undergraduates of the later nineteenth century One was the robust praise singer of American democracy embraced at the start of his career by Ralph Waldo Emerson the other was the Oxbridge aesthete whose visit to Harvard in 1882 became part of the university's legend and lore and whose eventual martyrdom was a cautionary tale Shand Tucci explores the dramatic and creative oppositions and tensions between the Whitmanic and the Wildean the warrior poet and the salon dazzler and demonstrates how they framed the gay experience at Harvard and in the country as a whole The core of this book however is a portrait of a great university and its community struggling with the full implications of free inquiry Harvard took very seriously its mission to shape the minds and bodies of its charges who came from and were expected to perpetuate the nation s elite yet struggled with the open expression of their sexual identities which it alternately accepted and anathematized Harvard believed it could live up to the Oxbridge model offering a sanctuary worthy of the classical Greek ideals of male association yet somehow remain true to its legacy of respectable austerity and Puritan self denial The Crimson Letter therefore tells stories of great unhappiness and manacled minds as well as stories of triumphant activism and fulfilled promise Shand Tucci brilliantly exposes the secrecy and codes that attended the gay experience showing how their effects could simultaneously thwart and spark creativity He explores in particular the question of gay sensibility and its effect upon everything from symphonic music to football set design to statecraft poetic theory to skyscrapers The Crimson Letter combines the learned and the lurid tragedy and farce scandal and vindication and figures of world renown as well as those whose influence extended little farther than Harvard Square Here is an engrossing account of a university transforming and transformed by those passing through its gates and of their enduring impact upon American culture The Illustrated sporting & dramatic news ,1879 The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, James Louis Garvin, 1926 The Building News and Engineering Journal, 1904 The Athenaeum .1900
