Reasoning After Revelation Dialogues In Postmodern Jewish Philosophy:

Reasoning After Revelation Steven Kepnes, Peter Ochs, Robert Gibbs, 2019-08-30 Postmodern Jewish thinkers understand their Jewishness differently but they all share a fidelity to what they call the Torah and to communal practices of reading and social action that have their bases in rabbinic interpretations of biblical narrative law and belief. Thus postmodern Jewish thinking is thinking about God, Jews and the world with the texts of the Torah in the company of fellow seekers and believers. It utilizes the tools of philosophy but without their modern premises. Moreover, this form of Jewish thinking provides resources for philosophically disciplined readings of scripture by Jews, Christians and Muslims seeking alternatives to the reductive discourses of secular academia on the one hand and to antimodern religious fundamentalisms on the other. Postmodern Jewish Philosophy aims to utilize rabbinic modes of thinking to provide a model for ethical and religious thought in the twenty-first century, one which moves beyond the dichotomy of relativism and imperialism and is simultaneously definite and pluralistic.

In Reasoning After Revelation Dialogues in Postmodern Jewish Philosophy, three preeminent Jewish scholars debate the form and meaning of Postmodern Jewish Philosophy after the failures of the great secular ideologies of modern western civilization. Emulating the methods as well as the premises of Talmudic argumentation, the authors present their responses as dialogues joined by a common love of the rabbinic tradition of commentary and interpretation of the Bible. The composers Peter Ochs, Robert Gibbs and Steven Kepnes contemplate where Judaism has been and where it is headed on what basis will modern Jews now reason about the meaning of Jewish existence and the relevance of age-old Biblical traditions to the moral and social crises of the twenty-first century. The dialogues are further enriched by a set of responses from leading Jewish philosophers: Elliot R. Wolfson, Edith Wyschogrod, Almut Sh. Bruckstein, Yudit Kornberg Greenberg and Susan E. Shapiro.

Learned Ignorance James L. Heft, Reuven Firestone, Omid Safi, 2011-08 Constructive interreligious dialogue is only a recent phenomenon Until the nineteenth century most dialogue among believers was carried on as a debate aimed either to disprove the claims of the other or to convert the other to one s own tradition At the end of the nineteenth century Protestant Christian missionaries of different denominations had created such a cacophony amongst themselves in the mission fields that they decided that it would be best if they could begin to overcome their own differences instead of confusing and even scandalizing the people whom they were trying to convert By the middle of the twentieth century the horrors of the Holocaust compelled Christians especially mainline Protestants and Catholics to enter into a serious dialogue with Jews one of the consequences of which was the removal of claims by Christians to have replaced Judaism and revising text books that communicated that message to Christian believers Now at the beginning of the twenty first century many branches of Christianity not least the Catholic Church are engaged in a world wide constructive dialogue with Muslims made all the more necessary by the terrorist attacks of September 11 In these new conversations Muslim religious leaders took an important initiative when they sent their document A Common Word Between Us to all Christians in the West It is an extraordinary document for it makes a theological argument various Christians in the West including officials at the Vatican have claimed that a theological conversation with Muslims is not possible based on texts drawn from the Hebrew Bible the New Testament and the Qur an that Jewish Christian and Muslim believers share the God given obligation to love God and each other in peace and justice The Institute for Advanced Catholic Studies brought

The Fence and the Neighbor Adam Zachary Newton,2012-02-01 The Fence and the Neighbor traces the contours of two thinkers Emmanuel Levinas and Yeshayahu Leibowitz who crossed the divide between Talmud and philosophy proper Adam Zachary Newton shows how the question of nationalism that has so long haunted Western philosophy the question of who belongs within its fence and who outside has long been the concern of Jewish thought and its preoccupation with law limits and the place of Israel among the nations To those unfamiliar with Talmudic thought Newton shows how deeply its language and concerns shape Levinas He also offers an introduction to Leibowitz a conservative religious thinker who was an outspoken gadfly and radically critical voice in the Israeli political scene Together their common origin in Jewish Eastern Europe a common concern with national allegiance and the common fence of religious Judaism that makes them intellectual neighbors are voiced in penetrating and original dialogue
