Mamas Girl:

Mama's Girl Daybreak Jones, 2017-10-31 May Jameson has never fully approved of the questionable things her mother does to subsidize her income. That's why when her mother encourages her to date a much older man from a family of means, May is torn. Her desire to lead a positive life is at odds with her mother's advice but also with the physical desire she feels for this older man. Her best friend's warning against an affair has the opposite reaction and May begins a relationship even though she knows she doesn't really love him. May must make some tough decisions because although she wants to do right, she is feeling the need to do wrong. Her role models add to her confusion with some offering real opportunities for jobs and education while others are caught up in drugs, gambling, and the illegal sale of alcohol. Will she fall into the same trap that holds her mother back from living her best life or will she ignore that advice and follow her own path to success? May thinks beyond the life she's been born into but can she achieve what she sees in her mind. Mama's Girls Garrett

Davis, 2016-02-29 Mamas Girls tells the story of a married woman turned single mother of five. All five of her daughters have very different personalities even in their youth. Mama has to find ways to balance meeting the needs of all five of her children, especially her youngest Sonya who is a part of a secret that she has no idea about. As the girls grow up, they begin to focus on their own needs and eventually delve deeper into their own lives. Sonya remains close to Mama, however, she denies herself a personal life to make sure that Mama is okay. She's beginning to feel overwhelmed and then one day Mama has an accident. Sonya calls her sisters and asks them to come see Mama and help her get through this tough time. Will all of Mama's girls show up? Motherhood Online Michelle Moravec, 2011-05-25 It may take a village to raise a child but increasingly that means a virtual village. While the media may focus on the so-called mommy wars and babyrazzi, follow every move of celebrity moms, millions of mothers world-wide are creating online communities. These mommy groups provide an alternative context for understanding how women construct modern motherhood together. Motherhood Online explores the multifaceted lives that moms live online. Ranging from longitudinal studies to focused explorations of identity and the newest community context, mommy blogs, this book documents the millions of mommies who have found an outlet online. Whether centered on region, religion, race, or something else, altogether these communities of mothers are creating a new space for mom and allowing many women to maintain a grasp, however tenuous, on sanity in this crazy-making world of modern motherhood.

Somebody's Little Girl Martha Young, 1910 Mama's Girl Veronica Chambers, 1997-05-01 On the streets of Brooklyn in the 1970s, Veronica Chambers mastered the whirling helixes of a double dutch jump rope with the same finesse she brought to her schoolwork, her often troubled family life, and the demands of being overachieving and underprivileged. Her mother, a Panamanian immigrant, was too often overwhelmed by the task of raising Veronica and her difficult younger brother on her meager secretary's salary to applaud her daughter's achievements. From an early age, Veronica understood that the best she could do for her mother was to be a perfect child, to rewrite her Christmas wish lists to her mother's budget, to look after her brother to get by on her own Though her mother seemed to bear out the adage that black women raise their daughters and mother their sons Veronica never stopped trying to do more do better do it all And now as a successful young woman who s achieved more than her mother dared hope for her she looks back on their mother daughter bond The critically acclaimed Mama s Girl is a moving startlingly honest memoir in which Chambers shares some important truths about what we all really want from our mothers and what we can give in return Jazz Girl Sarah Bruce Kelly,2010-04-01 13 year old Mary was marked from birth by the sign of the caul a powerful signifier in African American culture The caul indicates rare powers especially a tendency toward second sight Mary s special gift of seeing manifests itself in visions of ghosts and spirits and culminates in an uncanny musical ability But her remarkable gifts set her apart from her Pittsburgh neighbors and she is shunned and belittled Mary s loneliness is compounded by her mother s cruelty and indifference She must find her own way through the tangled web of difficulties she faces everyday and her music becomes her refuge Gradually though Mary learns that music is more than just an escape from her problems By losing herself in her extraordinary musical creativity she grapples with her inner demons and discovers the true power of her special gifts The Mamas Helena

Andrews-Dyer,2024-01-09 Can white moms and Black moms ever truly be friends Not just mom friends but like really real friends And does it matter Utterly addictive Through her sharp wit and dynamic anecdotal storytelling Helena Andrews Dyer shines a light on the cultural differences that separate Black and white mothers Tia Williams New York Times bestselling author of Seven Days in June Helena Andrews Dyer lives in a hot Washington D C neighborhood which means picturesque row houses and plenty of gentrification After having her first child she joined the local mom group the Mamas and quickly realized that being one of the only Black mothers in the mix was a mixed bag The racial cultural and socioeconomic differences were made clear almost immediately But spending time in what she calls the Polly Pocket world of postracial parenting was a welcome reprieve Then George Floyd happened A man was murdered a man who called out for his mama And suddenly the Mamas hit different Though they were alike in some ways they want their kids to be safe they think their husbands are lazy they work too much and feel guilty about it Andrews Dyer realized she had an entirely different set of problems that her neighborhood mom friends could never truly understand In The Mamas Andrews Dyer chronicles the particular challenges she faces in a group where systemic racism can be solved with an Excel spreadsheet and where she a Black professional Ivy League educated mom is overcompensating with every move Andrews Dyer grapples with her own inner tensions like Why do I never leave the house with the baby and without my wedding ring and Why did every name we considered for our kids have to pass the r sum test Throw in a global pandemic and a nationwide movement for social justice and Andrews Dyer ultimately tries to find out if moms from different backgrounds can truly understand one another With sharp wit and refreshing honesty The Mamas explores the contradictions and community of motherhood white and Black and everything against the backdrop of the rapidly changing world Mama's Bank Account Kathryn Forbes,1968-03 A
