Reasonable Risk Alcohol In Perspective:

Reasonable Risk Marjana Martinic, Barbara C. Leigh, 2004 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Reasonable Risk Barbara Leigh, Marjana Martinic, 2004-01-01 Reasonable Risk examines the concept of risk as it applies to everyday life in general and to alcohol consumption specifically The book addresses how we assess risks and benefits and the strategies we use to manage them It examines the elements that shape our perceptions of risk cultural influences social factors and how we are presented with information about risk The final chapter of the book focuses on the role of risk in policy formulation examining in particular how alcohol policies are developed within the context of individual and societal responsibility Drinking in Context Gerry Stimson, Marcus Grant, Marie Choquet, Preston Garrison, 2013-05-13 Drinking beverage alcohol is a widespread source of individual and social pleasure in most countries around the world Yet some drinking patterns can lead to serious physical mental and social harms Drinking in Context is intended to complement existing volumes dealing with international alcohol policy by focusing on three main themes drinking patterns targeted interventions and partnership development An understanding that patterns of drinking are important predictors of outcomes has led to a growing realization that alcohol policies and prevention strategies need to focus on excessive or irresponsible drinking As a result there has been a shift towards interventions that address the targeted reduction of harm These approaches recognize socio cultural differences and avoid trying to impose a one size fits all solution In this context multi stakeholder partnerships offer an excellent opportunity to promote the complex mix of measures required by each society Shared responsibilities lead to shared solutions Critical Thinking in Clinical Practice Eileen Gambrill, 2012-04-26 Praise for Critical Thinking in Clinical Practice Third Edition Eileen Gambrill is unparalleled in her ability to describe common flaws and biases in clinical decision making The result in this revised edition is a steadfast call for change that also acknowledges the demands of practice A must read for clinicians and researchers alike Elizabeth K Anthony PhD Assistant Professor School of Social Work Arizona State University This Third Edition builds upon the impressive strengths of Gambrill's prior treatments of the topic to support the notion that critical thinking is a teachable skill and one essential for contemporary practice in the human services This book should be the default authority on the topic of critical thinking for human service professionals and would be an excellent textbook Bruce A Thyer PhD LCSW Professor and former Dean Florida State University College of Social Work I was skeptical about how Critical Thinking in Clinical Practice could be improved but Eileen Gambrill has succeeded Her articulation of critical thinking skills for clinical decisions ultimately will benefit the people we serve Joanne Yaffe PhD ACSW Associate Professor of Social Work and Adjunct Associate Professor of Psychiatry University of Utah A balanced and illustrative guide to incorporating critical thinking values knowledge and skills into clinical education and practice Now in a third edition Critical Thinking in Clinical Practice is written for helping professionals who want to think more clearly about the decisions they make and the context in which they make them It is a practical volume for clinicians who would like to expand their knowledge of common pitfalls and fallacies in clinical reasoning As in earlier editions this Third Edition draws on research related to problem solving and decision making illustrating the relevance of research findings to everyday clinical practice and policy Revised throughout the new edition includes discussion of The influence of pharmaceutical companies on the helping professions including disease mongering the creation of bogus risks problems and needless worries Different kinds of propaganda in the helping professions that compromise informed consent Additional coverage of classification pathology reliance on authority and hazards in data collection The development of decision aids of value to both professionals and clients The relative contribution of specific interventions compared to nonspecific factors to positive outcome Factors related to decision making in multidisciplinary teams New developments regarding intuitive and analytic reasoning The pragmatic theory of fallacies Designed to enhance the quality of services offered to clients Critical Thinking in Clinical Practice Third Edition is filled with insightful examples useful lists websites and guidelines presenting an essential resource for all helping professionals and students in the helping professions

Corporate Social Responsibility and Alcohol Marcus Grant, Joyce O'Connor, 2013-05-13 Increased scrutiny on the part of the general public media and government has warranted a reexamination of corporate responsibilities standards of accountability the company's role in its local and extended community and its ethical position in our society and culture Corporate Social Responsibility and Alcohol considers the basic values ethics policies and practices of a company's business Particular attention will be paid to the alcohol beverage industry and the many unique issues that are specific to this business such as responsible marketing promotional and advertising campaigns and strategies the particular risks inherent in any alcoholic product issues of abuse prevention research and legal and ethical aspects of alcohol This will be the seventh volume in the ICAP Series on Alcohol in Society

Expressions of Drunkenness (Four Hundred Rabbits) Anne Fox, Mike MacAvoy, 2011-01-07 The goal of this book is to contribute to the ongoing scholarly discussion on the very serious topic of drunkenness The phrase four hundred rabbits is one of many illustrations of the deep cultural religious and social influences on how individuals and communities view alcohol intoxication The Aztecs believed alcohol to have a divine origin with a god and goddess giving birth to 400 meaning innumerable in ancient Aztec divine children or rabbit gods each representing a varying degree and expression of alcohol intoxication and drunkenness Hence the book's subtitle which at first glance might seem light hearted but in fact represents an in depth look at a weighty topic With such rooted sociocultural factors in mind the International Center for Alcohol Policies ICAP and DrinkWise Australia collaborated to prepare a publication that advances current understanding of the individual and collective meanings purposes and functions of drunkenness As the authors explain interpretations by different disciplines of the terms intoxication and drunkenness are often inconsistent The chapters of this book discuss intoxication and drunkenness from three perspectives biological cultural and social By placing intoxication and drunkenness into these contexts the book is able to offer language and conceptual tools to help advance the ongoing discussion on how best to reduce alcohol related harm and encourage responsible enjoyment of beverage alcohol Readers in need of an in depth understanding of the varied dimensions of extreme drunkenness will add this excellent resource to their personal library

Swimming with Crocodiles Marjana Martinic,Fiona Measham,2008-06-19 There is evidence that a distinct pattern of alcohol consumption is emerging across the world and is a cause for concern because of its relationship with a range of health and social problems Its visibility particularly its high involvement of young people makes this not only an issue for public safety and order in many countries but also a highly contentious and politicized subject This book examines the rapid and heavy drinking behavior by young people described in a number of countries positioning it within its appropriate social historical and cultural contexts The book argues in favor of a new term extreme drinking to fully encapsulate the many facets of this behavior taking into account the underlying motivations for the heavy excessive and unrestrained drinking patterns of many young people It also acknowledges the drinking process itself and accommodates greater focus on outcomes that are likely to follow In many ways extreme drinking is not so far removed from other extreme behaviors such as extreme sports all offer a challenge their pursuit is motivated by an expectation of pleasure and they are by design not without risk to those who engage in them others around them and society as a whole Edited by Marjana Martinic and Fiona Measham Swimming with Crocodiles is the ninth volume in the ICAP Book Series on Alcohol in Society The authors discuss the factors that motivate extreme drinking address the developmental cultural and historical contexts that have surrounded it and offer a new approach to addressing this behavior through prevention and policy The centerpiece of the book is a series of focus groups conducted with young people in Brazil China Italy Nigeria Russia South Africa and the United Kingdom which examine their views on extreme drinking motivations behind it and the cultural similarities and differences that exist conferring at once risk and protective factors

Unmet Need in Psychiatry Gavin Andrews,Scott Henderson,2000-01-06 This book considers ways to resolve the imbalance between the demand and supply of mental health services Treatment services in most countries reach only a minority of people identified as suffering from a mental disorder Few countries can provide adequate health services for all the mentally ill yet none has developed a rational system to decide who should be treated The questions are clear Could we develop a staged treatment process to reach all in need If not how do we decide who to treat

What should the criteria be for deployment of scarce treatment resources How do we determine such criteria What are the ethical implications of applying such criteria In this pioneering work an international team of eminent psychiatrists epidemiologists health administrators economists and health planners examine these questions The result will inform and encourage all concerned with the equitable provision of mental health care Environmental Health Perspectives

,2004-07 Neurobehavioral Toxicology: Neurological and Neuropsychological Perspectives, Volume III Stanley Berent,James W. Albers,2010-10-18 This is the final volume in a three volume work that has addressed the scientific methodologies relevant to clinical neurobehavioral toxicology Volume I focused on basic concepts and methodologies in Neurobehavioral Toxicology with Volume II focusing on the peripheral nervous system Volume III attends to what is known about industrial and environmental chemicals medicines and substances of abuse and how these agents affect the central nervous system All substances have the capacity to be toxic depending on factors that include the physical properties of the chemical or compound organism related variables or interaction between the two These substances on the other hand and as a result of these same factors might be used therapeutically or even recreationally The difference between medicine recreational drug or poison depends often on a careful balance between adverse and intended effects How to determine that a specified substance has caused harm is emphasized in the present volume by way of case examples and discussion Illnesses and behavioral variations that compete with toxicant induced explanations for findings in a given case as well as the various controversies that can arise around issues of diagnosis and causal determination are treated comprehensively in this volume

Alcohol Consumption Richard Cooke,Dominic Conroy,Emma Louise Davies,Martin S. Hagger,Richard O. de Visser,2021-05-10 This Handbook provides a broad and comprehensive overview of psychological research on alcohol consumption It explores the psychological theories underpinning alcohol use and misuse discusses the interventions that can be designed around these theories and offers key insight into future developments within the field A range of international experts assess the unique factors that contribute to alcohol related behaviour as differentiated from other health related behaviours They cover the theory and context of alcohol consumption including possible implications of personality type motivation and self regulation and cultural and demographic factors After reviewing the evidence for psychological theories and predictors as accounts for alcohol consumption the book goes on to focus on external influences on consumption and interventions for reducing alcohol consumption including those based on purchasing and consumption behaviour technologies such as personalised feedback apps and social and media phenomena such as Dry January and Hello Sunday Morning It brings together cutting edge contemporary research on alcohol consumption in childhood and adolescence including topics such as managing offers or drinks pre drinking online identities how children develop their beliefs about alcohol and how adolescents discuss alcohol with their parents The book also offers a rounded presentation of the tensions involved in debates around the psychological impacts of alcohol use discussing its role in helping people to socialise and unwind as well as recognising the possible negative impacts on health education and relationships This book will be of interest to academics policymakers public health officials practitioners charities and other stakeholders interested in understanding how alcohol affects people psychologically This book will also be a key resource for students and researchers from across the social sciences

Assessment of Risk from Low-Level Exposure to Radiation and Chemicals A. D. Woodhead, 2013-11-21 The present workshop had its origins in discussions among Alexander Hollaender Oddvar Nygaard Donald Borg Richard Setlow and Victor Bond on the need for a symposium that would deal with a broad spectrum of pressing subjects related to the physics chemistry and biological actions of ionizing radiations and the theoretical and practical problems of risk assessment It soon became apparent that the spectrum of subjects considered was too broad for the desired depth of coverage in fact it seemed unlikely that the conference participants would have the background knowledge to span the gamut Therefore two separate meetings were decided upon the first of which Comparison of Mechanisms of Carcinogenesis by Radiation and Chemical Agents was held at the National Bureau of Standards Gaithersburg on December 6 7 1983 The meeting was sponsored by the NCI The second meeting has emerged as the present workshop at Brookhaven National Laboratory An interface between the two conferences has been provided by Michael Fry and Donald Borg who have summarized the salient points emanating from the NCI Symposium We intended that the first conference should focus on the basic mechanisms of radiation and chemical carcinogenesis while the second the present meeting would emphasize exposure response relationships particularly the theoretical and practical similarities and differences between exposure to chemical carcinogens compared to exposure to ionizing radiation
