Oral Traditions, Continuities and Transformations in Northeast India and Beyond Surajit Sarkar, Nerupama Y.

Modwel, 2020-12-29 Northeast India is home to many distinct communities and is an area of incredible ethnic religious and linguistic diversity. This book explores the shared cultural heritage among the highland and river valley communities of Northeast India and mainland South East Asia including South China through oral traditions. It looks at these shared cultural traditions and suggests new ways of understanding and interpreting the heritage of Northeast India. Oral traditions often bring forward an unexpected twist in understanding historical and cultural links and this volume explores this using local knowledge and innovative engagements with oral traditions in multiple ways from folklore and language to performative traditions. The essays in this volume examine how communities build new meanings from old traditions often as a recognition of the tension between conservation and creation between individual interpretation and social consensus. They offer interesting parallels on how oral traditions behave in different socio-economic contexts and also examine how oral traditions and memory interact with the digital world's penetration in the remote areas. This volume will be useful for scholars and researchers of Northeast India, sociology, sociology of culture, cultural studies, ethnic studies, anthropology, folkloristics and political sociology.

Malaysian Cinema in the New Millennium Adrian Yuen Beng Lee, 2022-11-07 Malaysian Cinema in the New Millennium offers a new approach to the study of multiculturalism in cinema by analysing how a new wave of filmmakers champion cultural diversity using cosmopolitan themes. Adrian Lee offers a new inquiry of Malaysian cinema that examines how the Malaysian Digital Indies (MDI) have in recent years repositioned Malaysian cinema within the global arena. The book shines a new light on how politics and socioeconomics have influenced new forms and genres of the post-2000s generation of filmmakers and provides a clear picture of the interactions between commercial cinema and politics and socioeconomics in the first two decades of the new millennium. It also assesses how the MDI movement was successful in creating a transnational cinema by displacing and deterritorialising itself from the context of the national and illustrates how MDI functions as a site for questioning and proposing a new national identity in the era of advanced global capitalism and new Islamisation. Covering all these interrelated topics, Lee's book is a pioneering and comprehensive work in the study of Malaysian cinema in the recent decades. Lee is well versed in theories of transnational and postcolonial studies and provides detailed and knowledgeable information about this period of filmmaking in Malaysia. I believe this book will make a valuable contribution to the studies of film in Southeast Asia. Olivia Khoo, Monash University, Australia.

The author comprehensively discusses the rise of Malaysian Digital Indies (MDI) in post-2000 Malaysia, the revival of form and aesthetics in comparison to mainstream films, the MDI's emergence in the Malaysian context, and finally the MDI's incorporation into the mainstream films. Nunna Prasad, Abu Dhabi University, United Arab Emirates.
