic growth.

Abbas Mirakhor, Former Executive Director, International Monetary Fund, US. This timely book examines the authorization of Shari'ah compliant intermediaries as either credit institutions or as investment companies in the European Union. The contributing authors explore the key topics of this area through differing yet parallel perspectives, for example, comparing economic and legal standpoints looking at both European and national levels and considering both academic and technical approaches. The book discusses the common origin of Islamic and Western traditions in commercial and banking transactions, reviewing a period in which the Italian merchants and their organizations drove the rebirth of post medieval society in trade and law The editors investigate whether the Islamic banking and financial model complies with the European framework spelling out the different experiences in single Member States Germany France Italy and the United Kingdom Notwithstanding the obstacles to being authorized as domestic credit institutions they conclude that the access of Islamic intermediaries is suitable and may have positive effects on European integration as well as increasing the competition among the stand still operators and evoking the ethical dimension of banking and finance The book also highlights how Islamic banking would make the industry more inclusive This multidisciplinary book will appeal greatly to economics and legal scholars with an interest in European and international banking and financial law as well as postgraduate students in international law and banking law Practitioners and regulators will also find this book an invaluable resource
