Paddlewheels On The Frontier The Story Of British Columbia And Yukon Sternwheel Steamers:

Paddlewheels on the Frontier Art Downs, 1972 Paddlewheels on the Frontier Art Downs, 1967 The Ladies, the Gwich'in, and the Rat Clara Vyvyan, 2015-01-02 In 1926 two British women came from Cornwall to Edmonton and travelled through northern Alberta the Northwest Territories and the Yukon by rail sternwheeler and canoe For the women it was a liberating experience yet Vyvyan's narrative supported by MacLaren and LaFramboise's insightful editorial work reveals the imperialist attitudes underlying their travels Pioneer Days in British Columbia Art Downs, 1979-05 Pioneer Days is a blend of words and photos that proves British Columbia's history is as interesting as that recorded anywhere else in North America Every article is true many written or narrated by those who 100 or more years ago lived the experiences they relate Each volume contains 160 pages plus some 60 000 words of text and over 200 historical photos many published for the first time British Columbia-Yukon Sternwheel Days Art Downs, 1992 Over 300 sternwheelers plied the BC Yukon waters a record in North America In icy northern lakes rivers and the open sea these flat bottomed steamers served for 100 years Ripped open by rapids gutted by fire crushed by ice they left a memorable wake that altered history forever This book includes portraits of flamboyant captains and crews details on how the vessels were constructed and operated historical background of the communities they served and more Alex Lord's British Columbia Alexander Russell Lord, 1991 Alex Lord a pioneer inspector of rural BC schools shares in these recollections his experiences in a province barely out of the stage coach era Travelling through vast northern territory utilizing unreliable transportation and enduring climatic extremes Lord became familiar with the aspirations of remote communities and their faith in the humanizing effects of tiny assisted schools En route he performed in resolute yet imaginative fashion the supervisory functions of a top government educator developing an educational philosophy of his own based on an understanding of the provincial geography a reverence for citizenship and a work ethic tuned to challenge and accomplishment Although not completed these memoirs invite the reader to experience the British Columbia that Alex Lord knew Through his words we endure the difficulties of travel in this mountainous province We meet many of the unusual characters who inhabited this last frontier and learn of their hopes fears joys sorrows and eccentricities More particularly we are reminded of the historical significance of the one room rural school and its role as an indispensable instrument of community cohesion John Calam has organized the memoirs according to the regions through which Lord travelled He has included in his introduction a biography of Alex Lord a brief description of the British Columbia he knew a sketch of its public education system and an assessment of the place Lord's writing now occupies among other works on education and society Science, Technology, and Canadian History A. Jarrell, Norman Ball, 1980-05 The first Conference on the Study of the History of Canadian Science and Technology held in Kingston Ontario in November 1978 marks the emergence of a new Canadian discipline This wide ranging bilingual collection of papers and workshops includes contributions by some of the historians scientists educators students archivists and government representatives present at the conference The papers discuss the nature of the new field its objectives and the problems of resources funding publishing and practical uses which face historians of Canadian science and technology Records of the workshops convey the flavour of excitement present at the conference Included in the volume are an extensive bibliography and listings of museums and available collections research in progress and conference participants Alex Lord's British Columbia John
