

REDEMPTION.

HAVING been tenant long to a rich Lord,
Not thriving, I resolved to be bold,
And make a suit unto him, to afford
A new small-rented lease, and cancell th' old.

In heaven at his manour I him sought :
They told me there, that he was lately gone
About some land, which he had dearly bought
Long since on earth, to take possession.

I straight return'd, and knowing his great birth,
Sought him accordingly in great resorts ;
In cities, theatres, gardens, parks, and courts :
At length I heard a ragged noise and mirth

Of theeves and murderers : there I him espied,
Who straight, Your suit is granted, said, and died.

Poems Of George Herbert:

The English Poems of George Herbert George Herbert, 1916 Herbert: Poems George Herbert, 2012-07-18

George Herbert 1593 1633 has come to be one of the most admired of the metaphysical poets Though he is a profoundly religious poet even secular readers respond to his quiet intensity and exuberant inventiveness which are amply showcased in this selection Herbert experimented brilliantly with a remarkable variety of forms from hymns and sonnets to pattern poems the shapes of which reveal their subjects Such technical agility never seems ostentatious however for precision of language and expression of genuine feeling were the primary concerns of this poet who admonished his readers to dare to be true An Anglican priest who took his calling with deep seriousness he brought to his work a religious reverence richly allied with a playful wit and with literary and musical gifts of the highest order His best loved poems from The Collar and Jordan to The Altar and Easter Wings achieve a perfection of form and feeling a rare luminosity and a timeless metaphysical grandeur

The Poems of George Herbert George Herbert, 1913 The Poetry of George Herbert Helen Vendler, 1975 The transparent beauty and effortless grace of George Herbert's poetry have made it seem almost devoid of art In this comprehensive reading of Herbert Helen Vendler reveals the complexity inherent in the apparent simplicity of his lyrics Herbert appears here both in introspective and in devotional verse as a poet of universal feeling whose work can be given a human interpretation independent of any religious conviction Very nearly all of Herbert's poems are treated in this finely written forcefully argued study By looking at the poet's less successful attempts as well as at his best work Mrs Vendler is able to trace his surest line of development in the various modes and forms in which he worked Comparisons with the work of his adapters and imitators make apparent the perfection and finish of his lines their interior intellectual and psychological harmony Helen Vendler George Herbert: 100 Poems George Herbert, 2016-05-19 91 Discipline 92 The Invitation 93 The Posie 94 A Parodie 95 The Elixer 96 A Wreath 97 Death 98 Dooms day 99 Heaven 100 Love III Glossary Sources Index of titles Index of first lines The Poems of George Herbert Arthur Waugh, 2015-06-16 Excerpt from The Poems of George Herbert Life it has been said is a Poem This is true probably of the life of the human race as a whole if we could see its beginning and end as well as its middle But it is not true of all lives It is only a life here and there which equals the dignity and aspires to the completeness of a genuine and great Poem Most lives are fragmentary even when they are not foul they disappoint even when they do not disgust they are volumes without a preface an index or a moral It is delightful to turn from such apologies for life to the rare but real lives which God gifted men like Milton or Herbert have been enabled to spend even on this dark and melancholy foot breadth for immortal spirits called the earth We class Milton and Herbert together for this among other reasons that in both the life and the poems were thoroughly correspondent and commensurate with each other Milton lived the Paradise Lost and the Paradise Regained as well as wrote them Herbert was as well as built The Temple Not only did the intellectual archetype of its structure exist in his mind but he had been able in a great measure to realise it in life before expressing it in poetry His piety was of a more evangelical cast than Milton s his purity was tenderer and lovelier he had more of the Christian and less of the Jew About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works George Herbert George Herbert,1927
