Patterns Of Social And Technological Change In Europe:

Patterns of Social and Technological Change in Europe Savvas Katsikides, Mike Campbell, Josef Hochgerner, 1994
This text brings together research devoted to the relationship between the new developments of technological systems and the social changes with which they are associated. Authors from all parts of Europe have contributed to this volume discussing the prospects of social research developments concerning specific professions linked to technical changes, technological standards compared with social structures, cultural identity and economic performance, female and male conceptions of technology, labour relations, developments in the labour market, structures and trends in technological societies and strategies in technology transfer.

European Labour Relations György Széll, 2020-07-24
This title was first published in 2001. With the increasing economic, political and social integration in Europe, there has been a fundamental change in labour and industrial relations. Not only in the Japanese and American challenges in the triad competition under the slogan of Lean Management, but also ecological and democratic challenges are relevant. The directive for the introduction of European works councils is one example of new forms of industrial relations. The question remains since the Hofstede studies on how far will integration go in guarding the cultural specificities and identities. The material is structured in a logical and helpful way with a balanced and complete review of the subject. This first of two volumes concentrates on the general features of the European system of labour relations. Both volumes are addressed particularly to academics and students of business administration, economics, sociology, labour law and organizational psychology at university level and would also be suitable for intensive courses and seminars in the private sector.

The Societal Impact of Technology Savvas A. Katsikides, 2018-11-06
Published in 1998, this text is concerned with research issues within the context of the emerging information age. The book draws together research which is devoted to key questions examining the relationship between the various and widely discussed developments of technological systems and their societal impacts. Increasing interest and research into the information society and their euphorical assumptions is creating a wide spectrum of societal criticism. Computer-supported work, for instance, has led to the development of innovative organizational processes based on technological developments and communications paradigms. In particular, the focus is centred on the perspectives of such Networking Entities and their many varied implications. The book links sociology with technology and aims to lead it to wider discussions of the above issues European Labour Relations: Common features György Széll, 2001 With increasing economic political and social integration in Europe there comes a fundamental change in labour and industrial relations for example the introduction of the European Work Council This first volume gives an overview of common traits in industrial and labour relations around Europe and discusses specific terms Territorial and Social Inequalities in Europe Martin Heidenreich, 2022-10-28 This book examines social inequalities in Europe especially those caused by economic factors It starts with the paradox of European inequality where on the one hand even total income inequality in Europe is significantly lower than in most parts of the world but on the other Europe is also characterised by profound and durable inequalities within the continent It discusses inequalities caused by the exclusion of marginalised groups from the labour market with considerable and sometimes increasing differences between central and peripheral regions pronounced wealth and labour market inequalities and significant rates of persistent poverty deprivation educational poverty low wages and unemployment The book also discusses broader territorial inequalities which are the basis for divisions between Northern and Southern Europe East and West between qualified and unqualified employees younger and older people men and women and migrants and non migrants The book raises questions about the winners and losers of the social transformations linked to the introduction of the Euro the Eastern enlargement of the EU and the financial and Eurozone crises It is based on a comprehensive analysis of a European wide microdata set on income and living conditions EU SILC The empirical research material which is the first to deploy this data in a comprehensive manner consists of detailed empirical analyses of social divisions and Europeanisation processes in 30 European countries It analyses and explains the transformation of the previously dominant national spaces into a European social space This topical book is of interest to academics and students in the fields of sociology and comparative social sciences along with those studying European regional geography anthropology international relations and international politics ECSM 2019 6th European Conference on Social Media Wybe Popma, Stuart Francis, 2019-06-13 The European Digital Economy Judyta Lubacha, Beata Mäihäniemi, Rafał Wisła, 2023-12-22 The digital economy is a conceptual umbrella referring to markets organizations and their networks that are based on digital technologies communication data processing and e commerce It is multidimensional and its dynamic structure must be analysed from various dimensions such as economic changes in the nature of resources production factors and economic processes technological technological progress viewed from a macroeconomic perspective vs technological innovation viewed from a microeconomic perspective regulatory challenges facing regulators new risks affecting the institutional order and sociological changes in society s functioning principles attitudes towards work and human relations The purpose of this book is to analyse the effectiveness of digital technologies as well as the fundamental factors that contribute to technological progress in the long run It also examines structural and qualitative shifts in economies and societies It investigates many research questions such as the gap between the level of
