Chinese Silk S. J. Vainker, 2004      The Art and Archaeology of Human Engagements with Birds of Prey Robert J. Wallis, 2023-10-05 Of all avian groups birds of prey in particular have long been a prominent subject of fascination in many human societies This book demonstrates that the art and materiality of human engagements with raptors has been significant through deep time and across the world from earliest prehistory to Indigenous thinking in the present day Drawing on a wide range of global case studies and a plurality of complementary perspectives it explores the varied and fluid dynamics between humans and birds of prey as evidenced in this diverse art historical and archaeological record From their depictions as powerful beings in visual art and their important roles in Indigenous mythologies to the significance of their body parts as active agents in religious rituals the intentional deposition of their faunal remains and the display of their preserved bodies in museums there is no doubt that birds of prey have been figures of great import for the shaping of human society and culture However several of the chapters in this volume are particularly concerned with looking beyond the culture nature dichotomy and human centred accounts to explore perspectival and other post humanist thinking on human raptor ontologies and epistemologies The contributors recognize that human raptor relationships are not driven exclusively by human intentionality and that when these species meet they relate to and become with one another This raptor with human focused approach allows for a productive re framing of questions about human raptor interstices enables fresh thinking about established evidence and offers signposts for present and future intra actions with birds of prey      Structures and Subjectivities Adele F. Seeff, Joan Hartman, 2007 Structures and Subjectivities refers to what we can and probably cannot know about women in the early modern period Scholars study the societal structures their disciplines call attention to they are left to infer the subjectivities the lived experience of women whose lives they attempt to reconstruct The authors of the essays in the volume the fifth to emerge from conferences held by the University of Maryland s Center for Renaissance Baroque Studies place the largest possible meanings on structures They consider geographical boundaries and political and ecclesiastical institutions the gendering of hierarchies and the power of place the spaces that women constructed inhabited traveled in and worked in and by extension the literary and artistic conventions that both enabled and constrained their artistic production They also consider in several essays on pedagogy the structures in which they and their students pursue the study of early modern women institutions departments and classrooms Joan E Hartman is Professor of English emerita at the College of Staten Island The City University of New York at the University of Maryland      Crusading and Trading between West and East Sophia Menache, Benjamin Z. Kedar, Michel Balard, 2018-10-26 For almost sixty years Professor David Jacoby devoted his research to the economic social and cultural history of the Eastern Mediterranean and this new collection reflects his impact on the study of the interactions between the Italian city states Byzantium the Latin East and the realm of Islam Contributors to this volume are prominent scholars from across Medieval Studies and leading historians of the younger generation

Silk Berit Hildebrandt, 2017-02-28 Already in Greek and Roman antiquity a vibrant series of exchange relationships existed between the Mediterranean regions and China including the Indian subcontinents along well defined routes we call the Silk Roads Among the many goods that found their way from East to West and vice versa were glass wine spices metals like iron precious stones as well as textile raw materials and fabrics and silk a luxury item that was in great demand in the Roman Empire These collected papers connect research from different areas and disciplines dealing with exchange along the Silk Roads These historical philological and archaeological contributions highlight silk as a commodity gift and tribute and as a status symbol in varying cultural and chronological contexts between East and West including technological aspects of silk production The main period concerns Rome and China in antiquity ending in the late fifth century CE with the Roman Empire being transformed into the Byzantine Empire while the Chinese chronology covers the Han dynasty the Three Kingdoms the Western and Eastern Jin and Sixteen Kingdoms ending in 420 CE In addition both earlier and later epochs are also considered in order to gather an understanding of developments and changes in long distance and longer term relations that involved silk     Newsletter, East Asian Art & Archaeology ,2002     Transcending Patterns Mariachiara Gasparini, 2019-11-30 In Transcending Patterns Silk Road Cultural and Artistic Interactions through Central Asian Textiles Mariachiara Gasparini investigates the origin and effects of a textile mediated visual culture that developed at the heart of the Silk Road between the seventh and fourteenth centuries Through the analysis of the Turfan Textile Collection in the Museum of Asian Art in Berlin and more than a thousand textiles held in collections worldwide Gasparini discloses and reconstructs the rich cultural entanglements along the Silk Road between the coming of Islam and the rise of the Mongol Empire from the Tarim to Mediterranean Basin Exploring in detail the iconographic transfer between different agents and different media from Central Asian caves to South Italian churches the author depicts and describes the movement and exchange of portable objects such as sculpture wall painting and silk fragments across the Asian continent and across the ages Gasparini's history offers critical perspectives that extend far beyond an outmoded notion of Silk Road studies Her cross media work shows readers how certain material cultures are connected not only by the physical routes they take but also because of the meanings and interpretations these objects engage in various places Transcending Patterns is at once art history material and visual cultural history Asian studies conservatory studies and linguistics     China James C. Y. Watt, 2004 In the great tradition of publications on Chinese art from the Metropolitan Museum China Dawn of a Golden Age will become an essential text for years to come This book is the catalogue for a major exhibition at The Metropolitan Museum of Art October 5 2004 to January 23 2005     World History Encyclopedia [21 volumes] Alfred J.
