Potsherds An Introduction To The Study Of Prehi:

Sourcing Prehistoric Ceramics at Chodistaas Pueblo, Arizona Mar'a Nieves Zede-o, 1994 For decades archaeologists have used pottery to reconstruct the lifeways of ancient populations It has become increasingly evident however that to make inferences about prehistoric economic social and political activities through the patterning of ceramic variation it is necessary to determine the location where the vessels were made Through detailed analysis of manufacturing technology and design styles as well as the use of modern analytical techniques such as neutron activation analysis Zede o here demonstrates a broadly applicable methodology for identifying local and nonlocal ceramics Prehistory and Human Ecology of the Deh Luran Plain Frank Hole, Kent V. Flannery, James A. Neely, 1969 In the early 1960s archaeologists Frank Hole Kent V Flannery and James A Neely surveyed the prehistoric mounds in Deh Luran and then excavated at two sites Ali Kosh and Tepe Sabz The researchers found evidence that the sites dated to between 7500 and 3500 BC during which time the residents domesticated plants and animals This volume published in 1969 was the first in the Museum s Memoir series designed for data rich heavily illustrated archaeological monographs Pottery Analysis, Second Edition Prudence M. Rice, 2015-07-09 Just as a single pot starts with a lump of clay the study of a piece s history must start with an understanding of its raw materials This principle is the foundation of Pottery Analysis the acclaimed sourcebook that has become the indispensable guide for archaeologists and anthropologists worldwide By grounding current research in the larger history of pottery and drawing together diverse approaches to the study of pottery it offers a rich comprehensive view of ceramic inquiry This new edition fully incorporates more than two decades of growth and diversification in the fields of archaeological and ethnographic study of pottery It begins with a summary of the origins and history of pottery in different parts of the world then examines the raw materials of pottery and their physical and chemical properties It addresses ethnographic and ethnoarchaeological perspectives on pottery production reviews the methods of studying pottery s physical mechanical thermal mineralogical and chemical properties and discusses how proper analysis of artifacts can reveal insights into their culture of origin Intended for use in the classroom the lab and out in the field this essential text offers an unparalleled basis for pottery research The Davis Ranch Site Rex E. Gerald, 2019-04-30 In this new volume the results of Rex E Gerald s 1957 excavations at the Davis Ranch Site in southeastern Arizona s San Pedro River Valley are reported in their entirety for the first time Annotations to Gerald s original manuscript in the archives of the Amerind Museum and newly written material place Gerald s work in the context of what is currently known regarding the late thirteenth century Kayenta diaspora and the relationship between Kayenta immigrants and the Salado phenomenon Data presented by Gerald and other contributors identify the site as having been inhabited by people from the Kayenta region of northeastern Arizona and southeastern Utah The results of Gerald s excavations and Archaeology Southwest s San Pedro Preservation Project 1990 2001 indicate that the people of the Davis Ranch Site were part of a network of dispersed immigrant enclaves responsible for the origin and spread of Roosevelt Red Ware pottery the key material marker of the Salado phenomenon A companion volume to Charles Di Peso's 1958 publication on the nearby Reeve Ruin archaeologists working in the U S Southwest and other researchers interested in ancient population movements and their consequences will consider this work an essential case study The Final Report of the National Reservoir Inundation Study: Technical reports ,1981 Studies in the Archeological History of the Deh Luran Plain Frank Hole,1976-01-01 In 1968 and 1969 Frank Hole directed the excavation of Chagha Sefid a prehistoric site on the Deh Luran plain in Iran occupied from about 7000 to 3500 BC This volume contains an analysis of the architecture burials and artifacts uncovered on the site Contributions by M J Kirkby and Colin Renfrew Cultural Resources Overview Joseph A. Tainter,1980 The Final Report of the National Reservoir Inundation Study: Summary ,1981 Wind in the Rock Ann Zwinger,1986-03-01 Lively readable nature writing As she details several treks through the beautiful rocky canyons Zwinger's feel for the animals and plants native to this arid region enhances the precise sketches which punctuate the text Readers interested in ancient Indian cultures of the Southwest will also find fascinating reading as Zwinger describes their campsites and lifestyles Library Journal White Mountain Redware Roy L. Carlson,2022-02-08 A study of the styles of decoration found on the early southwestern pottery known as White Mountain Redware The White Mountain Redware tradition an arbitrary division of the Cibola painted pottery tradition is composed of those vessels which have a red slip and painted decoration in either black or black and white which when grouped into pottery types have a geographic locus within or immediately adjacent to the Cibola area and which share a number of other attributes indicative of close historical relationships Archeological Investigations at Antelope House Don P. Morris,1986 Human Adaptations and Cultural Change in the Greater Southwest Alan H. Simmons,1989 Laser Ablation-ICP-MS in Archaeological Research Robert J. Speakman,Hector Neff,2005-06 This volume brings together for the first time a collection of papers that specifically describe laser ablation methods for data quantification and applications to archaeological questions The Kiva ,1995 In the Aftermath of Migration Anna A. Neuzil,2008-10-01 The Safford and Aravaipa valleys of Arizona have always lingered in the wings of Southwestern archaeology away from the spotlight held by the more thoroughly studied Tucson and Phoenix Basins the Mogollon Rim area and the Colorado Plateau Yet these two valleys hold intriguing clues to understanding the social processes particularly migration and the interaction it engenders that led to the coalescence of ancient populations throughout the Greater Southwest in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries A D Because the Safford and Aravaipa valleys show cultural influences from diverse areas of the pre Hispanic Southwest particularly the Phoenix Basin the Mogollon Rim and the Kayenta and Tusayan region they serve as a microcosm of many of the social changes that occurred in other areas of the Southwest during this time This research explores the social changes that took place in the Safford and Aravaipa valleys during the thirteenth through the fifteenth centuries A D as a result of an influx of migrants from the Kayenta and Tusayan regions of northeastern Arizona Focusing on domestic architecture and ceramics the author evaluates how migration affects the expression of identity of both migrant and indigenous populations in the Safford and Aravaipa valleys and provides a model for research in other areas where migration played an important role Archaeologists interested in the Greater Southwest will find a wealth of information on these little known valleys that provides contextualization for this important and intriguing time period and those interested in migration in the ancient past will find a useful case study that goes beyond identifying incidents of migration to understanding its long lasting implications for both migrants and the local people they impacted

Unit Issues in Archaeology Ann Felice Ramenofsky, Anastasia Steffen, 1998 This volume emphasizes one aspect of scientific method units of measure and their construction as applied to archaeology Attributes artifact classes locational designations temporal periods sampling universes culture stages and geographic regions are all examples of constructed units

An Introduction to the Archaeology of Ancient Egypt Kathryn A. Bard, 2015-01-27 This student friendly introduction to the archaeology of ancient Egypt guides readers from the Paleolithic to the Greco Roman periods and has now been updated to include recent discoveries and new illustrations Superbly illustrated with photographs maps and site plans with additional illustrations in this new edition Organized into 11 chapters covering the history of Egyptology and Egyptian archaeology prehistoric and pharaonic chronology and the ancient Egyptian language geography resources and environment and seven chapters organized chronologically and devoted to specific archaeological sites and evidence Includes sections on salient topics such as the constructing the Great Pyramid at Giza and the process of mummification

New Approaches to Old Stones Yorke M. Rowan, Jennie R. Ebeling, 2016-04-08 Ground stone artefacts were widely used in food production in prehistory However the archaeological community has widely neglected the dataset of ground stone artefacts until now New Approaches to Old Stones offers a theoretical and methodological analysis of the archaeological data pertaining to ground stone tools The essays draw on a range of case studies from the Levant Egypt Crete Anatolia Mexico and North America to examine ground stone technologies From medieval Islamic stone cooking vessels and late Minoan stone vases to the use of stone in ritual and as a symbol of luxury New Approaches to Old Stones offers a radical reassessment of the impact of ground stone artefacts on technological change production and exchange

Pottery and Practice Suzanne L. Eckert, 2008-04-16 Eckert illustrates how the relationship between ethnicity migration and ritual practice combined to create a complexly patterned material culture among residents of two fourteenth century Pueblo villages

Western Pueblo Identities Andrew Ian Duff, 2002-02 Developed from his dissertation the author's study proposes a new interpretation of the Western Pueblo material remains that focuses on the interaction between communities and questions old assumptions about group boundaries The study relies on the chemical analysis of ceramics from the areas to show identity of and patterns of exchange between different communities within the region
