Patterns Of Murder:

Sexual Homicide John E. Douglas, Ann W. Burgess, Robert K. Ressler, 2008-06-30 Who are the men committing the rising number of serial homicides in the U S and why do they kill The increase in these violent crimes over the past decade has created an urgent need for more and better information about these men their crime scene patterns violent acts and above all their motivations for committing these shocking and repetitive murders This authoritative book represents the data findings and implications of a long term F B I sponsored study of serial sex killers Specially trained F B I agents examined thirty six convicted incarcerated sexual murderers to build a valuable new bank of information which reveals the world of the serial sexual killer in both quantitative and qualitative detail Data was obtained from official psychiatric and criminal records court transcripts and prison reports as well as from extensive interviews with the offenders themselves Featured in this book is detailed information on the F B I s recently developed Violent Criminal Apprehension Program VICAP and a sample of an actual VICAP Crime Analysis Report Form The Nature and Patterns of American Homicide Marc Riedel, 1985 Patterns in Criminal Homicide Marvin E. Wolfgang, 2016-11-11 This volume is a statistical and sociological analysis of one of the leading causes of death in the United States Combining original research and a review of all major previous studies on criminal homicide in America this study attempts to discover and to analyze patterns in criminal homicide from among almost six hundred cases that occurred in the city of Philadelphia between January 1 1948 and December 31 1952 The primary source of data utilized by Marvin E Wolfgang was the files of the Homicide Squad of the Philadelphia Police Department Answers were sought to a series of questions regarding 588 victims and 621 offenders involved in criminal homicide with respect to the following race sex and age differences methods and weapons used to inflict death seasonal and other temporal patterns spatial patterns the relationship between the use of alcohol and homicide the degree of violence in homicide motives the interpersonal relationship between victim and offender homicide occurring during the commission of another felony victim precipitated homicide homicide suicide unsolved homicide the tempo of legal procedure court disposition and insanity as a factor in homicide The broad range of material examined in this volume makes it one of the most comprehensive studies undertaken in recent years Although dealing basically with records of homicide accumulated in Philadelphia Patterns in Criminal Homicide has implications that hold true for every large urban community It is a work of utmost importance to the student of sociology because of its general sociological perspective to all students of criminology to the police especially the homicide division of any police department to law students lawyers and judges and to those agencies in the community concerned with the control and prevention of violent crime Age Patterns of Victims of Serious Violent Crime Craig A. Schlesinger,2021-03-22 Sexual Murder Catathymic and Compulsive Homicides is the culmination of the author s 45 years of experience with and studying sexually motivated homicide Sexual murders are generally of two types catathymic and compulsive Catathymic homicides are caused by a breakthrough of underlying sexual conflicts They can be unplanned explosive acute attacks or planned murders stemming from a chronic obsession with or disturbed attachment to the victim In compulsive homicides a fusion of sex and aggression results in a powerful internal drive which pushes the offender to seek out victims to kill and the killing itself is sexually gratifying These murders also may be planned or unplanned In compulsive homicides that are unplanned the urge breaks through and disrupts the offender s controls when a victim of opportunity crosses his path The compulsive offender who plans his crimes often eludes law enforcement and as a result he can have multiple serial victims over extended periods of time Both forms of sexual murder the catathymic and the compulsive are presented in this volume from a clinical descriptive perspective encompassing case studies with analysis Recent advances in empirical research in sexual murder including findings from the joint research project between John Jay College of Criminal Justice and the FBI Behavioral Analysis Unit in Quantico has published many important studies These include such topics as necrophilia foreign object insertions in sexual homicide ritual and signature and temporal patterns in serial sexual homicide mass murder crime scene staging in homicide and undoing symbolic reversal at homicide scenes All such research will be included and incorporate into this fully updated Second Edition including approximately fifty new clinical case studies
