Pouring Liberal Wine Into Conservative Bottles Laurence S. Seidman, 2006 Liberals and conservatives will never agree on all things In his new book Laurence Seidman does not pretend otherwise Instead as the central theme of the book Seidman identifies several key issues on which policy agreement might be possible The basic strategy is to take a conservative bottle a policy consistent with conservative values and pour liberal wine sufficient funding into it Using evidence of successful government actions such as the earned income tax credit EITC which was conceived as a work bonus by conservatives and was sufficiently funded by liberals Pouring Liberal Wine Into Conservative Bottles is a critical and hopeful examination of public policy In chapters focused on issues such as health insurance Social Security tax reform and the environment among others Seidman outlines possible areas of compromise

The Darwin Economy Robert H. Frank, 2012-09-16 What Charles Darwin can teach us about building a fairer society Who was the greater economist Adam Smith or Charles Darwin The question seems absurd Darwin after all was a naturalist not an economist But Robert Frank New York Times economics columnist and best selling author of The Economic Naturalist predicts that within the next century Darwin will unseat Smith as the intellectual founder of economics The reason Frank argues is that Darwin s understanding of competition describes economic reality far more accurately than Smith s And the consequences of this fact are profound Indeed the failure to recognize that we live in Darwin s world rather than Smith s is putting us all at risk by preventing us from seeing that competition alone will not solve our problems Smith s theory of the invisible hand which says that competition channels self interest for the common good is probably the most widely cited argument today in favor of unbridled competition and against regulation taxation and even government itself But what if Smith s idea was almost an exception to the general rule of competition That s what Frank argues resting his case on Darwin s insight that individual and group interests often diverge sharply Far from creating a perfect world economic competition often leads to arms races encouraging behaviors that not only cause enormous harm to the group but also provide no lasting advantages for individuals since any gains tend to be relative and mutually offsetting The good news is that we have the ability to tame the Darwin economy The best solution is not to prohibit harmful behaviors but to tax them By doing so we could make the economic pie larger eliminate government debt and provide better public services all without requiring painful sacrifices from anyone That s a bold claim Frank concedes but it follows directly from logic and evidence that most people already accept In a new afterword Frank further explores how the themes of inequality and competition are driving today's public debate on how much government we need

Conference on Taxation ... and Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the National Tax Association National Tax Association, 2006 Proceedings ... Annual Conference on Taxation ... and Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the National Tax Association, 2006 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006 Women's Legal Strategies in Canada Radha Jhappan, 2002-01-01 Have Canadian women gained from their pursuit of legal remedies to social, political, economic, and cultural inequalities? Is law a fruitful avenue for such struggles? Using liberal, feminist, postmodern, critical race, and queer theory, these essays confront the anti-rights critiques of the legal Left regarding the use of law in general and the Charter in particular. Several chapters explicitly examine the strategic limits and possibilities of the substantive equality rights approaches pursued by LEAF, The Women's Legal Education and Action Fund. Others focus on legal strategies mobilized in discrete areas of law and public policy by foreign domestic workers and racialized women, lesbians, women seeking reproductive freedom, women in the childcare movement, and anti-violence advocates. Recognizing the diversity of women across class, citizenship, race, and ethnicity, sexual identity, culture, and disability, this collection evaluates the efficacy of the wide range of legal and political strategies women have employed, particularly in this post-Charter era. Women's Legal Strategies in Canada is the most comprehensive account of these important issues and will surely become the standard work in the field. Bibliographic Index, 2009 Business Periodicals Index, 2005 The Congregationalist, 1929 Far Eastern Economic Review, 1974-10 Common Sense, 1919 Country Guide and Nor'west Farmer, 1924 Epoché, 1981 The Ladies' Home Journal Edward William Bok, 1915 The Examiner, 1862 Telos, 1983
