Postmodern Dilemmas Jan Jagodzinski, 2019-08-22 In Postmodern Dilemmas Outrageous Essays in Art Art Education and Pun k Deconstruction Experimental Writings in Art Art Education jan jagodzinski presents a series of essays covering a timespan of approximately ten years These essays chart the theory and practice of art art education as it relates to issues of postmodernity and poststructuralism concerning representation identity politics consumerism postmodern architecture ecology phallocentrism of the artistic canon pluriculturalism media and technology and AIDS As a former editor of The Journal of Social Theory in Art Education and a founding member for the Caucus on Social Theory in Art Education the author attempts to deconstruct the current art education paradigm which is largely based on modernist tenets and to reorient art education practice to social issues as developed in both media education and cultural studies Part of the intent in these two volumes is to undertake a sustained critique of the 1982 Art in the Mainstream A I M statement which continues to be considered as the core value for art education The distinct intention of this critique is to put forward a new value base for art art education in these postmodern times Many of the essays raise the need to be attentive to sex gender issues in art art education and the need to read the artistic discourse otherwise There is a sustained critique of the art programs developed by the Getty Center for the Arts whose arts curriculum presents the paradigm case of late modernist thinking Some essays are written in a provocative form that tries to accommodate such content This is particularly the case in Pun k Deconstruction where architectural discourse is deconstructed and which includes an artistic performance given by the author in 1987 This singular set of volumes combines scholarship in the areas of gender studies aesthetics art history art education poststructuralism and cultural studies in a unique blend of theory and practice for rethinking the field of art education

Art Education Beyond the Classroom A. Wexler, 2012-08-06 By focusing on children and adults with disabilities each contributor offers critical research which challenges the non transferable divide between us and them encouraging art teachers therapists critics and general readers alike to uncover their biases regarding the nature of art and education

Essays on Aesthetic Education for the 21st Century, 2010-01-01 Essays on Aesthetic Education for the 21st Century co edited by Tracie Costantino and Boyd White brings together an international collection of authors representing diverse viewpoints to engage in dialogue about the ongoing critical relevance of aesthetics for contemporary art education Inspired by a conference symposium in which the four authors in the first section of the text titled Initiating a Dialogue explore a range of concepts including aesthetic experience beauty wonder and aesthetics this book enlarges the dialogue with eight additional chapters by authors from North America and Europe In addition to chapters that address issues of social awareness curriculum theory and research and applications to practice with pre service teachers there are several chapters that acknowledge historical influences on current notions of aesthetics as a basis on which to open the gate into the twenty first century This book will be a valuable resource for graduate students in art education and curriculum studies as well as practicing art educators pre service teachers and anyone interested in the significance of aesthetics not only in contemporary art education but the wider field of general education as well

Thinking Education Through Alain Badiou Kent den Heyer, 2011-07-13 Thinking Education Through Alain Badiou represents the first collection to explore the educational implications of French philosopher Alain Badiou's challenge to contemporary philosophical orthodoxy put forth in his 1993 work Ethics: An Essay on the Understanding of Evil. Represents the first collection of work in education to grapple with what Alain Badiou might mean for the enterprise of schooling. Takes up Badiou's challenge to contemporary and conventional Anglo American doxa. Includes original essays by experts in several different educational fields

Art's Teachings, Teaching's Art Tyson Lewis, Megan Laverty, 2015-08-28 This volume examines the interface between the teachings of art and the art of teaching and asserts the centrality of aesthetics for rethinking education. Many of the essays in this collection claim a direct connection between critical thinking, democratic dissensus and anti racist pedagogy with aesthetic experiences. They argue that aesthetics should be reconceptualized less as mere art appreciation or the cultivation of aesthetic judgment of taste and more with the affective disruptions, phenomenological experiences and the democratic politics of learning, thinking and teaching. The first set of essays in the volume examines the unique pedagogies of the various arts including literature, poetry, film and music. The second set addresses questions concerning the art of pedagogy and the relationship between aesthetic experience and teaching and learning. Demonstrating the flexibility and diversity of aesthetic expressions and experiences in education, the book deals with issues such as the connections between racism and affect, curatorship and teaching, aesthetic experience and the common and studying and poetics. The book explores these topics through a variety of theoretical and philosophical lenses including contemporary post structuralism, psychoanalysis, phenomenology, critical theory and pragmatism

Art Practice as Research Graeme Sullivan, 2010 Art Practice as Research Second Edition continues to present a compelling argument that the creative and cultural inquiry undertaken by artists is a form of research. The text explores themes, practices and contexts of artistic inquiry and positions them within the discourse of research. Sullivan argues that legitimate research goals can be achieved by choosing different methods than those offered by the social sciences. The common denominator in both approaches is the attention given to rigor and systematic inquiry. Artists emphasize the role of the imaginative intellect in creating, criticizing and constructing knowledge that is not only new but also has the capacity to transform human understanding

Imagining the Academy Susan Edgerton, Gunilla Holm, Toby Daspit, Paul Farber, 2013-01-11 The essays in this book examine various forms of popular culture and the ways in which they represent, shape and are constrained by notions about and issues within higher education. From an exploration of rap music to an analysis of how the academy presents and markets itself on the World Wide Web, the essays focus attention on higher education issues that are bound up in the workings and effects of popular culture

Paranoid Pedagogies Jennifer A. Sandlin, Jason J. Wallin, 2017-10-27 This edited book explores the under analyzed significance and function of paranoia as a psychological habitus of the contemporary educational and social moment The editors and contributors argue that the desire for epistemological truth beyond uncertainty characteristic of paranoia continues to profoundly shape the aesthetic texture and imaginaries of educational thought and practice Attending to the psychoanalytic post psychoanalytic and critical significance of paranoia as a mode of engaging with the world this book further inquires into the ways in which paranoia functions to shape the social order and the material desire of subjects operating within it Furthermore the book aims to understand how the paranoiac imaginary endemic to contemporary educational thought manifests itself throughout the social field and what issues it makes manifest for teachers teacher educators and academics working toward social transformation

The EmBodyment of American Culture Heinz Tschachler, Maureen Devine, Michael Draxlbauer, 2003 American culture has literally become fixated on the body at the same time that the body has emerged as a key term within critical and cultural theory Contributions thus address the body as a site of the cultural construction of various identities which are themselves enacted negotiated or subverted through bodily practices Contributions come from literary and cultural studies film and media studies history and sociology and women studies and are representative of many theoretical positions hermeneutic historical structuralist feminist postmodernist They deal with representations and discursifications of the body in a broad array of texts in literature the visual arts theater the performing arts film and mass media science and technology as well as in various cultural practices Deleuze and Guattari, Politics and Education Matthew Carlin, Jason Wallin, 2014-05-22 Deleuze Guattari Politics and Education mobilizes Deleuzian Guattarian philosophy as a revolutionary alternative to the lingering forms of transcendence identity politics and nihilism endemic to Western thought Operationalizing Deleuze and Guattari's challenge to contemporary philosophy this book presents their view as a revolutionary alternative to the lingering forms of transcendence identity politics and nihilism endemic to the current state of Western formal education This book offers an experimental approach to theorizing creating an entirely new way for educational theorists to approach their work as the task of revolutionizing life itself Examining new conceptual resources for grappling with and mapping a sustainable political alternative to the clichés that saturate contemporary educational theory this collection of essays works toward extracting a genuine image of education and learning that exists in sharp contrast to both the neo liberal educational project and the critical pedagogical tradition The Precarious Future of Education Jan Jagodzinski, 2016-11-30 This volume examines the challenges weighing on the future of education in the face of globalization in the twenty first century Bringing together eleven authors who explore the paradox of an after to the future of education each chapter in this book targets three important areas ecology as understood in the broader framework of globalization and pedagogy curriculum concerns which impact learning and the pervasiveness of technology in education today Multimodality and Social Semiosis Margit Böck, Norbert Pachler, 2013-07-24 Gunther Kress one of the founders of social semiotics and multimodality has made lasting contributions to these fields through his work in semiotics and meaning making power and identity agency design production and pedagogy and learning in varied sites of transformation This book brings together leading scholars in a variety of disciplines including social semiotics pedagogy linguistics media and communication studies new literacy studies ethnography academic literacy literary criticism and more recently medical clinical education to examine and build upon his work This disciplinary diversity is evidence of the ways in which Kress work has influenced and been influenced by a wide range of academic work and intellectual endeavors and how it has been used to lay foundations for theory building and concept development in a varied yet connected range of areas The individual contributions to the book pick up the threads of the often collaborative work of the authors with Kress they show how these approaches were subsequently developed and discuss what future trajectories the authors see for them

What Is Art Education? Jan Jagodzinski, 2016-12-27 This edited book gathers seven established art educators educator artists who address art education from the philosophical position of Deleuze and Guattari This book raises questions as to where the future of art and its education might be heading if the focus on art was to be repositioned along Deleuze and Guattari's philosophy of immanence The chapters are speculative as they query what is thinking in the art process There is an attempt to project other forms of what art can do and the curriculum that can emerge when a student centered problematic is explored along such lines

Who Benefits From Special Education? Ellen A. Brantlinger, 2006-08-15 Who Benefits From Special Education Remediating Fixing Other People's Children addresses the negative consequences of labeling and separating education for students with disabilities the cultural biases inherent in the way that we view children's learning difficulties the social construction of disability the commercialization of special education and related issues The theme that unifies the chapters is that tension exists between professional ideology and practice and the wishes and expectations of the recipients of professional practice children adolescents and adults with disabilities and their families These voices have rarely taken center stage in formulating important decisions about the quality and characteristics of appropriate practice The dominant view in the field of special education has been that disability is a problem in certain children rather than an artifact that results from the general structure of schooling it does not take into consideration the voices of people with disabilities their families or their teachers Offering an alternative perspective this book deconstructs mainstream special education ideologies and highlights the personal perspectives of students families and front line professionals such as teachers and mental health personnel It is particularly relevant for special education disabilities studies graduate students and faculty and for readers in general education curriculum studies instruction theory and critical theory

Curriculum as Institution and Practice William A. Reid, 2012-12-06 This volume brings together a collection of essays by William A Reid that present and elaborate the deliberative tradition of curriculum theory and examine the implications of a deliberative perspective for approaches to policy making and school systems The essays illustrate the development of Reid's understanding of the deliberative tradition and his efforts to extend it from a focus on practice to one that embraces conceptions of schooling as an institution Institution and practice are the key concepts which guide and illuminate the central thesis of the book To be effective a theory of curriculum must be able to talk not only about questions of desirable practice but also about questions of how practice may be aided or constrained by the nature of the institution within which it takes place This significant new contribution to the literature of curriculum studies represents a unique attempt to synthesize what have often been treated as quite separate issues questions of the philosophical basis for curriculum decision making questions of processes of decision making and questions of the nature of schools and classrooms presents its material in an evolutionary way focusing on the continuing development of ideas rather than on a rhetoric of conclusions and offers a summing up of thought and achievement in the deliberative tradition that is not otherwise available Schooling, the Puritan Imperative, and the Molding of an American National Identity Douglas McKnight, 2003-05-14 Present day America is perceived by many as immersed in a moral crisis with national identity fractured and uncertainty and anxiety about the future Public schools in this country are historically and still today the major institution charged with preserving and teaching the symbols of national identity and a morality that is the concrete expression of those symbols and the ideas for which they stand A widespread belief is that only through schooling can America be saved from the current crisis but the schools have failed in this mission and must be reformed In this book Douglas McKnight develops a historical interpretation of how the New England Puritans generated a powerful belief system and set of symbols that have fed American identity and contributed to preserving and perpetuating it into the present time He explores the relationship between the purposes of education and how this term has shifted in meaning and the notion of an American identity and morality rooted in the Puritan concept of an errand into the wilderness that serves a particular sacred secular purpose The phrase errand into the wilderness is taken from a 1956 book by Perry Miller with this title where it refers to the Puritan dream of creating a city in the wilderness the North American Colonies that would be a utopian community a beacon for the rest of the world for how to organize and live in the ideal religious community Highly pertinent to the current debate about the purposes and crisis in education and in America morality in schools the cultural function of education the changing nature of the language of education the complex relation of schooling and national identity this book explicates these elements within the American psyche by exploring the effects of the Puritan symbolic narrative at three different points in American history Puritans during the 1600s and 1700s the Gilded Age when the urban Protestant middle class ascended to cultural dominance and the present age Schooling the Puritan Imperative and the Molding of an American National Identity Education s Errand Into the Wilderness makes an important contribution to the fields of curriculum studies and the history of education It will interest students and scholars in these fields as well as those in educational philosophy religion and education intellectual and social history and American studies The Lure of the Transcendent Dwayne Huebner, 2012-12-06 In 1969 Bill Pinar was privileged to study with Dwayne Huebner at Teachers College In a large room with 70 others he watched an extraordinary figure in the distance speaking a tongue few of them grasped whom they all found compelling They knew they were in the presence of a most remarkable and learned man Huebner helped create the world which contemporary curriculum scholars now inhabit and labor to recreate as educators and theoreticians His generative influence has been evident in many discourses including the political the phenomenological the aesthetic and the theological This volume situates Huebner s work historically emphasizing the ways it foreshadowed the reconceptualization of the field in the 1970s What Is Curriculum Theory? William F. Pinar, 2004-02-26 This primer for teachers prospective and practicing asks students to question the historical present and their relation to it and in so doing to construct their own understandings of what it means to teach to study to become educated Expanding Curriculum Theory William M.

Reynolds, Julie A. Webber, 2004-05-20 This book brings together some of the newest work in curriculum studies to explore central questions that swirl inside and out of the field What counts as curriculum research What procedures are considered legitimate for the production of knowledge What forms shape the making of explanations What constitutes proof It forefronts work by curriculum theorists who are interested in looking at educational problems from a vantage point that questions current models of research one that suggests adopting lines of flight or multiplicities that offer promise to disentangle curriculum theory from traditional research hierarchies and methods driven dependence on formalities In Expanding Curriculum Theory Dispositions and Lines of Flight The essays are connected by their shared concern for combining alternative methodologies such as textual analysis discourse theory hermeneutics and post structuralism with perspectives on race class gender and sexual orientation Disciplinary boundaries are blurred as curriculum theory is interwoven with cultural studies political theory psychoanalysis dance technology and other fields To assist readers in understanding the various essays as well as comparing contrasting and connecting them with each other each chapter opens with a Thinking Beyond section The questions posed are designed to make the text engaging and pedagogically friendly By doing all this within an overall poststructural framework that encourages and demonstrates creativity multidisciplinary and new lines of flight this volume makes a unique contribution to expanding curriculum theory It is a stimulating text for students faculty and researchers in the field

These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
